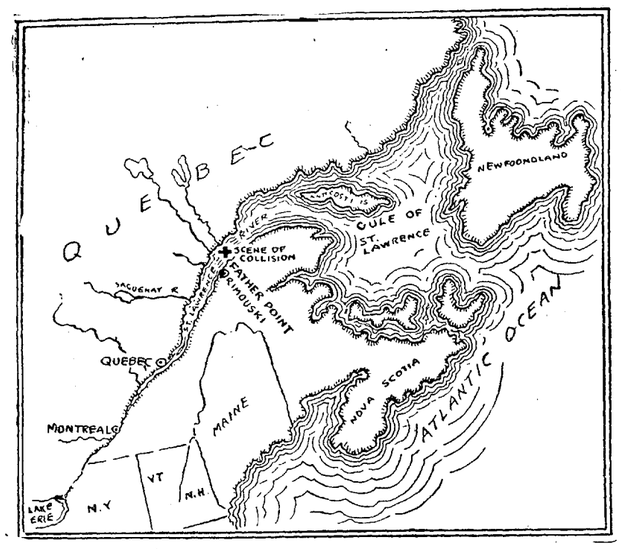
HORROR OF SHIPWRECK GROWS STEADLY WORSE

WHERE STEAMSHIP DISASTER OCCURRED IN GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE.



DEATH LIST SURELY 700; MAY REACH 1,000

SURVIVORS IN MOST PITIABLE PLIGHT

Rimouski, Que., May 29.—Probably more than a thousand lives and surely not less than 700, were lost when the great Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland sank before dawn today in the St. Lawrence river, ripped open from admidships to stern by the Danish collier Storstad.

This was the estimate made here this afternoon where the hysterical survivors, many of them pitiably maimed and almost naked, were being brought.

It was based on the fact that the Empress carried 1,437 persons all told, of whom 399 were rescued and landed here by the ships Eureka and Lady Evelyn.

The Storstad at first reported to have more than 300 survivors on board has sailed for Quebec after landing only a handful of rescued and a number of dead.

A Matier, of Indianapolis, is listed among the passengers rescued.

Of those saved, crew members and third-class passengers predominated. From partial lists available at 2 o'clock it was evident that but a mere sprinkling of the first cabin passengers were saved.

Only three names of those in the cabins appear on the preliminary lists of rescued. They were G. W. G. Henderson and C. R. Burt, addresses unstated, and Walter Fenton, of Manchester, Eng.

Sank as if She Were Lead.

The stricken vessel sank as if she were lead. An explosion, apparently originating in her engine room, hastened her end, and those persons who were able to make their way from their cabins found themselves on a perilously slanting deck. Many leaped and were drowned. Others were fortunate enough to grasp drift wood or were picked up by lifeboats.

It is apparent that the great hole torn in the ship's side admitted such a deluge of water that many must have been overcome in their beds.

Many Died After Rescue.

The rescued, fighting their way to the lifeboats from the careening deck, clinging desperately to the rails or leaping blindly overboard, broke their arms or legs or otherwise injured themselves so badly that twenty-two died after being picked up.

Groaning, and in some cases insensible, others were left here while the populace gathered with medicines and stimulants to relieve their suffering. A special train was made up this afternoon on which many were taken to Quebec and Montreal.

Came Without Warning.

The president of the Pacific railway issued a statement this afternoon saying that the Empress had sunk within fourteen minutes.

No one aboard had time to seize his belongings, much less to dress. Those found in the lifeboats were in their night clothes. The women suffered most. Only a few were saved, according to the early lists, and indications are that they lacked the strength to combat conditions which confronted them.

There was not, as was the case on the Titanic, time for calm deliberation and rigid observance of the unwritten rule of the sea, "Women first."

A party of Salvation Army members, enroute to London, was almost wiped out. Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, is among the missing, and other prominent persons in the first

FIRST OFFICIAL ACCOUNT BY CAPT. KENDALL BRIEF.

Montreal, Que., May 29.—The first official account of the disaster to the Empress of Ireland came from Capt. Kendall, who sent a wireless message early today to Captain Walsh, marine superintendent of the Canadian Pacific here as follows:

"Empress of Ireland stopped by dense fog. Struck admidships in vital spot by collier Storstad."

Captain Kendall in conveying the intelligence to Captain Walsh that the Empress had gone down said:

"Ship gone."

STORSTAD DID NOT SINK; CARRIES FEW SURVIVORS.

Father Point, May 29.—The collier Storstad, which was in collision with the Empress of Ireland, did not sink, as was reported.

Early today she was proceeding slowly toward Quebec under her own steam with her bow badly driven in. It is understood that she has on board a few survivors from the Empress of Ireland. The Empress sank in nineteen fathoms of water.

AUTO ACCIDENT SOUTH OF CITY

Defiance, Ohio People Hurt Enroute to Indianapolis Speedway.

CAR TURNED TURTLE

Special to The Sentinel.)

Roanoke, Ind., May 29.—En route to Indianapolis to attend the speedway races, an automobile occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spangler and son and E. H. Fredericks, of Defiance, Ohio, turned turtle at Kelsey's curve north of this place, early Friday morning. The passengers were pinned beneath the car and Mr. and Mrs. Spangler sustained broken wrists and numerous cuts and bruises, while Mr. Fredericks suffered several fractured ribs.

The injured autoists were brought to Roanoke and were attended by Dr. Gordon. Later they were taken to Fort Wayne and will return today to their home in Defiance. Their automobile was badly damaged and costly repairs will be necessary to the big car.

Mr. Fredericks is a member of the city council at Defiance and both men are leading citizens of that place. After reaching Fort Wayne this afternoon the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sprankle was taken to the office of Dr. L. Park Drayer and it was found that two of his ribs had been fractured.

ONCE MORE HEARS DEATH SENTENCE

APPEAL ACTS AS STAY

New York, May 29.—Charles Becker was today sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week beginning July 6 for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

When he received the sentence Becker appeared calm. The prisoner was taken to the sheriff's office and allowed five minutes with his wife. Prior to the sentencing Martin P. Manton cited ten reasons why death sentence should not be pronounced.

He said that an appeal would be filed next Monday. This will act as a stay of execution and a year may elapse before the court of appeals hands down its decision. Becker was taken to Sing Sing by automobile in the custody of six deputy sheriffs.

RALPH DE PALMA OUT OF RUNNING

Noted Driver Balked in Race Tomorrow By Engine Trouble.

OTHERS READY TO GO

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Ralph De Palma, driver of a German car, will not start in the 500 mile automobile race here tomorrow. He announced today that he could not get his engine in good working condition and, after an examination of the machine by the technical committee of the American automobile association it was decided that it would be dangerous to start the car.

De Palma had a hard time getting his car to make the speed necessary to qualify in the elmimination trials and had to make three attempts before he came in among the "thirty fastest." De Palma said he would sail at once for Europe.

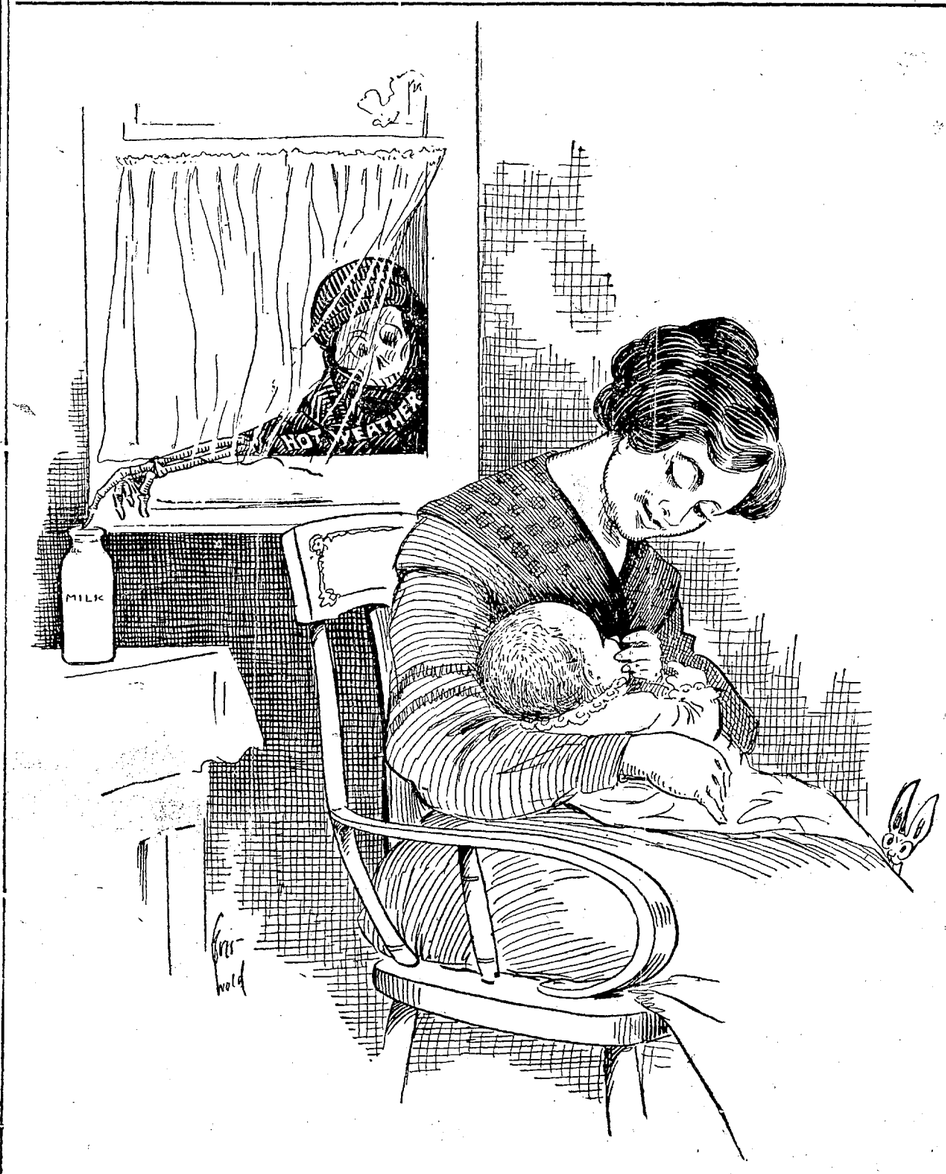
Take Care, Mother!



The deadly combination of hot weather and milk for the baby has brought into existence the free milk depot to be opened Monday morning at the First Presbyterian church where mothers may receive the advice of some of Fort Wayne's best physicians, in addition to being supplied with the proper kind of food for each individual case. Infant mortality in the summer time may be lessened greatly by the proper food and care. Mothers are urged to learn how to save the lives of their children.

Second District Democratic Leader Enters Plea in Federal Court.

OTHERS ACCUSED ADMITTED GUILT

Spear and Hendrix Cases Among Number Before Judge Anderson.

Indianapolis, May 29.—Fabius Gwinn, of Shoals, Ind., democratic leader in the Second district pleaded not guilty when arraigned in federal court here today on an indictment charging that he took part in a conspiracy to defraud the government in civil service examinations held at New Albany, Ind.

Ten other prominent citizens of the Second district, indicted with Gwinn, entered pleas of guilty to the charges against them. Their cases were to be disposed of later.

Those who pleaded guilty are John C. Carothers, W. D. Sherfeck, J. W. Jackman, Otto Carothers, Brettie Gwinn, Ambrose Strange, Claud Armstrong, Samuel Renneker, all of Shoals, and Harvey E. Guthrie councilman at Mitchell, Ind. Today was arraignment day for those indicted by the federal grand jury a few days ago.

Spear and Hendrix.

Herman Spear, of Fort Wayne, pleaded guilty to violation of the postal laws and was given a suspended sentence. Kenneth Hendrix also of Fort Wayne, pleaded guilty to passing counterfeit coins.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM FIGHT

Battle Between Wets and Drys for Ninth Ward Ends Today.

REMONSTRANCE TO BE FILED TONIGHT

Wets File Withdrawals and Work to Keep Others Off Protest.

Both the wets and the drys are claiming the victory in the heated struggle for possession of the Ninth ward in which the fate of eleven saloons is bound up.

A total of 493 withdrawals from the remonstrance have been filed with the county auditor. Conceding that all of these names are valid and that all of them are actual withdrawals, the dry remonstrance would require 1,268 valid names in order to be effective.

The commissioners will keep their office open until 5 o'clock this evening to receive the remonstrance. It not filed by that time it will not be in hand soon enough to avail the anti-saloon forces, according to the law, it is said.

The fight started by Charles Schoenfeldt when he set forth to prevent John Gutermuth from establishing a saloon almost under the eaves of the Shoenfeldt home at 1601 St. Mary's avenue, has assumed proportions that cover the ward and involves the entire populace in one attitude or the other. While it is now certain that Gutermuth will be granted no license in any event, the fate of the

GEN. CARRANZA NOW WANTS IN

Hurries Messenger to Mediators Seeking to Pave Way for Delegate.

DE GAMA SENDS WORD HE'S "BUSY"

MEDIATORS DECIDE TO TURN CARRANZA DOWN.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.—The mediators have practically decided not to receive the communication from Gen. Carranza brought here today by Juan Urquidi, the constitutionalist agent.

Ambassador Da Gama called on the American delegates to inform them of the decision and word was also communicated to the Huerta delegates.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.—Juan F. Urquidi, private secretary to Rafael Zeubaran, the constitutionalist agent at Washington, arrived here today bearing a communication from Gen. Carranza to the mediators, saying he is willing to send a representative to the mediation conference to discuss international differences between the United States and Mexico.

Mr. Urquidi said he came merely as a messenger to deliver a communication and not to discuss.

But Da Gama Was "Busy."

When he arrived at he Hotel Clifton he sen his card to Ambassador Da Gama, who sent down word that he was "busy," but did not say whether he would receive him later in the day.

Although Mr. Urquidi declined to make public the contents of the communication it is understood that Gen. Carranza reiterates his original declaration

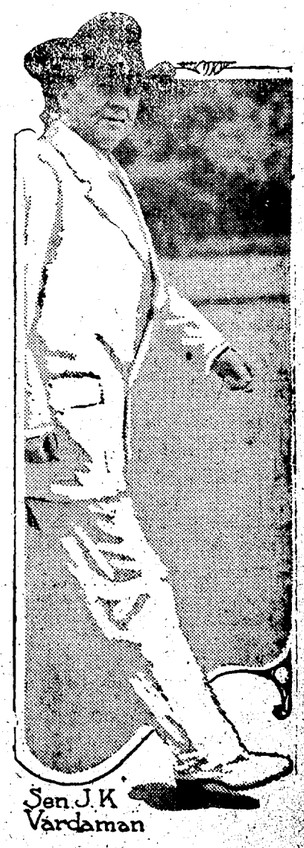
Vardaman Sets Style in Washington, But Won't Rush Season



Washington, May 29.—The United States senate has received official notice that summer has arrived. Senator James K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, has donned his white flannels. Though he always sets the summer styles for his colleagues, the Mississippi statesman does not believe in rushing the season, and his Bryanesque felt hat and his flowing black mane still are retained in defiance of hot weather.

WIRELESS OPERATOR DESCRIBES DISASTER.

Rimouski, May 29.—The Marconi company's operator here gives the following account of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland and the collier Storstad:

"The Empress of Ireland was rammed this morning at 1:45 by the Storstad, twenty miles out from Father Point. The Empress sank within ten minutes. The S. O. S. signal sent out was received at Father Point and the government steamers Eureka and Lady Evelyn were dispatched to the distressed vessel's assistance. The Empress of Ireland listed and was unable to get many of the boats out.

"Captain Kendall was saved, being picked up on some wreckage by a life boat thirty minutes after his ship had foundered. Both wireless operators, assistant pursers, chief engineers and chief steward were saved. Chief officer and purser are among the missing."

Danfort, the Marconi operator of the Eureka, reports the following incomplete list of survivors at Rimouski:

R. H. Perkinson, bedroom steward; W. Rowan, steward; Alex Radley, Cooms, pantrymen; A. Reginland Moreland, White, Gray, James Williams, assistant stewards; E. Foster, A. Elliott, bakers; A. Ferguson, S. R. Simon, Nostal, Doeliz, Speddon, Novek; A. W. Gaade, chief engineer; S. Sampson; Swan, tenth engineer; L. Bradwick, sailor; S. Murphy, T. Borah, quartermaster; Duckworth, electrician; J. Salee, Sapete, Donovan, A. Williams, H. Clarkson, T. H. Hanon, Charles Clarke, K. Laski, Savein, King; Scott Haas, assistant purser.

Only one woman, Mrs. Simon, is among those picked up by the Eureka. The greater number are members of the crew and third-class passengers.

DEATH LIST SURELY 700; MAY REACH 1,000

Lifeboats Jammed Full.

When the rescue ships Eureka and Lady Evelyn reached the scene shortly before daybreak they found nine life boats from the Empress all jammed full and many of the occupants wounded. It was still dark. Wreckage covered the river everywhere. The Storstad, her bow badly crumpled, was still on the scene picking up the living wherever she could. In one of the life boats crouched Captain Kendall, commander of the Empress, dazed and greatly shaken. He had leaped from the deck and had been picked up by members of his crew.

Those in the first and second cabins known to have been saved up to 3 o'clock this afternoon are: G. W. S. Henderson, C. R. Burt, Walter Fenton, Miss Alice Lee, Nassau Bahamas, Miss E. Court, Liverpool, England, Walter Erginger, (this may be J. B. Erzinger, of Winnipeg), B. Weinruch, Montreal.

Off Father Point.

The crash occurred about 2 o'clock this morning off Father Point, Quebec, a village brought into prominence when Dr. Crippen, the London murderer, was caught. The collier, bound for Quebec, struck the Empress of Ireland on the port side about the middle of the ship.

She literally tore her way back almost to the screws, leaving a rent through which the water poured in such a deluge that she sank before many of the passengers were aware what had happened.

Wireless Calls for Help.

Brief wireless calls for help sent out by the Marconi operator were heard by the pilot boat Eureka ten miles from the scene and the Eureka, followed by the Lady Evelyn, put on forced steam and made all speed for the spot.

It was these two boats that found afloat the few lifeboats that were launched from the stricken ship and picked up the survivors they contained. Three hundred and thirty-three were saved by the Lady Evelyn and sixty by the Eureka. Among those saved was Capt. H. G. Kendall, of the Empress.

First-Class Passengers Perish.

Most of the first-class passengers apparently perished. Among those in the first cabin were Sir Henry Seton Karr, a noted English lawyer and big game hunter, and Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, and his wife, Mabel Hackney.

Of a party of 140 Salvation Army members aboard only twenty were rescued. They were bound for the army's international conference in London.

So quickly did the Empress sink that the passengers fortunate enough to get to the lifeboats found themselves garbed only in their night clothes. No baggage was saved.

Condition Was Pitiable.

The condition of the survivors was pitiable. Some had broken arms and legs, and all had suffered terribly. E. Gossetin, a prominent lawyer from Montreal, saved himself by clinging to a raft.

When the rescue ships docked here the station platform was converted into a hospital and the townspeople, bringing food and clothing, united in a common effort to aid the survivors.

Twelve bodies with faces covered lay side by side on the wharf. They were passengers who had made the lifeboats but who were fatally hurt.

Wreckage strews the St. Lawrence for a long distance near the spot where the Empress sank. The sun shone brightly during the forenoon. Though the water is still icy, the temperature today was not low enough to increase the suffering of the survivors. The vast majority of the saved were members of the ship's crew. Early estimates indicated that not more than sixty passengers were saved.

Captain Is Overcome.

Besides Captain Kendall, the first and second engineers and the ship's surgeon were rescued. The captain was too overcome to give at first any extended account of the disaster. He had sent a wireless to his line after the vessel was struck, saying:

The Empress of Ireland was valued at $2,000,000 and with her cargo, valued at $250,000, was fully insured.

At low tide today the top of her funnels could be seen. She is lying in the channel. It is thought by navigators that it may be possible to raise her. At present the wreck is a menace to navigation.

Residents Aid Survivors.

The residents of Rimouski, numbering 3,000, came silently to the dock where the dead and living were being landed, and under the direction of the mayor, H. R. Fiset, gave aid wherever possible. Every doctor in the town was on the scene and many of the injured were taken to private homes.

From chests and closets the town folks brought garments of all descriptions for those who had lost their belongings. Two headquarters were established—at the wharf and at the station of the Inter-Colonial railway. At the station those injured and not removed to homes were cared for.

Scene Like Titanic's Doom.

The rescue boats, Eureka and Lady Evelyn, found on reaching the point where the Empress sank a scene not unsimilar to that which greeted the liners which rushed to the Titanic's aid. They found the ship sunk and the surface of the water, fortunately calm, dotted with lifeboats and smeared with floating debris.

In the lifeboats were huddled the survivors, dazed and moaning, some of them dying of injuries sustained in the crash or in the rush of leaving the sinking Empress. Few could give anything but incoherent, almost hysterical accounts of what had happened.

J. L. Black and Mrs. Black, of Ottawa, said they jumped together into the river. They had been aroused by the shock of the collision and unable to get into a lifeboat, had risked the leap. They were picked up by a boat from the Lady Evelyn.

Forced Many to Jump.

The water that poured into the ship's engine room caused an explosion and this forced many to jump. Ernest Hayes, an assistant purser told of leaping from the upper promenade deck. He climbed into number 3 life boat. The boat maneuvered about the wreck for a time and found Captain Kendall clinging to a piece of wreckage. He had jumped just before the Empress went down.

W. Davis, of Montreal, one of the few survivors able to talk coherently after his landing, said he and his wife had not been awakened by the impact of the collision and knew nothing of the accident until water began to rush into their state room. He helped his wife to the boat deck, but the big ship had already listed and it was impossible to launch a boat. Together they crawled on their hands and knees up the sloping deck of the liner. The vessel was rapidly sinking.

Wife Swept From Grasp.

His wife was swept from his grasp. Both were carried by the suction into the river. They clung to a piece of wood and were rescued. The wife was unconscious. J. W. Longley, a ranchman, of Canford, B. C., calmly sat on the deck rail and went down with the ship. He held his breath, came up, grabbed the side of a life boat, held to it and was rescued by the Eureka.

William Measures, a Salvation Army bandsman, crept along the rail of the promenade deck and stepped into the water. He swam to a life boat and was rescued.

Sight Was Pitiful.

When the train came from the wharf bearing survivors it was a pitiful sight to see them alight. Most of them wore very little clothing. Many had to be carried bodily. A woman had a broken leg and shoulder and a man had two legs broken. They were carried to the hospital station.

H. R. O'Hara and his little girl, Helen, were saved, but up to present no news of Mrs. O'Hara has been received. She probably drowned.

A young Englishman said that when the ship was struck by the collier the shock was terrific. He was asleep in his cabin. He jumped from bed, put on a dressing gown and went directly to wake up two of his friends, telling them he thought the ship was sinking. He then went on deck and came back a second time to see if his friends had left their cabin, but in his excitement he went on the wrong deck. The ship was then sinking so fast that he could hardly stand. He took hold of a rope on the side of the ship and swung into a lifeboat. He said he had not seen his friends and he fears that they were drowned.

Women and Children Die.

Very few women and children were saved. They were asleep in their cabins when the ship sank and the accident occurred so quickly that they could not be rescued. One woman who was garbed only in a veil, jumped overboard and swam to the Lady Evelyn. She was so exhausted, however, that she died a few minutes after she was taken from the water. Her identity has not been established.

Both the first and second Marconi operators of the Empress were saved.

Called for Assistance.

Edward Bomford, the second operator, was coming on duty when the boat began to sink. He caught the Father Point Marconi station and called for assistance. Bomford was saved by falling into a life boat. The other operator, Ronald Furguessen, had to swim for the boat. Both operators came back to Rimouski port on board the pilot boat Eureka. Passengers were loud in their praise of the captain and the pilot of the Lady Evelyn, and Captin Belanger, of the Eureka and their crews. All of them displayed the greatest bravery it was declared. A Mr. McWilliams, of Father Point, also was active in aiding the rescuers.

The Lady Evelyn, which returned to the scene of the disaster, reported by wireless that she had picked up seventeen bodies at 3 o'clock.

Arrangements have been made by the Canadian Pacific railway with the Allan line to send the survivors to Liverpool on the Alsatian, which arrived at Quebec today.

The Empress of Ireland carried a crew of 650 officers and men making, with the passengers, a total of 1,436 on board.

He Detected Crippen.

Captain Kendall won renown as the man who first detected Crippen, the murderer on the steamer Montfort.

The collier Storstad has 350 survivors from the Empress of Ireland aboard, according to an announcement made by the government signal service. With approximately 400 landed at Rimouski, this accounts for 760 souls aboard the Empress, leaving 677 unaccounted for at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Empress of Ireland was a twin screw vessel of 14,191 tons. She was built in Glasgow in 1906 by the Fairfield Company, Ltd., and was owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway company. She carried a full wireless equipment.

The Storstad registered 6,028 tons. She was built by the Armstrong, Whitworth company, Newcastle, in 1911 and her owner is the Dampsk Aktieselk Marimtime, of Christiana, Norway. She is a single screw vessel and is loaded with coal. She carries a crew of fifty men.

The disaster recalls the accident to the sister ship of the ill-fated vessel, the Empress of Britain, which two years ago rammed and sank the collier Helvetia in almost the same spot that the collision took place this morning.

The Empress of Ireland, in command of Lieutenat Kendall,, Royal navy reserve, sailed from Quebec at 4:20 yesterday afternoon for Liverpool. There were 77 first, 206 second and 504 third class passengers, which with the crew, made over 1,200 souls on board.

Among the names on her passenger list is Sir Henry Seton-Kerr, a barrister, whose travels and big game shooting have taken him into many corners of the world. Other passengers who left Montreal yesterday to join the Empress Ireland at Quebec were Laurence Iriving, the actor, son of the Sir Henry Irving, his wife, Miss Mabel Hackney, and two other members of Mr. Irving's company, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neville. Mrs. Irving's maid, Hilda Hagesston, was also in the party. A large number of members of the Salvation Army, bound for their international conference in London, were also aboard.

First News of Disaster.

First news of the disaster reached Quebec shortly befbre 3 o'clock this morning. It came from the Marconi station at Father Point to the marine department agent here and announced that the Empress of Ireland had collided with an unknown ship 30 miles east of Father Point and was sinking. The Marconi station had heard the "S O S" signals of distress and reported that the Canadian government steamer Eureka and the mail tender Evelyn, which were at Father Point had been dispatched to the rescue. The wireless people reported that they had been in communication with the Empress of Ireland but a short time when the messages suddenly ceased. This lead to fears that the steamer had sunk and they afterwards proved true.

Nearly an hour after the messages were sent Father Point reported it was the Hanover, of the North German Lloyd line which had been in collision with the Empress of Ireland and that probably both steamers had been lost. This added gravely to the disaster as the Hanover was known to have over 1,300 immigrants aboard bound from Rotterdam for this port.

Proved to Be Error.

The report about the Hanover, however, fortunately proved to be an error and Father Point announced they learned that it was the collier Storstad that collided with the Empress of Ireland and that both vessels had gone down soon after the collision.

At 6 o'clock today reports that survivors were being landed at Rimouski were received here.

It was stated that the Eureka and the Lady Evelyn had landed 350 passengers, but that more than 800 were still missing and were probably drowned.

SALVATION ARMY DELEGATES.

En Route to World's Conference Were Booked on Empress.

Winnipeg, Man., May 29.—The Salvation Army delegates to the London world's convention, who were booked on the Empress of Ireland follow: Commissioner and Mrs. Rees, Toronto; Field Secretary Col. Gaskin and wife; Field Secretary Col. Maidment and wife; Adjutant Becksted, of Grace hospital, Winnipeg; Brigadier Scott Potter, financial secretary, Toronto; Brigadier Walker, editor of the Canadian War Cry, Toronto; Major and Mrs. David Creighton, of the immigration department; Major and Mrs. Findlay, Winnipeg; Major and Mrs. Howell, manager printing department, Toronto; Major Turlin, manager trade department, Toronto; Major Frank Morris, commander of the London department, London division; Staff Captain Arthur Morris, Toronto; Staff Captain McAmmond, Winnipeg; Staff Captain Hayes, commanding officer of Temple corps, Toronto; Staff Captain Goodwin, commanding officer, Ottawa; Adjutant Brice, Matron Hamilton Rescue home, Hamilton; Adjutant Edwards, men's social department, Ottawa; Ensign Jones, Calgary; Ensign Peacock, Calgary; Ensign Knudsen, Captain Ruth Rees, daughter of Commissioner and Mrs. Rees; staff band, composed of officers from headquarters at Toronto, consisting of twenty-eight members, including Captain McGrath. The bandmaster is Adjutant Samaing.

IS NOT SUBSTANTIATED.

Early Reports From Rimouski Gave Hopeful Outlook.

Montreal, May 29.—The story published this morning by La Patrie indicating that all the passengers of the Empress of Ireland which went down in a collision with the Storetad early today had been saved has not been substantiated. The estimates of total loss of life range from 678 to over 1,100. Among the 350 persons reported rescued are 12 women.

Twenty-two of the rescued died from their injuries after reaching shore.

The message was received by La Pattrie, a French newspaper from a Rimouski correspondent. He said that 400 survivors had been landed and that the Lady Evelyn and Eureka were going back to pick up the remainder of the passengers who were in boats. The foregoing information does not agree with previous dispatches in the matter of loss of life. From the wording of the Canadian Pacific message it could not be determined whether "all the passengers" meant all those on board the Empress of Ireland or simply all those who were able to make the life boats.

Message to Canadian Pacific.

The message to the Canadian Pacific offices said: "All the passengers have been picked up by the boats of the Lady Evelyn and the Eureka."

The text of the message received by La Patrie from Rimouski reads: "Lady Evelyn and Eureka docked at Rimouski with 400 passengers. Captains both reported that all the passengers were saved in the life boats of the Lady Evelyn, Eureka and Empress of Ireland. As soon as passengers are disembarked, both steamers will leave for the scene of the wreck to pick up other passengers."

PUTS DEATH LIST AT 1,030.

Montreal Survivor Gives Estimate of Loss in Collision.

Montreal, May 29.—G. W. S. Henderson, of Montreal, who is among the Empress of Ireland's survivors, telegraphed his firm this afternoon giving the number of dead at 1,030.

KILLS HIS SWEETHEART.

Frank Geis, of Indianapolis, Then Turns Pistol on Himself.

Indianapolis, May 29.—Frank Geis, 39, today shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Inex Abrams, 22, and then shot himself, probably fatally. A combination of jealousy and despondency is said to be the cause of the tragedy. Geis called on the girl last night, and after returning to his room went back to the girl's home and spent the night with her brother. He arose before the family did, went to his sweetheart's room and killed her as she lay asleep. He then shot himself and was found lying on the floor when the family, aroused by the shots rushed to the room. He was sent to the city hospital, where it was said he probably would die.

RALSTON AT MICHIGAN CITY.

Governor to Deliver Memorial Day Address at South Bend, Ind.

Michigan City, Ind., May 29.—Governor and Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston were the guests of E. J. Fogarty, warden of the state prison, today. They are on their way to South Bend, where the governor will deliver a Memorial day address. The visit of Governor Ralston was the first since he became governor. He inspected the prison today and attended the regular meeting of the board of trustees.

GONSHOR HELD UNDER BOND.

At noon Friday Judge Kerr in the city court rendered his decision in the case against Alex Gonshor, charged with malicious mayhem in having bitten off the ear of Mike Martynink. Hhe bound Gonshor over to the circuit court under $500 bond.

NEW PAVING UP TO THE COUNCIL

Must Make Appropriations if Any Contracts for New Streets Are Let.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

If any contracts for paving Fort Wayne streets are let the city council will have to appropriate more money to the new street intersection fund. While the board of works Thursday night approved specifications and adopted resolutions for paving of twenty-one streets, that does not mean that these streets or any of them will necessarily be improved this year. The board of works has let contracts already that exhaust the intersection fund and it will not enter into any more contracts until the money to pay the city's share is in hand. It is not improbale that improvement of some of the streets included in the Thursday night batch acted upon will be defeated by remonstrance, but not any of them will go through unless the council provides the money. When the present board of works went in it found a deficit in the intersection fund of nearly $10,000. The council then appropriated $20,000 to the intersection fund and out of this the deficit was made up and new contracts were let that took the balance. Now if any more contracts are made there will have to be additional appropriations. Some weeks ago Comptroller W. C. Baade flatly refused to recommend another paving appropriation. Recent conferences with the board have not changed his position. The comptroller does not believe the general fund should be too heavily drained by paving appropriations. The way may be clearer later on. A bond issue has been suggested and it is believed the city council would not be averse to authorizing such a means of raising money if no other way can be found to open the way to street improvements. The board will go as far as possible with the improvements contemplated in Thursday night's resolutions, but will stop short of actually entering into contracts until it has the money.

OVER SCORE OF STREETS.

Board of Works Adopts Resolutions for Big Paving Program.

Specifications for a big bunch of streets for the paving of which resident property owners had filed petitions were handed down to the board of works by the engineering department Thursday night and the plans were approved and resolutions adopted for twenty-one. These streets are in the program: Caroline, Suttenfield to Pontiac; Wayne trace, Anthony to New Haven avenue and New Haven, Wayne trace to Birchwood avenue; Webster, Butler to DeWald; Downing avenue, Hoagland to Fairfield; Hayden, Hanna to Anthony; Eliza, Francis to Gay; Maumee avenue, Sidney to city limits; Grant avenue, Wayne to Maumee; Wayne, Grant avenue intersection; Oneida, Lake to Rivermet; Superior, Soy Run to Lafayette; Hendricks, Fairfield to Martin; Illinois, Watkins to Greenwood; Martin, Hendricks to Broadway; Watkins, Main to Illinois; St. Mary's avenue, Burgess to Archer; High, St. Mary's to Runnion; Putnam, Wells to Jessie; Fifth, Cass to Wells and Sixth, Harrison to Cass.

The board made another postponement in the matter of awarding a contract for the construction of the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. It will be awarded next Monday at the regular session unless the reason for postponement continues.

The board approved a plat for the City Suburban Realty company's second addition near the terminus of Oliver street and for Lambert's sub-division, between Broadway and Thompson avenue on either side of Home avenue.

Remonstrances were filed against the paving of the alley between Main and Berry street, Clay to Lafayette; opening Koch street, Putnam to Huffman, and the improvement of Warsaw street, Pontiac to Laselle.

Resolutions were confirmed for the opening of Cour street, Hoagland to Fairfield, and for vacating the alley in Vesey's addition, from Home avenue to the alley north.

Seven materials are specified in the new plans for street paving. Reinforced concrete, much used in country highway construction in several parts of the county, notably Wayne county, Michigan, an asphaltic concrete are added to the list of materials, which previously included sheet asphalt, asphalt block, creosoted wood block, shale block, fire clay block and anchored bituminous concrete, the last named a material that has won high favor in Fort Wayne.

PROBLEM ON LASSELLE STREET.

City's Widest Thoroughfare Will Have to Be Re-Formed.

The board of works has made an inspection of Lasselle street from Lafayette to Hanna, to get a line on what to do for the best interest of the city and property owners in ordering plans for new sidewalks. The street is the widest thoroughfare in Fort Wayne and carries little traffic. It is believed a thirty-foot paved roadway will be of sufficient width. On the south side there is a parkway between the sidewalk and the property line, but on the north side the sidewalk is up to the property line. The board will undertake to move the sidewalk out, create a parkway and give the street a fine appearance and at the same time save the property owners the expense of a very wide pavement that conditions do not require.

WILL ORDER WORK RESUMED.

Huestis Avenue Pavement to Be Put Forward Monday.

The board of works will order the Moellering Construction company to resume its paving operations on Huestis avenue next Monday. The work had been started and then stopped because of opposition by a property owner who takes the position that the street lines upon which the pavement is being put down are incorrect and he has demanded a survey by the county engineer. The board of works has held that the city has no authority to employ the county engineer to do this, holding that the lines of the street as they have been established and respected for many years, are the correct lines. The objector wants the curb line moved two feet farther from the property line on his side. It has been urged upon the board that the street could be made twenty feet between curbs instead of twenty-two, for which latter width the paving contract was let. But the board refuses to do this, believing it would destroy the contract and invalidate assessments. The Moellering company is tired of the delay and hints that it will look to the city for damages if not allowed to proceed with the work. Therefore the order will be given to resume work Monday. The property owners on Huestis avenue had a prolonged wrangle last year concerning the width to which the street should be paved before the old board of works settled the matter.

CITY HALL CLOSED SATURDAY.

In honor of Decoration day the city hall will be closed Saturday. The mayor and the several boards and the city council will participate in the annual parade to Lindenwood cemetery. The police department will be open without change from usual custom, and the health department will have somebody about during a portion of the day, but there will be a general suspension of all public business in the city building so far as circumstances permit.

VISIT ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

The board of works Friday visited the isolation hospital owned by the city, and situated on the county farm. Some repairs to the roof and other parts of the building are needed. The hospital is not much used, but it is maintained in first-class condition at all times.

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK AT DREDGE.

The board of works and Mayor Hosey are making another inspection of the Wayne township dredge, which it has been proposed to use to deepen the pool in Spy Run at the city light and power works above Lawton park. It is much doubted if the dredge can be successfully operated there.

Frederick Bueche, a Retired Miller, Dies After Long Illness.

THE OTHER DEATHS

Frederick Bueche, aged seventy-nine years, an employe of the City Flouring mills for more than a half century, died at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at his home, 1217 Clark street. It is said that Mr. Bueche was the oldest resident of Bloomingdale in point of years. He had been in poor health for some time and his death was due to a complication of diseases.

He was born in Eschere Canton de Berne, Switzerland, and came to this country in 1853, locating immediately in Fort Wayne. He came to this city by way of the great lakes and the old canal, and he was one of the men who worked through Fort Wayne on the construction of the Wabash railway.

Mr. Bueche took employment at the City mills fifty-three years ago for the firm of Williams & Hoagland. He had been employed at the place ever since and retired ten years ago. Mr. Bueche was a member of the Salem Reformed church and when in good health was an active member of the congregation. He was a man of thrifty nature and during his residence in Fort Wayne, through real estate investments, he became quite wealthy.

Surviving he leaves one sister, Mrs. Conrad Mill, one niece, Mrs. Henry Pepe, and five grand nieces.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 o'clock from the Salem Reformed church. Interment at Lindenwood.

PRITSCH.

Mrs. John Pritsch, aged forty-four years, a resident of Bourbon, died at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital, where she had been a patient since Monday. Surviving she leaves the mother, husband, one daughter and a brother and sister. The remains were shipped to Bourbon Friday morning and interment is to be made at the Wanatah cemetery.

QUEER TANGLE OVER ESTATE.

Is Administered by Court, After which Will is Found.

Warsaw, Ind., May 29.—A curious legal tangle has developed in the Kosciusko circuit court ov r the estate of the late Lydia E. Strieby, who died last October near Syracuse. Following her death an administrator was appointed and the estate was settled up by him, the heirs receiving their distributive shares. The decedent's son, Charles Strieby, was given half of the estate and the balance was divided equally among her five grandchildren. All the personal property was disposed of and the report of the sale of the real estate had been made by the administrator to the court, approved and the administrator discharged of his trust. Wednesday afternoon Edwin Higbee, of the banking firm of Miles & Higbee, in Milford, filed in the circuit court here a will by Lydia E. Strieby. The document was executed August 25, 1911, and placed with the Milford bankers for safekeeping. Mr. Higbee had just learned of the death of Mrs. Strieby and promptly produced her last will and testament. The legal tangle arises out of the fact that the estate has been settled in a manner quite different from that made by the court and administrator. Mrs. Strieby willed that her son, Charles, should have a life interest in all the real estate, and then the property should be divided, share and share alike, among her five grandchildren—Harry, Blanche, Madge, Cleo and Orlando Strieby. Judge F. E. Bowser is trying to unravel the situation.

SNAKE STORY DISCOUNTED.

Pierceton, Ind., May 29.—Later accounts divest of some of its horrors the snake story that came from the home of Frank Prescott, a farmer residing in Whitley county just over the Kosciusko county line. The first narrative had it that Prescott's little daughter was found in the woods "charmed" to a state of physical helplessness by the baleful glare of a gigantic blue racer, whose forked tongue "flashed like lightning." The snake was frightened by the sudden approach of Mr. Prescott and retreated into a hollow tree from which it was driven by fire, its head being cut off as it emerged. Mrs. Prescott, who has just been in Pierceton says the child saw the snake and ran screaming from the place. A search revealed the serpent and it was in due form killed. Veracity reduces the reptile's length somewhat from the reported ten feet.

PIERCETON'S HOMECOMING.

Pierceton, Ind., May 29.—An organization has been effected and preparations are under way for the celebration of a home-coming week in Pierceton. The exact time has not been determined, but it will probably be some time during the month of September. Negotiations for carnival attractions are under way. The organization elected P. A. Ashley president, E. E. Orr secretary and M. F. Bresnahan treasurer. President Ashley has made the following appointments of committee chairmen: Arrangements, Guy Kilpatrick; program and advertising, J. L. Radcliff; finance, S. S. Shirley. The chairman of each committee was authorized to select his helpers.

MUST MAKE RAILROAD SAFE.

Portland, Ind., May 29.—The repair of twenty-three bridges on the Cincinnati, Bluffton & Chicago railroad and probably the complete remodeling of most of the trackage are events in the immediate future of that railway as a result of the inspection of the line by officials of the state utilities commission. Two daily passenger cars on the road have been annulled by the management as a measure of additional safety. Freight trains are now operated only every other day. The probing of the wreck of the bridge at Bluffton, when Engineer Handwork was killed, is progressing.

NO GUESTS IN DINING ROOM.

Woodburn, Ind., May 29.—The management of the Blue Cast springs sanitarium, two miles from here on the Maumee river, has made the announcement that no longer will it serve Sunday dinners in the hotel dining room. The guests of the sanitarium, who sojourn at the sanitarium to obtain among other things rest and quiet, object to the annoyance of transient guests. The hotel has become a favorite stopping place for automobile parties for Sunday dinners. The sanitarium will serve refreshments on the grounds, but not in the dining room to pleasure seekers.

YOUNG TRAMP KILLED BY TRAIN.

Wabash, Ind., May 29.—One of the most tragic accidents that has happened in this community for some months occurred about three miles west of this city, on the Wabash railroad culvert, a short distance west of the Wolf stock farm, when a young man whose identity is unknown was killed while "bumming" his way on a local freight train. Section Foreman Jacob Kindlesparker and his workmen were following up the eastbound freight train on a hand car when they came upon the mutilated body of the boy lying upon the bridge, one leg, which had been severed just above the hip joint, lying on the inside of the rails, and the body lying just outside of the rail.

CAME HOME A BRIDE.

Bluffton, Ind., May 29.—Friends and relatives of Miss Nellie VanDine were greatly surprised when she arrived home and announced her marriage to Joseph Thomas. Mrs. Thomas left last Friday morning for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Everett Tuttrow, of Summitville. On Monday the young couple went to St. Joseph, Mich., and were secretly married. Mrs. Thomas is 18 years of age and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John VanDine. Mr. Thomas is 22 years of age and runs a bakery at Montpelier. The young couple have gone to Montpelier, where their home was furnished for them.

SAYS HE WILL NEVER RETURN.

Bluffton, Ind., May 29.—A report became circulated this week that Bert Chipman, the young farmer who so strangely disappeared in this city one Saturday night early in the spring, had returned home, but inquiry reveals the fact that Mr. Chipman has stated again that the opposite is his intention. Letters received from him some time ago indicated that he was thinking seriously of returning to Wells county and he was expected most any day, but later he wrote that he had determined never to return. These latest letters came from Iowa.

ELEVEN LIVES SNUFFED OUT.

Hartford City, Ind., May 29.—Eleven lives were destroyed in a fire at the home of Jules Boulett here. The holocaust caused no excitement for the victims of the fire were canary birds. Mr. Boulett raises the songsters for the market. They were confined in cages that hung in the kitchen, where the fire started and they were smothered by smoke and the heat before they could be removed. No great damage to the premises was done by the fire, which was quickly extinguished.

LOSE ASSESSMENT SUIT.

Portland, Ind., May 29.—Judge Moran has given his decision in the injunction suit brought against John. B. Ropp, treasurer of Jay county, by Edwina, Howard and Adelma Horn, of Muncie, seeking to evade the payment of an assessment of something like $1,100 made against lands owned by them in Penn township, this county, for the Salamonia River dredge. They contended that they had not received notice of the intended assessment, but admitted that their mother had been notified.

KENDALLVILLE BOY HONORED.

Kendallville, Ind., May 29.—Another Kendallville boy to win university honors is Harry Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Miller, of 604 Mott street, who is just completing his junior year of the civil engineering course at Purdue university. A letter just received from a classmate says that Mr. Miller has been unanimously elected manager of the Purdue Glee club for the year 1914-15.

HAS RECORD CLASS.

Van Wert, O., May 29.—The class of 1914 of the Van Wert high school has 65 members, the largest in the history of the school. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by E. A. Lilly, of the U. B. church, Sunday evening; the class play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," will be given at the Auditorium theater Wednesday evening, June 3, and the commencement exercises, with class address by President H. C. King, of Oberlin, will be held Friday evening, June 5.

WARSAW HAS ROBBER GANG.

Warsaw, Ind., May 29.—The robbery of the dental office of Dr. John R. White, from which $75 worth of gold fillings were taken and attempts to break into two or three other dental offices leads the police to believe there is an organized gang at work here. There is no clue to the identity of the thieves.

LEAVES FOR WORK IN EGYPT.

Markle, Ind., May 29.—Charley Kline, son of W. D. Kline, of near Browns Corners, left today for New York, from which port he will sail for Alexandria, Egypt, where he will superintend the operation of a large dredge. He is well known throughout this part of the country as a capable man in such work. He will be paid a large salary in Egypt.

BEAUTY OF PICTURE WORLD DOESN'T MIND "DRESSING UP UGLY."

Pretty Marguerite is noted for her fascinating eyes and her striking brunette beauty.

But the jolly thing about this girl is that, though she has been called a picture beauty, she does not decline to "dress up" in any manner and hide her beauty if the occasion or part demands it.

She is one of the Ne Moyer sisters, who won a good deal of success on the Australian stage a couple of years ago. Since then she has been with the Lubin players.

Whitley County News.

Miss Anna Souder, of Auburn, left Wednesday for Logansport to visit, after spending a few days in the city with her sister, Mrs. L. M. Meiser.

Piny Ruse, of Chicago, spent Tuesday in the city with his friend, Fred Mygrant.

The two year old son of Grover Smith, of Columbia township, suffered a badly mashed finger Tuesday as a result of getting that member caught in a clothes wringer.

Thad Clark, of Huntington, spent Tuesday in the city, transacting business and renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. Mary Halderman-Clifford and daughter, Helen, of Larwill, spent Wednesday afternoon here with relatives.

Dr. B. F. Slessman arrived home Tuesday evening from a week's trip to Oklahoma, where he visited friends.

Donald, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sattison, is suffering from severe spasms, which are thought to be caused by the little one's teeth.

Fred Tylor and family, of Nappanee, who have been the guests of Mark Norris and family for several days, returned home Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nix, of Chicago, arrived in the city Wednesday evening to visit the latter's father, Theodore Garty and wife. After returning from their visit in this county, the family will settle on a farm in Illinois.

Miss Maud Shinneman, who has been off duty as a "hello girl" for several days, owing to an attack of tonsilitis, is rapidly improving.

William Koester, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. James Ray, north of the city, is critically ill and he may not survive many yadys. He is past eighty years of age and is suffering from a general breakodwn.

Dennis Gallivan and William Betts motored to Fort Wayne Wednesday to transact business and visit friends.

Relatives have received word from Battle Creek, Mich., to the effect that R. J. Jontz, who is in a sanitarium, undergoing treatment for kidney trouble, is gradually improving and will soon be able to return home. His son, Merle, is with him.

Marion Cool, of the east end, caught an eighteen pound carp Tuesday evening in the Charles Stough bottoms, along with several other carp weighing from three to seven pounds. The capture was made in each instance with a pitchfork, and the fisherman was compelled to wade in to his hips in the mire and slime.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schrader, the aged Washington township pioneer, who died Sunday night, was laid to her final resting place Wednesday morning at the Compton cemetery. Rev. L. A. Luckenbill had charge of the services and the pall bearers were John and Simon Ummell, William McCoy, W. H. Hartman, J. J. Lower and William Dial.

On Thursday, June 4th, the local Rebekah degree team will go to Warsaw to attend the Kosciusko county meeting and to confer degree work.

The Modern Woodman lodge of this city will hold their annual memorial on Sunday, June 7th, at the new Methodist church. Rev. C. A. Shoemaker will have charge of the services.

Mayor Frank L. Myers has been engaged to pitch the first ball across (or at least near) the plate in the opening game of the season Sunday, when the Grays play the Fort Wayne Printing company's team, captained by Jack Smith, a former Shamrock.

Troublesome Hairs on Your Face or Neck

(Beauty Notes.)

A thick paste made with powdered delatone and water, and applied to objectionable hairs for two or three minutes, when removed will take every trace of hair with it and leave the skin firm and free from blemish. After this treatment has been employed, the skin should be washed to remove the remaining delatone. This is quick, harmless and certain, but to avoid disappointment, care should be taken to see that it is real delatone you get.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., May 29.—Saturday evening Spencerville chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was granted its chater by the grand chapter of Indiana. The ceremonies were conducted by Grand Patron Andrew Smith, of Hobart, and Grand Marshal H. A. Flynn, of Chester, Ind., assisted by Worthy Patron Stanley B. Dustman and wife, of Shiloh chapter, No. 141, of Fort Wayne, and Worthy Patron William Vallien, Blanch and Zella Knight, of Harlan chapter. The following officers were also installed: Worthy matron, Josephine Baltz; worthy patron, Clyde G. Mrs. DeLoss White, of Garrett, came Thursday for a visit with her parents and other relatives and friends.

The Road to Success.

The best brain effort and indigestion do not go hand in hand. If you would win a lasting success you must keep your stomach in good working order and your bowels regular. This is easily done if you go at it rightly. Mrs. C. C. Baker, Homer City, Pa., writes: "About two years ago I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation. After I began using Chamberlain's Tablets my condition improved. At the end of a week I could eat and sleep well." Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state for the Hellers' Four Winners Clothing company, to operate a store in Fort Wayne. Captial stock is listed at $20,000 and the directors named are B. C. Heller, A. E. Heller and E. Heller.

FAMOUS DANCER GIVES COMPLEXION SECRETS.

I've learned the secret of Dolores' entrancing beauty—the wondrous charm that has dazzled the courts of Europe and captivated vast audences everywhere. The famous dancer abhors rouges and cosmetics. Yet, despite the strenuosity of her life, she retains the incomparable complexion best described as "indescribable." An intimate friend tells me the senorita regularly uses on her face what druggists know as mercolized wax. This is applied at night in the manner cold cream is used and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead particles of skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish complexion is always in evidence.

Dolores' skin is not marred by a single wrinkle, not even the finest line. She wards these off by daily bathing the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. As your drugstores keep these ingredients, as well as mercolized wax (one ounce of the wax is sufficient), no doubt your readers will welcome this information.—Aileen Moore in Beauty's Mirror.

What you do often, becomes easy to do.
What is easy to do, soon becomes a habit.
Habit, before you know it, crystallizes into character. The habit of being truthful and honest, the habit of being industrious and saving, these soon come to constitute a character in which truth, honesty, industry and trift predominate.
This isn't preaching, it's hard sense, and hard sense is God's truth.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 4:1-12.

1 And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them.

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

Inviting the Progressives Back.

No gathering of republicans in this year of grace neglects the formality of extending a very cordial and pressing invitation to the former members of that party who broke ranks in 1912 to follow the flag of Colonel Roosevelt to return to the republican fold. That has become as fixed and definite a formality as the "keynote" speech. It is conducted with much waving of flags and tearful appeals that are calculated to melt the stoniest of hearts and bring repentance of the sort that moved the prodigal son of old to cease his wanderings and return to the family fireside.

It will be observed, however, that while the pledge to forgive and forget is freely given, there is scrupulous care to go no farther than that. It is quite impossible to overlook, also, the rather important fact that the republican leaders who are directing the come-back-oh-come-back effort are precisely identical with the leaders who were directing affairs when the break came as a revolt against party dictatorship and control by the reactionaries. Whatever rehabilitation is to come, it must be distinctly understood, will be supervised by the same gentlemen whose tactics constituted the original ground for complaint. They are for party reform, but they insist on bossing the work of reformation themselves.

The recent Michigan state gathering at Detroit is a typical case in point. A very notable array of office-holders, state and national, and a still more numerous array of office-seekers from village constable upward, proclaimed the glad tidings of welcome to the Michigan progressives. Some of them, indeed, went to the length of declaring the belief that present republican office-holders in Michigan would be willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of party harmony, but there was a notable absence of any tender of party control to the returning hosts. It is placing too cheap an estimate on progressive principles to assume that the lure of office will outweigh the basic tenets of the doctrine they have espoused.

An Illinois banker accused of embezzling some $42,000 has just gone scot free under a legal technicality when it was shown that the banking concern had never been incorporated, that it was merely a partnership and that the law holds that a person cannot embezzle from his partners. Depositors who are skilled at extracting comfort from bad situations have here an excellent opportunity for the exercise of their talent in this direction.

The temporary halting of work on one branch of the survey for the lake-to-lake barge canal may have much or little significance, but it will inspire the devoted supporters of the big project to still greater efforts in its behalf. This is a most unseasonable time of year for army engineers or others to suffer an attack of the malady popularly known and designated as "cold feet."

Whatever may be the outcome of the lively little wet-and-dry fight now engaging the attention of Ninth ward citizens, the incident has served to demonstrate conclusively that saloon encroachment upon residential territory can be pressed too far for entire comfort and complacency to the liquor traffic in Fort Wayne.

The former announcement by Mr. Widney, of St. Joe, that he is a candidate for the progressive nomination for congress in the Twelfth district seems to indicate that he doesn't consider the case hopeless and that he isn't afraid of a fight.

From the small boy's standpoint the country is still safe. Already two big circuses are scheduled to visit Fort Wayne this year.

VERA CRUZ "KIDS" ARE SORE BECAUSE GEN. FUNSTON STARTS SCHOOLS GOING AGAIN.

(By Fred L. Boalt.)

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 29.—General Funston has few friends among the youth of Vera Cruz.

Not only did he re-open the public schools on May 11, but he now says he fears the regular June examinations may be delayed a week or two.

The youth of Vera Cruz had figured on a summer vacation of indefinite length, and, kids being kids wherever found, their attitude towards the American occupation was like that of American children who exclaim:

"Goody, goody! Teacher's dead!"

The Mexican school has no playground. It is built around a court where a fountain plays, where trellised roses climb and where prim little girls and sedate little boys sit in recess time in the shade of an orange tree, getting their lessons.

School over, they march decorously away from the building. But once around the corner, they let fall the mantle of decorum and become joyous young savages.

You will find among them all the school boy and girl types known in the states.

There is at the Diligencia hotel an American planter who has a black—a very black—eye.

It looks like any other black eye. But nowhere in the world, probably, is there a black eye so significant as this one. Or so, at least, it seems to me.

A peon soaked him in the eye with a cluster of knuckles.

"The damned scoundrel saw I was packing to quit the country," the planter explains. "For the life of me I can't see what he had it in for me for. It was his last chance, so he up and punched me."

That, however, is merely the planter's way of looking at it. You can hardly expect him to see clearly through a blackened eye. It and his feelings are sore.

Everywhere in the world there is popular discontent, if discontent can be said to be popular. There is also a growing hunch that most of us are not getting all that is coming to us.

This discontent finds expression in many ways. Great Britain has Lloyd-George and his land tax. Portugal and China recently kicked their rulers off their thrones and the people took into their own hands the reins of government. Italy and Spain may soon enjoy a similar experience. In Colorado the miners went to war with the militia.

And in Mexico a peon hits a planter in the eye.

They want the land, these peons. They are inarticulate, dumb. They have been starved, whipped, kept in ignorance, led by the nose. Their reasoning processes are curious and slow.

But they want the land.

Ask any soldier of Villa the rebel, what he is fighting for and he will answer: "To get the land."

He is trying with his rifle to do what Lloyd-George with his land tax is accomplishing in England—break up the big estates.

The rebels are in the north. But their faces and their rifles are turned toward the southland.

And in the southland a peon dares to fling a cluster of knuckles into the face of his master.

There is war on the plaza—bloodless, but bitter.

On the one side is The Widow.

On the other is the Mysterious Personage.

Because they hate each other so, they are inseparable and most affectionate. They play the game for points.

The game is this: If either can inveigle a colonel to stop for a chat, ten points are added to her score. A major counts seven, a captain five, a first lieutenant three and a second lieutenant one.

Naval and marine officers have similar values.

General Funston and Admiral Fletcher would be worth fifty points each if they ever came to the plaza, but they never do.

Ordinary correspondents count nothing.

THE ARBITRATION TREATIES.

(Indianapolis News.)

There are now between twenty and thirty arbitration treaties in existence, most of which have been ratified since February 22 last, when the senate approved the Wilson-Bryan treaty idea. We have had limited arbitration agreements for some years now with such countries as France, Germany and Great Britain. The racial relationship of the people of the latter country to those of this country makes possible a lasting understanding which almost precludes the possibility of disputes ending in hostilities.

Among the countries with which we now have arbitration agreements of some sort are Denmark, Japan, France, Germany, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Austria-Hungary, Switzerland, Italy, Sweden, Portugal, Spain and nearly every one of the Central and South American republics. The negotiations with Russia are at a standstill. The old commercial treaty, which was denounced by the Taft administration, has not been made. It is hoped that some agreement will be reached shortly. The treaties negotiated by the state department under Secretary Bryan carry, as is generally known, the fundamental idea of explanation before action is taken leading up to hostilities. In other words, publicity is provided, with The Hague as the medium, for international quarrels, much the same as questions of equity and law are settled for individuals. Where nations are concerned, however, questions affecting vital interests, independence or the national honor, and the rights of third parties, are not necessarily included as subjects for arbitration.

It is especially gratifying to witness the ratification of the Japanese-American treaty. For one thing it is a rebuke to the jingoes, and for another it shows the development of international understanding. The government of Japan is sorely beset with domestic troubles. It is not looking for a conflict with the American government. Rather does it look to the United States and is people for fairness in all matters pertaining to Japan and the Japanese. The ratification of this treaty would have an important influence on the California land controversy. Of course, the negotiation of arbitration treaties and their test by application are different. Yet such is the temper of the diplomatic mind today that the success of arbitration in an increasing degree is reasonably sure.

A MAN WHO MADE HIS LIFE COUNT.

(Kansas iCty Star.)

A great life purpose made Jacob Riis a national character. The thing that distinguished him from a million other young fellows who came to America to make their fortunes was his interest in those to whom he gave the name of the "other half."

He made it his job to see that conditions of living in some, at least, of the New York tenement districts were made easier. It wasn't a task imposed on him by somebody else, which he did perfunctorily, and abandoned as soon as he could. His enthusiasm came from within.

The improvement of housing conditions became a real passion with him his might have exclaimed with Ruskin that he could not paint or read or look at minerals or do anything else that he liked because of the misery that he knew of and saw signs of where he knew it not.

So this unknown reporter, by his energetic devotion to his cause, achieved fine results in New York City and made his work known all over the United States. His life was a splendid example of the power of an ideal to make a man count in the world.

THE SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION.

To the Editor of The Sentinel: I notice in last night's News that the question of Mr. Cook's successor is agitated and the desire to keep the board nonpartisan is advised. There are some mighty good and capable democrats mentioned who can fill Mr. Cook's shoes on the board and there are some few republicans who might be chosen, but if the council is going to put a republican in this position for the city school board, why not elect one who is living in the city? Mr. Cook has moved out of Fort Wayne and resides about two and one-half miles west of the city at Sprankle Station and is no longer a citizen of Fort Wayne. As a taxpayer and a democrat, I want a citizen of Fort Wayne to regulate our schools. Mr. Cook had better apply to the county superintendent for a position in the county schools if he still wishes to continue his activities in school work.

GAVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Augustin Verdin, a Mexican, Spoke About His Native Country.

Augustin Verdin, who was for some time private secretary to Madero in Mexico, gave an illustrated lecture Thursday evening at the Turner hall to a large and appreciative audience on his native country and also on his experiences there. He spoke in his native tongue and his address was translated by Prof. Claude Michelon. Over 200 slides were thrown on the screen to illustrate his lecture.

Verdin told of his imprisonment during the revolution in Mexico and how through the intercession of his friends he was able to escape to New Orleans. The cause of his imprisonment was that he knew the Mexican telegraph code. He closed his address by saying hat he loved the American flag and the American people because it was through these agencies that he gained his liberty.

PICK PEACHES? IT'S CRUEL.

Former Chicago Woman, Therefore, Sued for Divorce and $50,000.

Laporte, Ind., May 29.—Fifty thousand dollars and a divorce are asked by Mrs. Annie Geisen, until a year ago a resident of Chicago. She filed suit yesterday in the Laporte county superior court against her husband, Peter Geisen. The husband, who is said to be worth $100.000, was a bachelor farmer until a year ago, when he married the Chicago woman on brief acquaintance. The plaintiff charges cruelty, alleging her husband compelled her to pick peaches and it made her ill. A few days ago Geisen was arrested and fined for breaking into his wife's rooms and taking some of her personal belongings.

RETAIL CLERKS HAVE ORGANIZED

Meet With Woman's League Committee and Form Association.

ONE HUNDRED JOIN

One hundred retail store clerks met Thursday evening in the assembly room of the court house and completed the organization of the Fort Wayne Retail Store Clerks association by electing officers as follows:

President—Mrs. Agner Pennoyer.
Vice president—Minnie Conn.
Secretary—Margaret Bauss.
Treasurer—Anna Allen.

Representatives of the industriaal department of the Women's league attended and addressed the clerks and asked for the co-operation of the new organization in improving working conditions in the stores of the city. They also asked for co-operation in the effort the league is making to induce retail merchants to close their places of business at 6 o'clock each Saturday evening during the summer months.

The league was represented by Mrs. Olaf N. Guldlin, Mrs. Fred Thieme, Martha Hanna, Miss Minnie Baum and Mrs. Will Morris. On Monday evening the clerks will meet with the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants association and will present a petition asking for early closing on Saturday nights during the summer. Tuesday evening the new association will meet at the parlors of the Young Woman's Christian association and will perfect a set of by-laws and a constitution.

IN THE CHURCHES

WALTHER LEAGUE BANQUET.

Over 200 People Enjoy Feast at St. Paul's School Hall.

Over two hundred members of the Walther league of the St. Paul's Lutheran church enjoyed the three course banquet which was served in the large auditorium of the new school hall Thursday evening. Prof. F. Schroeder, principal of the parish school, presided as toastmaster and short talks were given by Rev. Paul Miller, Otto Koenig, C. Dannenfelser, Prof. G. Weller, Robert Wolf, O. A. Schack, Dr. Edward Kruse and Chas. Sheiman.

During the evening each member of the 1913-14 basket ball team of the St. Paul's church were presented with a sweater coat in recognition of the faithful work performed during the season. Henry Schwehn rendered a bass solo and music was furnished by the St. Paul's orchestra.

Twenty ladies of the Young Ladies' society of the church assisted in serving the three course banquet which was prepared in the kitchen of the school hall under the direction of Mr. Stewart, of the Wayne hotel. Members of the committee of arrangements, to whom part of the success of this affair is due, were Theodore Miller, C. Dannenfelser and George Schack.

SCIENTISTS HAVE FIELD EXCURISON

Indiana Academy Holds Its Spring Meeting at South Bend.

DR. COULTER SPEAKS

South Bend, Ind., May 29.—The formal opening of the spring meeting of the Indiana Academy of Science took place last night at the auditorium of the high school. The address was delivered by Dr. John M. Coulter, of the University of Chicago, who spoke on "Plant Breeding and How It Will Help Solve the Problem of Our Food Supply."

Delegates left this morning for the field excursion. St. Joseph county, with its moraines and ancient and modern stream courses, embraces the territory which will be seen in part on the field excursion.

The country around South Bend is the meeting place of three great ice lobes, the Maumee, Saginaw and Michigan, and is especially interesting to geologists. Dr. Hugh T. Montgomery of this city, who has been a student of the ancient stream beds for years, will accompany the party as one of the guides The local committee has provided automobiles for the visiting members so that a very large amount of territory can be covered.

The members of the academy were the guests of the local committee at the field luncheon at noon today. On the return of the excursionists the spring meeting dinner will be served at the Oliver hotel.

The meeting will close Saturday with a sightseeing trip around South Bend. The trip will conclude with a visit to Notre Dame. No election of officers will be held at this meeting but will be deferred until the meeting at Indianapolis next fall.

On account of Decoration day our store will be open Friday evening, but closed all day Saturday.

STILL OPPOSE SUNDAY SPORTS

of the Presbyterian church in the United States adouted the report of the com-States adopted the report of the com-disapproved of all secular uses of Sunday.

Rev. Thomas W. Smith of New York, and Rev. Henry L. Brown, of Chicago, pleaded that workingmen be given an opportunity for recreation on Sunday and vainly sought to amend the restriction against "all sports and games," substituting "commercialized" for the word "all." The report disapproved of all unnecessary travel and Sunday excursions. The adoption of the report was regarded as a victory for the conservative wing of the assembly. The assembly also condemned the Sunday newspaper and advocated Saturday half holiday. A resolution endorsing the national administration for its effort to avert war with Mexico was adopted.

The assembly prepared for adjournment here today with a record of work accomplished and important changes instituted without a trace of bitterness in its debates. Most far reaching of the innovations was the resolution for the re-organization of the home missions board for the purpose of making it more than ever an instrument of social service. The assembly also declared itself in favor of a federal divorce law.

An incident marking the good feeling of the assembly was the burning last night of all the paper in a litigation between Rev. Adolph Haberly and Rev. N. D. Shields of the South Oregon Presbytery. While Dr. Shields was a missionary in Siam several years ago, Dr. Haberly brought charges against him which were disapproved. Dr. Shields sued Dr. Haberly for slander and later the matter came before the assembly. Before the judiciary committee commenced the case last night all knelt in prayer and when they rose Dr. Haberly and Dr. Shields shook each other by the hand. The whole satchelful of papers was then burned.

eleven saloons doing business in the Ninth ward are not so clear. That is why pro-saloon element is working in a last-ditch fight to prevent if it can the filing of a sufficient blanket remonstrance to outlaw all saloons in the ward.

Withdrawals are Filed.

The wets filed a total of 493 names signed to withdrawal from the remonstrance Thursday and Friday with County Auditor Calvin H. Brown. There names were secured more or less indiscriminately by wet workers after the Ninth ward saloonkeepers and their supporters learned that the Schoenfeeldt remonstrance was not a simple affair of antagonism to Gutermuth, but a blanket remonstrance that imperiled the entire liquor traffic in the Ninth ward. The work of securing signatures to the cards, in which power of attorney was conferred on William A. Bayer and Peter Deitschel to withdraw names from the remonstrance, was necessarily done in a hurry, not to say panic. Just how many of the 493 names were secured were those of actual signers of the remonstrance is not known and cannot be determined until the board of county commissioners goes over both the wet and the dry lists.

The drys claim over 1,100 names of bona fide voters. If the withdrawals include any considerable number of names that never were attached to the remonstrance, 493 withdrawals may not avail the saloon element to save itself if the final count shows the remonstrance to be as numerously signed as claimed. It will require 775 valid names to make the remonstrance effective.

Wets at a Disadvantage.

The wets were placed at a disadvantage by the terms of the law, which required the remonstrance to be filed four days in advance of the hearing and the time of grace expired at midnight, Thursday. The wets have until 5 o'clock this afternoon to file their remonstrance. The wets today put in their best licks to prevent the dry remonstrance from being made any stronger and believe they have a good many names from the anti-saloon lists.

Of the eleven saloons in the Ninth ward nine are situated on Wells and Cass streets. Two others are on Spy Run avenue near the State street bridge.

that he accepted mediation in principle on the condition that international questions alone should be discussed.

Gen. Carranza is unwilling that the question of a new provisional president should be discussed at any international conference. He holds that the occupation of Vera Cruz, which directly gave rise to the mediation proceedings, concerns all Mexican factions as well as the Huerta government and that the constitutionalists should have a voice in adjusting differences which caused the American troops to enter Mexico.

Puts Up New Question.

In his latest communication he restates his position and places before the mediators the question of whether they will consider him in adjustment of the international side of the Mexican situation. The mediators held in their first communications with Carranza that the international and internal questions were inseparable and asked that an armistice be agreed upon between Gen. Huerta and Carranza. To this Gen. Carranza failed to agree and the mediators withdrew their invitation. When the mediators learned of the arrival of the constitutionalist agent it was said the negotiations had proceeded to a point where the constitutionalists could hardly hope to have a voice.

It was said the mediators gladly would haave received a representative of Carranza if he had accepted their offer when it was first made, but the invitation extended originally was withdrawn because of the refusal of Carranza to declare an armistice and because of his desire to be informed in advance of the opening of the conference just what points would be taken up.

At a Standstill.

Conferences here are at a standstill awaiting replies from Washington and Huerta on the plan of the mediators for the settlement of the Mexican question which is now before them. Even after the negotiations had proceeded well on their way Carranza's representative would have been received if the constitutionalist leader had agreed to an armistice. The mediators are maintaining secrecy in the present stage of their proceedings, but it is understood the names of those who will compose the provisional government in Mexico have been selected. None of them will be made public, however, until all the machinery is ready for the transition from the Huerta regime.

TEXT OF CARRANZA COMPLAINT.

Rebel Chieftain Now Believes He Was Snubbed.

Durango, Mexico, May 29.—Gen. Carranza yesterday sent a message to his representative at Washington complaining of what he inferred was the failure of the A B C mediators to request him to appoint delegates to the peace parley at Niagara Falls, Ont. He expressed doubt that the negotiations would be successful without representation of the constitutional faction. The Carranza proclamation was addressed to Rafael Capmany, his minister of the interior, but evidently was directed at the mediators. The full text of an unofficial translation as received here follows:

"Six days ago conferences began to treat the international conflict between the United States and Mexico occasioned by the arrest of several American sailors by soldiers of Huerta at Tampico. To solve this conflict you offered to the government of the United States, to Huerta and to me, your good offices, inviting me to appoint delegates who would represent the general headquarters of the constitutionalist army, which is under my orders.

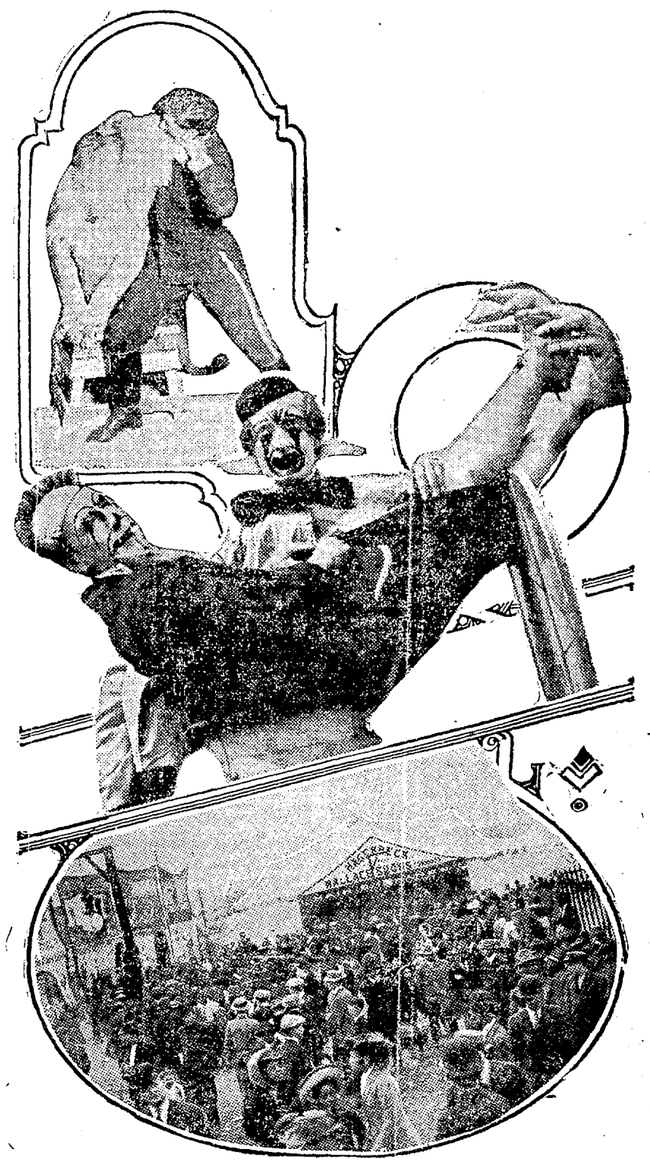
"I answered you that in principle I would accept your good offices and later in a separate message I stated the points which should be dealt with in the peace conference. Awaiting an answer to that dispatch I have not named delegates.

"I am surprised that you have not continued to treat for a solution of the conflict between the United States and the constitutionalist army, which is in my orders and represents the majority of the people and the largest armed force of the republic.

"For this reason I state to you that I believe the conflict between the United States and Mexico will not be solved in future conferences unless in these conferenced there are represented the general headquarters of the constitutionalist army."

Carranza in his message, it was pointed out, by observers, only referred to the international difficulties between Mexico and the United States, not granting that the mediation proceedings had to do with the arrangement of the domestic affairs of the republic.

HOORAY! CIRCUS IS COMING!



Hooray!

The circuis is coming. The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined, one of the largest circus organizations on the road, will be seen in Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16. The circus day program calls for performances at 2 and 8 p. m. and a magnificent street pageant on the down town streets at 10 o'clock in the morning, preceding the first performance.

The elephants, the camels, the women dressed in fluffy pink tarletons, a glitter with spangles, will be here and, most essential of all, the rumbling of red and yellow wagons without which there wouldn't be a circus at all. Then of course there will be oceans of pink lemonade and peanuts galore.

Once a year the hearts of the young and old turn to the circus. And the small boy dreams of clowns and tooting calliopes, giants and giantesses, little tents and big tents, the concert band and the clown band, the gold and glitter and the 1,001 things which pertain to that holiday circus day, said to be better than Christmas and Fourth of July combined.

But for the older, who want to be shown, the circus statistician has facts to prove that the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows have the most wonderful circus performance yet presented. There are more than 300 circus artists of international fame. They represent almost every country in the civilized world. Among a few feaures besides the celebrated Carl Hagenbeck trained wild animals will be Herr Von Ritter, the "upside down man," who slides on his head down a silver wire from the highest point in the arena; the Fischer-Ward troupe of twelve aerialists; the Eugene troupe of twelve male acrobats, the Davenports, Stackeys, Powells and half a hundred equestrians. The performance is given in three rings, two elevated stages, a steel girded arena and on a one-fourth of a mile hippodrome track. Fifty clowns will look after the fun. The Carl Hagenbeck menagerie is said to be the finest in the world.

Pullen, driver of an American car, ranked thirty-first in the speed trials, and will take De Palma's place if he can get his car in shape in time, otherwise Gilhooly, in his Italian car will enter.

Thirty automobile race drivers, the pick of the world, with their mechanicians and relief drivers, spent today putting the finishing touches to their mounts, which at 10 o'clock tomorrow will strive for first honors in the fourth annual 500 mile race at the Motorspeedway. Every piece of mechanism was gone over carefully and tuned to obtain the greatest speed possible, consistent with durability. While the drivers tinkered on their cars, which represent five nations, an army of workmen cleaned the 2 1-2 mile brick track in preparation for the contest. Indianapolis is taking on a holiday appearance with most all the stores and buildings decorated for the occasion. The down town streets are lined with dust covered automobiles and steady processions were unloading the begoggled passengers at the hotel entrances all day many having motored from distant states to Indianapolis for the contest. The race is the one-absorbing topic on the streets and wagers are being made freely, the Frenchmen, Goux, winner of last year's race, and Boillot, his team mate, ruling favorites.

WILL RECEIVE GOLD MEDALS.

Judges Decide on Applicants from European School of Music.

The gold medals offered by the faculty of the European School of Music for highest scholarship and attainment in recital before a committee of judges will be bestowed on Miss Helene Spindler, for piano; on Earl Thompson, in vocal; on Charles Thornburg, of Auburn, for violin. These students averaged the highest in work for the year at the school and in a recital given Thursday evening before a committee of judges. The medals will be awarded at an invitation entertainment and recital to be given next Wednesday evening in Elks' hall by pupils of the school. There were a number of students of the school who were in the contest recital given on Thursday evening, and though they could not see the committee of critics, each student knew his work was being judged and there was some individual nervousness manifested. The committee of judges had only a number to designate the performer they were criticising. The marks of the judges were afterwards combined with the standing for the year given by the teachers of the departments on a basis of twenty points as the highest number of credit given. The committee of judges was composed of Eugene Troendel, Mrs. D. Fred Urbahns, Mrs. Florence Huebner Dukes, Mrs. B. W. Rhamy, Mrs. Harry M. Williams, Miss Zona Hopkins. The results of those obtaining the highest marks are: In piano, Miss Helen Spindler, 18.8; Miss Leah Gardner, of Wabash, 17.2; in violin, Miss Dorothy Cox, 14; Charles Thornburg, of Auburn, 16; in vocal, Miss Helen Thomas, of Huntington, 15; Earl Thompson, 16.9.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

David Belasco's Picture Production of "The Stranglers of Paris."

At the Majestic theater today and tomorrow David Belasco's photoplay of Belot's famous novel "The Stranglers of Paris." This is truly a work of art, a masterpiece in the true sense of the word. It carries an appeal for all ages and for all people regardless of race or religion. The picture production loses nothing; if anything, it gains strength for that very reason, for it gives the director a chance to get that beauty in scenery that belong only to nature and cannot be duplicated on the stage no matter how great the artists may be. "The Stranglers of Paris" is Belot's best work and then when you know that David Belasco (sometimes called the father of American drama) put his time and thought into the production of this story you know that you will see something well worth while.

AT THE EMPRESS

Lovers of music in every nature are finding the "treat of their lives" at the Empress with the present bill. Exceptionally good audiences witnessed the performances last night and this afternoon with much interest.

The bill affords one the opportunity of seeing all kinds of fetes worked in with music. Even the comedy talking jugglers, "The Ozavs," bring in some comedy that is well worth hearing.

But the rarest treat of all is the act by Ben Harney & company. This act—composed of two men and a woman—is one of the best of its kind that has appeared in Fort Wayne. Haas brothers, with their novelty bar work, are also among the best of their kind. Their work is exceptional in every respect.

All grocery stores will close Saturday, May 30th, at 12 o'clock, in honor of the day. 28-2t

Dance Connoisseur Has Her Experience With Tango Parties

Miss Mabel Wilber, who as "The Merry Widow," has waltzed several circles around the United States, had a brand new experience the other day in dancing.

As a member of the exclusive Gamut club of New York, Miss Wilber attended a soiree. Her partner was a solemn-visaged gentleman. Of course, tea and tango were features. The music started.

"We shall first try No. 2," said the solemn-faced partner to the clever dancer.

"I don't wnow what No. 2 is," said Miss Wilber, "but I'll try it."

"Unless you are familiar with No. 2 we'd better begin with No. 3. It's simple," replied the man.

Miss Wilber looked dazed and then, laughing, said: "I think we'd better have an understanding about this tango before we go any further."

Then it developed that the solemn-faced individual had learned ten ways to tango by correspondence. Numbers instead of names were used.

They sat out the dance.

AMERICAN WOMEN WHO ARE WIVES OF THE GREAT

WASHINGTON WOMAN WHO IS CONSTANT COMPANION OF HER HUSBAND.

Here is a bright, clever captivating, popular woman who believes it is finer to be a factor in the successful career of her husband than to have a career all her own!

She is Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, who is said not to have separated from her husband over 24 hours at one time in the last 17 years.

"I do not believe that any man can rise to any great height," says Mrs. Marshall, "the wif has greater ambition for herself than for her husband. And for a woman to have more sense than her husband I regard as a calamity. It is a source of continual self-gratification to me that I married a man who is cleverer than I."

Although Mrs. Marshall makes these public assertions, it is known that there are a few women in the Washington circle whose brains are any better polished than hers.

She is not a suffraget, for she believes feminine interests should center at the home. Yet she is so broad in her view of woman's sphere as to say it encompasses the whole world.

Mrs. Marshall was the only one of the wives of the six national candidates who when campaigning prior to the last presidential election. And she went because her husband went. Her main purpose was to attend to such motherly duties as seeing that her hubby wore his overcoat or that he didn't get his feet wet. But incidentally she made lots of votes for him by her perennial good nature and pleasantry.

Mrs. Marshall has made close to 2,000 calls since she has been in the capital city. Contrary to many women who are obliged to keep up the system of etiquet necessary to official life, she thinks the business of calling not a bore at all.

"If we women must give up something," she says, "let it be two or three teas an afternoon, not our calls. I believe in calling, it leads to feeling."

MAY QUEEN AND MAIDS AT MAY FESTIVAL OF BROTHERHOOD OF AMERICAN YEOMEN IN FORT WAYNE THURSDAY NIGHT.

CITY READY FOR DECORATION DAY

Complete Schedule for Line of March and Formation of Parade.

DECORATION DAY PARADE SATURDAY

Will move promptly at 1:30 p. m. on East Berry to Barr street, south on Barr to Holman street, west on Holman to Calhoun street, north on Calhoun to Columbia street, west on Columbia to Harrison street, south on Harrison to Wayne street, west on Wayne to Rockhill street, north on Rockhill to Main street and west on Main street to Lindenwood cemetery.

Everything is in readiness for a successful and enthusiastic observance of Decoration Day in Fort Wayne Saturday, providing the weather remains favorable and under the direction of Captain James B. White camp, No. 171, Sons of Veterans, the entire city will join in honoring the memory of deceased soldiers of the civil war.

The program will begin at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning when specially appointed decorating committees visit the different cemeteries and decorate the graves of approximately 800 soldiers with flowers that are being arranged in wreaths today by members of the Woman's Relief corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. A major portion of these flowers were donated by the children of the public schools.

The usual exercises at Lawton park will be held at 10 o'clock. Oswald Woebbeking will preside as chairman and the program opens when flowers are thrown on the water in memory of sailors and marines. At the monument of General Henry W. Lawton the principal address will be delivered by Rev. William A. Griest, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. Two songs will be sung by the audience and the usual dirge will be played by the Citizens' band.

At Lindenwood.

WIVES OF A. B. C. PEACE MEDIATORS ARE CAPITAL FAVORITES.

Mme de Naon, wife of the Argentine minister to Washington, and Mme. de Suarez, wife of the minister from Chile, have the distinction of being the "better halves" of two of the A.-B.-C. peace triumvirate at Niagara Falls.

The wife of the third member, the Brazilian minister, is Mme. Da Gama.

Mme. de Naon has been noted all the winter for the hospitality which she has been dispensing at her Washington home. This summer she and her husband have found a delightful old place up in the Blue Ridge at Buena Vista, not too far from Washington to allow many week-end parties during the summer.

Mme. de Suarez, who is equally popular at the capital, is cheerfully leaving her summer plans until she learns at what date her husband will be free to join her.

SULPHUR IS THE ONLY THING FOR ITCHING ECZEMA

Use like cold cream to subdue irritation and clear the skin.

In the treatment of the various forms of disfiguring, itching and burning Eczema, such as Acne, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, there is nothing known that can take the place of bold-sulphur cream.

It effects such prompt relief, even in the aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. Bold-sulphur is not only parasiticidal, but antipruritic and antiseptic, therefore invaluable in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed, raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should obtain from any good pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the abrasion like an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome.—Adv.

Wells-Fargo Express to Supplant U. S. on Big System.

New York, May 29.—Announcement was made today that the Wells-Fargo and company July 1 will assume the express business of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system. The acquisition of these contracts will take the express company into three cities not hitherto served directly by it—Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

The company supercedes the United States Express company on the Baltimore and Ohio and its affiliated lines. The United States Express company announced several months ago that it would wind up its express operations June 30 and prepare to liquidate. It is understood that Wells-Fargo and company will make efforts to retain the employes of the company it supercedes in the cities it is entering for the first time.

A vast road system is projected for Cuba by the department of public works. The scheme is much the same as the project introduced in the preceding session of congress. It provides for a great central highway from La Fe, in the extreme western part of Cuba, to Baracoa, in the east.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Meyer Bros. Co. under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure and ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Adv.

Gen. Funston's Great Story, "Memories of Two Wars"

Campaigning With Garcia—Funston Starts for New Siege With Famous Chief.

CHAPTER V.

By Gen. Frederick Funston.

After the brief but exciting Cascorra campaign, Gen. Maximo Gomez and his force, about 1,000 men, infantry, cavalry and artillery, with two guns, had marched to the eastward, and in a few days was encamped alongside the force of General Calixto Garcia, about 2,000 men, that, after a forced march made in obedience to orders from Gomez, had just arrived.

Gen. Funston.

We Americans, having learned that Gen. Zarcia also had a few guns officered by our countrymen, proceeded to look up these latter without delay, and found several likable and interesting men who were to be our comrades.

These were Maj. Winchester Dana Osgood, who had won fame as a football player at Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania; Capt. William Cox, of Philadelphia; Lieuts. Stuart S. Janney and Osmun Latrobe, jr., of Baltimore, and James Debine, of Texas, and Dr. Harry Danforth, of Milwaukee. All except the latter, who served as a medical officer, belonged to the artillery, with Osgood in command.

As General Garcia, like General Gomez, had but two guns, it will be seen that the artillery of both forces was considerably over-officered. But this fault extended throughout the whole insurgent army.

We were soon presented to General Garcia, and were most kindly received by him, who was to be our future commander.

He was a man of most striking appearance, being over six feet tall and rather heavy, and his hair and large mustache were snow-white. What at once attracted attention was the hole in his forehead, a souvenir of the ten years' war.

On September 3, 1874, being about to fall into the hands of the Spaniards, and believing his execution to be a certainty, he had fired a large-caliber revolver upward from beneath his lower jaw, the bullet making its exit almost in the center of his forehead. It is safe to say that not one man in ten thousand would have survived so terrible an injury.

He was taken prisoner, and owed his life to the skill of a Spanish surgeon, though he remained in prison until the end of the war, four years later. To the day of his death, nearly twenty-four years later, the wound never entirely healed, and he always carried a small wad of cotton in the hole in his skull.

General Garcia was a man of the most undoubted personal courage, and was a courteous and kindly gentleman. He seldom smiled, and I never heard him laugh but once, and that was when on one occasion he fired every one of the six shots in his revolver at a jutea, a small animal, without disturbing its slumbers.

General Garcia's staff consisted of about a dozen young men of the best families of Cuba. All of them spoke English, a great convenience for us foreigners who were constantly under the necessity of communicating with them.

The chief of staff was Col. Mario Menocal, a graduate of Cornell and a civil engineer by profession. He was a most capable and daring soldier, and his rise had been rapid. He was the nominee of the conservative party for the presidency of Cuba at the last election.

Another member of the staff was Col. Carlos Garcia, a son of the general and the present Cuban minister to the United States. He was a great friend of all of us Americans.

General Garcia's force, having been raised in the province of Santiago, had a much larger proportion of negroes than the one that we had been with. With him here were several well known negro chieftains, among them Rabi and Cebreco, the former one of the most striking looking men I have ever seen.

The Cuban negroes in the insurgent army were to me a most interesting study. They seemed much more forceful and aggressive than our own colored population as a rule, probably the result of most of the older ones having served in the ten years' war. And then, too, they had lived a more outdoor life than the majority of the negroes of our northern states, being plantation hands and small farmers, and had not been weakened and demoralized by city life.

A surprising fact was that not a few of the older negroes of Cuba were born in Africa. Although the foreign slave trade was abolished by law many years ago, it is a matter of common knowledge that up to as late as 1870 small cargoes of slaves from the west coast of Africa were run into Cuba. These African soldiers often conversed among themselves in their native dialect.

After a few days in camp to allow the men and horses of both forces to rest, the 3,000 of us marched toward doomed Guaimaro, and drew our lines about the town. The combined forces were under the command of General Gomez, he being the insurgent commander-in-chief. General Garcia had with him two guns, a Hotchkiss twelve-pounder and a two-pounder of the same make, they being identical with the two guns that Gomez had used at Cascorra, and that we had brought with us. So we now had four pieces of artillery.

The Spanish garrison, about 300 men of the Second battalion of Tarragona was commanded by a major and was distributed among eleven defensive positions, mostly large two-story block houses, called fortines, though the strongest positions were the brick church with stone tower and the barracks, the former in the south part of the town and the latter at its southwest corner. All of these had earth banked up around them to the lower tier of portholes and were surrounded by barb-wire entanglements. All except the church were also surrounded by standing trenches.

The key to the situation was the Fortin Gonfu, an isolated blockhouse on a low hill due north of the center of the town and 700 yards from the circle of blockhouses surrounding it. The nearest support was the Fortin Isabella. Once established in the Gonfu blockhouse, the Cubans would completely dominate the town, which lay in easy artillery range on the level ground to the southward.

On the night of October 16th Gomez and Garcia, with their staffs and personal escorts, were encamped about a mile to the north of the Gonfu position, and we Americans with our four guns were near them. I had been commissioned a captain immediately after the Cascorra campaign, but, Osgood being a major, I was ranked by him, and he was very properly placed in command of all the artillery.

General Garcia's fine band struck up. The Cubans were making no attempt to conceal their presence from the garrison, and, the wind being favorable, the music must have been heard in the town. It no doubt gave the Spaniards a creepy feeling when they heard the Cuban national hymn, "The Bayames," and listened to the cheers and the shouts of "Cuba libre!" that followed its playing

Sleeveless Gowns Require Hairless Arm.

Fashion says sleeveless, low-necked gowns for this season. This means hairless arms and neck, if you do not want to be humiliated. Meyer Bros.' Drug Co. says that the safest, best and quickest way to be absolutely free from all trace of superfluous hair is to use the famous medical prescription known as Mrs. Osgood's Wonder for Superfluous Hair.

It is delightful to use and absolutely harmless. A single application makes hair on face, neck, arms, hands or any other part of the body quickly disappear.

The cost is small and Meyer Bros.' Drug Co. will supply you, or in fact, any up-to-date druggist or department store, on a money-back guarantee basis.

MAP OUT CAMPAIGN PLANS.

Progressives Frame Up System for Coming Political Battle.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 29.—The program of the progressive party in the campaign this fall, as outlined thus far, is understood to be as follows:

1.—No amalgamation with the republican party, as such.

2.—Fusion tickets in cases in which candidates who accept the policies of the progressive party are nominated, where the naming of two candidates of this description would split the liberal vote.

3.—Insistence on policies rather than party names, and an endeavor to consolidate in every state the voters who approve of the principles of the progressive party.

4.—In New York state the endorsement of the republican candidate for governor provided he is a man personally acceptable to the progressives and is willing to approve their platform unequivocally.

While Colonel Roosevelt declined to commit himself publicly to this program it was learned from an excellent source that the progressive leaders had virtually decided to adopt tentatively the foregoing plans of action.

WILL OBSERVE THE FEAST OF WEEKS

Special Services at Synagogue in Commemoration of Shabuoth

SATURDAY EVENING

Special services will be held Saturday evening at the Achduth Vesholm synagogue, corner Wayne and Harrison streets, in observance of Shabuoth, the Feast of Weeks. The subject of the sermon will be "Israel's Call." The confirmation services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and the children will conduct the services from the beginning. Everyone who wishes to attend is asked to be seated at the time the services start.

Shabuoth, "The Feast of Weeks," also called "The Feast of the First Fruits," falls according to the Jewish calendar on the sixth of Sivan, which will occur this year on the 31st of May. Its name is derived from the seven weeks which elapsed between the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt and their arrival at Mt. Sinai. Like its companion holiday, the Feast of Passover, it, too, has both an agricultural and a historical aspect. This was the early harvest season when the first of the wheat, baked in two loaves of bread, was brought as an offering of gratitude, and as a token of man's dependence upon the goodness of God. Historically it carries us backk in memory to the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, when Israel accepted the new moral code and religious legislation, and was aroused for the first time to the consciousness of its new spiritual task and destiny. The Ten Commandments are the Magna Charta of Religion. Having secured political freedom, Moses found it necessary to give his people religious freedom. The new nation must be buttressed upon religious obligation. They may be a kingdom, but they must be a kingdom of priests, a holy nation.

Shabuoth has gained a stronger and a more impressive hold today by entwining its symbolism about the impressionable child. "Confirmation" is the ceremony expressive of religious consecration. We publicly affirm by this ceremonial that our children, the first ripe fruits of our religious schools, shall stand morally and religiously in the same enthusiastic and receptive attitude as did their fathers at the foot of Mt. Sinai.

Shabuoth has a distinctly modern and indispensable appeal to the individual. It teaches, first of all, that religion, as a necessity of life, is the actuating motive and sanction of personal, social and national character. Secondly, it champions the cause of religious freedom as the most highly prized privilege and possession of the human race.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

LOOKS FOR LOSS ONCE IN A WHILE

Dayton's Big Lead is Stirring Things Up in Ohio Village.

(Jerry Conners in Dayton News.)

Barring a run of tough luck in the matter of injuries, those Vets ought to have a pretty comfortable lead before they leave Highland park the next time. They came home Thursday afternoon to start a twelve-game series on the local lot and as they now have a seven-game lead over their closest competitors, it can be seen they have a fine chance to be away out in front the next time they embark. No Dayton team has ever played more consistent ball than this years aggregation, and now that they have tackled every other club in the league, it looks as if they can be doped to keep up their good work. Of course they will lose a few games now and then, but indications are that only a shattered line-up can prevent them from continuing their high-class play. The club has shown its class on the present trip. After losing the last two games here to Fort Wayne, the bunch went to Evansville and dropped three of their four contests. Some of the faint hearted fans thought they saw the beginning of the finish at that time, but later developments have shown that Johnny Nee had the rigt idea when he said the boys were merely in a hitting slump and would soon be rapping the ball at their early season speed. Since leaving Evansville they have taken three out of four at Terre Haute and four straight from Fort Wayne, winning six of their last seven games and securing better than an even break on their long trip. The win here yesterday helped some.

Some big attendance marks are pretty sure to be hung up at Highland during this stay at home. No Dayton team was ever better liked than the present one, and the fans are evincing more interest than they have in years. They are realizing every day that Manager Nee has colected a high-class outfit and that the team is one of the best ever organized in the Central league. During this stay at Highland park the Vets are scheduled for two holiday and two Sunday games. Saturday they are booked for morning and afternoon encounters with the Tots and next Sunday they meet the Springfield club, which is no longer a weakling. On the following Sunday they are to battle Grand Rapids. If some record attendances do not feature the next three series there will be quite a few surprised folks in this section.

"Dutch" Meister is certainly repaying Johnny Nee's faith in his ability with interest. The big fielder is rapidly developing into one of the best hitters on the team and despite his exceptionally poor start is now over the .250 mark and climbing every day. Tuesday he came across with four safe drives out of five trips and is rapidly getting close to the leading swatters in the line-up. As his fielding has been high class all season it is evident Meister is going to be a powerful factor in the success of the Soldier team this year.

Ward Clemens still leads the Vet hitters by a nice margin, but Johnny Nee is surely giving him a battle. Inasmuch as he is the lead off man, Johnny has gone to bat more times than Ward and therefore there as forty-eight points separating the two in the averages, though Clemens has made just four more hits than his boss. These first four men in the line-up certainly loom up like a real wrecking crew. No pitcher has anything like a cinch, when the first four men to face him have respective batting averages of .331, .278, .379 and .310.

Phil Stremmel had his troubles Tuesday, but the big boy is generally so good that a little off day now and then is overlooked. At that Phil must appreciate the difference between this year's club and the 1913 outfit. Last year Stremmel lost game after game, when a few runs would have given him a victory. Now he can be hammered and still win, as his mates are there with the old-fashioned wallop.

BASE BALL PLAYERS ARE NOT ALL REAL VEGETARIANS IF REPORTS ARE TO BE TRUSTED.

By HUGH FULLERTON

A reader wants to know if it is true that most players are vegetarians. Believing there are others who would also like to know what is on the players' bills of fare, here goes:

Ed Reulbach owes much of his wonderful control to cheese, ham and chicken sandwiches. He is a great lover of chicken sandwiches and even misses trains at Cleveland to get them. In extreme cases he also eats egg or fish sandwiches. During the summer, when the Brooklyn club is traveling at night, every time the train stops Reulbach's window is hoisted and his voice can be heard saying:

'Oh, boy, is there any place around here where I can a sandwich?"

Frank Schult, of the Cubs, developed much of his home run hitting power by eating a sandwich and drinking a bottle of beer before retiring. He always retires after one bottle of beer if there are no others.

Zimmerman, the great hitter, loves lobster a la Newberg, and champagne after midnight. They serve to lower his temperature to 166 degrees.

Johnny Evers, of Boston, subsists almost entirely upon fudge. He always carries ten or twelve pounds of it in his trunk on road. Contrary to general belief he does not like crabs. In fact if the waiter places one before him he construes it into an insult.

"Red" Killifer, the famous Philadelphia catcher, attributes his jumping powers to having eaten a kangaroo steak when young.

Larry McLean, of the Giants, loves animals. It is related that as a young man he swallowed a box of animal crackers and preserved them in alcohol so that they might always be with him.

The mistaken impression that John McGraw, the Giant leader, eats raw meat sprinkled with gunpowder is widespread. He prefers Broadway lobster and goose eggs, a la Mathewson.

Connie Mack is a peculiar eater. His breakfast consists of one icicle, his lunch of snowballs and his dinner of Collins' ice cream, Barry's, and Baker's goods; Planked shad and Murphys, which he Lapps up.

Hughie Jennings is very partial to corn on the Cobb.

During the winter the majority of players eat corned beef and cabbage, boiled potatoes, and such simple diet, but immediately upon starting training they change the diet to roast golden pheasant on toast and Russian caviar excepting on occasions when the secretary gives each $1 to buy his own meal. Then they are not hungry, or eat baked beans or a ham sandwich.

HERE'S ANOTHER CAPTAIN.

All the players on the English polo team are experienced and should be able to give a good account of themselves. And as far as a leader goes they all seem to be captains as far as the title goes. Capt. F. W. Barrett is one of the four who will uphold the honor of England.

FIRST RACE FOR HALF MILE TRACK

Motor Driven Machines to Have Chance at a Famous Course.

EXPECT A BIG CROWD

For the first time in the history of a famous race course which has just been revived and reopened, motor-driven racers will appear at Centlivre park on Decoration day, and the half mile course on which some of the great harness racers of a few years ago appeared will be given over to speed events with gasoline supplying the speed.

Eight entries and five events on the card insures that there will be a big attendance as the events held at the Driving park last year made the sport popular. The noted riders who will take part are William Breier, William Rowe, H. E. Thompson, Pineau and C. W. Voss.

Pineau is the loop-the-loop artist who won fame in a dare-devil exhibition at Atlantic City. The only local entry on the list is F. A. Demint. For the last day or two many of the riders have been trying out their machines on the course and they agree that with weather conditions favorable they can get some real speed out of them.

There will be plenty of seating capacity for everybody and the formal opening of the season is expected by the promoters to attract widespread attention.

PENNANT BEE IS BUZZING AROUND

Evansville Has It and Club Play Seems to Justify It.

BEAT THE BILLIKENS

Evansville, Ind., May 29.—That old pennant bee has been buzzin' 'round down in this pocket country for the last ten days or so and the Evansville baseball bug has been stung so hard that there is talk of overhauling Dayton in the chase for the gonfalon and sticking another flag on the pole that has been waiting for many years, as only one Central league emblem ever floated from it.

The fact that the home talent jumped on Harry Martin and his crippled Billikens in the opening game of the series and that on the last home stay the Evas set Dayton back in three of the contests has had more or less to do with the buzzing but local patrons believe that Manager Charles "Punch" Knoll has a good ball club and that he is encouraged by the fact that he is off to a good start in his individual work.

In common with the Vets, the locals have seven games more at home and will tackle Terre Haute following the present series, and it is believed that a position can be maintained that will keep the club in touch with the head of the procession.

This city led last year in the matter of attendnce with a tail-end proposition, and now it is drawing better than ever with a club that is fighting its way right up in the lead and is setting the pace for Dayton. Big crowds are anticipated at both of the games here tomorrow unless bad weather interferes.

Manager Harry Martin is thoroughly discouraged. He attributes most of his trouble to lack of a hard hitting outfield and the fact that Allen did not join the club indicated to his mind that the deal has gone awry and he wired Charley Alberts at Fort Wayne last night asking him to play the outfield for him temporarily. He does not expect to use him permanently as he is probably out of condition, but he wants him so he can relieve his pitching staff, which is having some hard work to do, and which is wavering under the combination of pitching, playing outfield and intense heat.

He did not know why Allen had failed to join the club but his release of Barrett after he found out Tommy Atkins had a broken rib indicates that he expected the dicker for the new man would go through in a hurry. Allen was offered some time ago to Fort Wayne, but for some reason or other was not accepted.

The story of the first game here is a repetition of those in which defeats have been sustained in such rapid succession that they are becoming entirely too common. The lack of that old punch in the pinch is felt every day, and even Ollie Welch, who was turned down for a couple of fielders immensely less valuable than he would be a welcome sight to the pitchers.

True, the Billikens chased Pitcher Gregory in the sixth but this was simply a safety first move on the part of Manager Knoll, as the visitors were at no time more than one run in the lead, and the hurler was removed because the intense heat was telling on him.

George Washington Harden took up the running and held the Billikens in check for the last three rounds. Fort Wayne scored first run in the second inning with two men gone. Beyers, sent to cover center field in place of Bramble, who was the pitching selection, negotiated a double and Smykal followed with a single that enabled the runner to complete the circuit.

In the last half of the third Kibble bunted and beat the throw, Stratton sacrificed and the pitcher went down easily, but Tepe hit over the fence for a homer and scored with Kibble. Three were added in the fifth. With one gone, Stratton, Gregory and Tepe got safe hits, Matthews hit through the infield, scoring two, and Bratchi's throw to third went wild and let in another. Smykal hit for a home run in the sixth after Beyers had been passed and two runs resulted but one in the eighth and another in the ninth were added to the Evansville collection and th game was never in danger.

FISHER RELYING ON HIS ALMANAC

Says It Never Fails and It Promises Good Speedway Weather.

ALL SET FOR GOING

Indianapolis, May 29.—With thirty of the world's fastest cars in line, the annual 500 mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway Decoration day only needs good weather to make it perfect. Concerning the latter contingency, Carl Fisher, head of the organization staging the event, says he has no fear, his old standby De Voe's weather almanac, having predicted a clear sky.

De Voe has never played him false, Fisher says, and, therefore, he is willing to gamble on his judgment, despite the assertion of meteorological experts, who declare it is impossible to tell anything about the matter more than twenty-four hours ahead.

All of the races held on the speedway to date have been run under most favorable circumstances, even though bad weather was common in the immediate vicinity. On one occasion it rained as close as twenty-five miles round, the scene of the race, however, remained undisturbed.

Almost as important as fair weather is the temperature, as on this depends very largely whether the present record, held by Dawson, is broken or not. Tires stand up well only if kept cool. The amount of heat generated by the track, therefore, is vital.

On this subject De Voe again has to impart some very interesting information, predicting a hot, sultry contest, with lots of warmth before and after. If this prognostication should hold good, Dawson's mark is liable to remain untouched, even though the aspirants to his crown are much faster.

Speed on a hot day may go so far as to prove a handicap rather than a help, tempting a driver to travel faster than he ought, and thus fetching him to the pits for tire changes much oftener than necessary. During one of these moments a more conservative competitor is liable to slip ahead and win.

The crowd at the contest seems assured, advance seat sales being about 40 per cent. ahead of last season, though there are still a good many desirable locations to be had. Approximately 100,000 people are expected.

Indianapolis hotel and rooming facilities are ample to take care of every demand, even in the event of a postponement to the following Monday, the speedway and the newspapers co-operating to accommodate all visitors. None need roam for want of a place to lay his head.

Even so, there will be many to decorate the streets the entire night before the contest, many old-timers priding themselves on their ability to stay up and greet the dawn the morning of the race, fresh as daisies, and ready for the time of their lives.

A more cosmopolitan gathering is seldom seen at a sporting event. From all parts of the world they come—London, Calcutta and Swayzee. High and low mingle in a motley throng that is unrivalled anywhere in the world for color and brilliancy. Motor cars by the thousands are parked in the speedway enclosure. It is the largest annual display of automobiles on the face of the globe.

The field is altogether the most formidable ever brought together for a gasoline contest, five nations being represented among the cars, and four among the drivers. Prior to the elimination trials Wednesday there were six, the defection of Italy's hope, the Isotta, being responsible for the reduction.

Chances in the race are thought to be evenly divided among Peugeot, Sunbeam, Delage, Maxwell and Mercer, with a slight shade, perhaps, in favor of the first named, because of their superior showing in practice. Maxwell's lap of 1:33:40, registered by Tetzlaff Tuesday, easily placed it among the leaders, odds dropping at a phenomenal rate against it.

Others with a good chance are Stutz, Marmon, Burman, Bugatti, Excelsior and Mercedes, with the Keeton, Mason and Duesenbergs as strong contenders. Dark horses are the King, Gray Fox, Ray, Beaver, Bullet and Braender.

IT SURE IS A HOT DAY!

An Everyday View of the Next Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, MAY 31, 1914.

Topic, "The Grateful Samaritan"—Luke 17:11-19. Golden text, "Were there none found that returned to give glory to God save this stranger?"—Luke 17:18.

The writers of this lesson saw a mile of lepers on an Easter Sunday, sitting in the dust along the roadside leading to Mount Olive. The sight of them and the sound of their voices can never be effaced from our memory.

It is quite probable that among the many blessings which we count in this favored land of ours, we have failed to thank God that there is so little leprosy within our borders. The United States public health service reported in 1911 having found 278 lepers; of these 145 were foreign born and 13 were of unknown nativity. By contrast we are told by the Mission to Lepers that a conservative estimate places the number of lepers in India at 250,000, and that Japan has at least 30,000 leprous families; that China; Korea and Siam are seriously affected with this terrible scourge. Dr. Jewell says: "The disease is incurable by any means at present known." But Jesus Christ cured leprosy. He cured it simply by his touch (Matt. 8:1-3; Mark 1:40-45; Luke 5:13-15). He cured simply by his word of power (Luke 17:11-19). And when Jesus sent out his disciples two by two he gave them power to heal lepers (Matt. 10:5-8).

The Mission to Lepers is now supporting or in some form helping 11,200 lepers and their children. This work was reported at the world's Sunday school convention at Zurich in July, 1913, when it was stated: "The readiness with which these stricken people respond to the 'Christ treatment,' as it has well been called, is evident from the fact that there are today in connection with the society's stations 3,940 Christian converts, all of them, it should be remembered, coming into our asylums without hope, and often degraded and ignorant heathen." There are about 3,000 scholars in leper Sunday schools connected with the mission. It is the custom in India to have examinations of the 500,000 Sunday school scholars once a year. We were told at the Zurich convention that one leper boy received the highest marks for his examination of any Sunday school scholar in India. And so lepers have noble souls even if they have terribly sick bodies, and it certainly appears that it is our privilege and our duty to do something for them—to pray for them and to send gifts of money for their relief and uplift.

One of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed all at once by the word of his power was thankful. The whole ten had called out to Jesus from the tombs and the rocks where they were in exile, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!" as he was passing through the land to Jerusalem. "Go and show yourselves unto the priests," he had replied. They knew well the import of his words—that when they should stand in the presence of the priests they would have no more leprsy. They believed the words of Jesus, and started on their way—nine of them to go to the Hebrew priests in Jerusalem, and one to the high priest in Samaria, for he was a Samaritan. "As they went, they were cleansed"—made well. The Samaritan, when he felt the thrill of health in his body, felt also the thrill of gratitude in his soul. He turned back, singing a loud song of praise, glorifying God, and when he reached again the place where Jesus was, he fell at his feet and gave him thanks. The nine Hebrew lepers and the one Samaritan leper came at length to their respective priests, and received from them the seal that their leprosy was healed.

Obedience and gratitude, twin stars, may shine in every human breast. Only one—obedience—beamed in the nine others, but both shone in the heart of the Samaritan leper.

We are not all lepers, but we are all sinners and in need of cleansing. The great question is, "How shall we be cleansed?" The answer echoes back to our waiting hearts, "As they went, they were cleansed." Many things about the way of obedience are hard to be understood when studied before we reach them, but as we go we shall learn that faithful living is the shortest and surest way to full believing. We can easily imagine the ten lepers saying to Jesus when he had bidden them "go to the priests:" "The priests have just sent us forth with orders never to come into their presence again unless perchance we should recover, but we dare not return until you heal us." But they said nothing—they simply obeyed, and "as they went, they were cleansed."

Let us take courage, and whatever doubts, dangers or anxieties seem to pursue or await us in the path of duty, let us be assured that we have only to obey God's commands, and the way shall constantly be made clear before us. George Macdonald has said: "If we obey God, we shall come to love him and trust him; and there is no other way to get faith in God and love for God than by obeying him." Let us obey our heavenly Father as good children obey their earthly father. A railroad man in Prussia was holding on to a switch with both hands, as was necessary in order to keep the switch in proper position for an approaching express train, when he saw his five-year-old boy walking up the track toward the locomotive. The switchman knew that if he should let the switch go it would mean destruction to the train, so he shouted to his boy, "Lie down!" The lad obeyed at once; the train passed over him and he was not hurt in the least. That is the kind of obedience we must yield to our Father in heaven if we would be safe. Job, in the midst of fiery trials, exclaimed: Though he slay me, yet will I trust him" (Job 13:15).

"Trust and obey, for there is no other way."

Then go heart-forward, bearing the banner of obedience.

But the star of gratitude did not shine in the hearts of the nine lepers, and so they missed half of the sweetness of being healed. How joyful was the way of the man who returned to thank Jesus for the healing he had received! There was no detention for the turning back, for his step was afterward more buoyant and quick, strengthened by love and happiness.

Listen to the story, told by Ian Maclaren, of a little blind girl in whose heart the star of gratitude was brightly shining:

"'If I dinna see'—and she spoke as if this were a matter of doubt and she were making a concession for argument's sake—'there's naebody in the Glen can hear like me. There's no a footstep of a Drumtochty man comes to the door but I ken his name, and there's no voice oot on the road that I canna tell. The birds sing sweeter to me than to onybody else, and I can hear them cheeping to one another in the bushes before they go to sleep. And the flowers smell sweeter to me—the roses and the carnations and the bonny moss-rose—and I judge that the oat-cake and milk taste the richer because I dinna see them. Na, na, ye're no to think that I've been ill-treated by my God, for if he didna give me ae thing, he gave me mony (many).

"'And, mind ye, it's no as if I'd seen once and lost my sight; that micht ha' been a trial, and my faith micht ha' failed. I've lost naething; my life has been all getting.'"

An incident in the life of Florence Nightingale, the world-famed English army nurse, discloses a gleam from the star of gratitude shining upon a human friend. A Highland soldier was about to undergo an operation. Miss Nightingale asked that the operation might be delayed, as she thought careful nursing might render it unnecessary. Through her unremitting care the man's arm was saved; and when asked what he felt toward his preserver, he said that "the only mode he had of giving vent to his feelings was to kiss her shadow when it fell on his pillow as she passed through the wards on her nightly rounds."

Should we not love to honor the very name of Jesus as we remember that he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness? (I. John 1:9.) He cleansed lepers, he cleansed sinners and is still cleansing them. Have you cried out, "Master, have mercy on us," as did the lepers? Will you be as obedient as they were? Will you be as grateful as the Samaritan leper?

We are told that a missionary in India had rendered some kindly attentions to a sick and dying Hindu woman. Seeking in some way to express her gratitude, the poor woman said: "I am soon to die, and I hope that I may be so favored that I shall be born again as a dog, that I may come back and follow you." Poor soul, how dimmed was the star of gratitude shining in her! How she needed the heavenly atmosphere of the Lord Jesus Christ! The poet Lillo writes:

"When gratitude o'erflows the swelling heart,
And breathes in free and uncorrupted praise
For benefits received, propitious heaven
Takes such acknowledgment as fragrant incense

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers should apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Marie" writes: "I would like a remedy for a pimply, oily skin. I suffer from constipation, headache and indigestion."

Answer: Get from your druggist 3-grain sulpherb tablets and take according to directions. These tablets are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions for using. I have found them to be the most reliable in such ailments as arise from constipation. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines, and if taken regularly will relieve your constipation and purify the blood, thus causing your skin to become clear. These are fine for children, as they do not sicken.

"Mary"—You can easily correct your little girl of bed wetting by mixing 1 oz. of comp. fluid balmwort, 2 drams tincture rhus-aromatic and 1 dram tincture cubebs. Mix thoroughly and give in water about one hour before each meal, 10 to 15 drops.

"C. G. O." writes: "I am constantly hawking and spitting on account of a bad case of catarrh and would like your advice to overcome it."

Answer: I always prescribe antiseptic vilane powder, which you can obtain in either a 2 or 8-ounce box with full directions. The results please all who try it.

"Sadie" says: " misplaced the prescription you sent me for dandruff and itching scalp. Will you please send it again?"

Answer: There is nothing better for dandruff and itching scalp than plain yellow minyol, which is sold in 4 oz. jars at any well-stocked drug store. Use this according to directions and you will soon be relieved of all diseases of the hair and scalp.

"Nina B." writes: "Please advise me what to take to overcome extreme thinness. My arms and bust have no development and my face is so thin that it is positively homely, although my features are regular."

Answer: Many ladies would be much more beautiful if they were somewhat fleshier, and as an increased weight is possible it is the duty of every woman to be always at her best. Begin taking 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets, which are obtained in sealed cartons with directions, and continue until your weight is satisfactory. Frequently a two-months' treatment adds 15 to 30 pounds, besides adding more color to the checks and lips and a sparkle to the eyes.

"Mrs. O." writes: "Kindly publish again the prescription for rheumatism which you gave to 'Ted' some time ago."

Answer: I shall be very glad to repeat the formula. Get at the drug store the following ingredients and mix yourself, taking a teaspoonful at meal times and at bedtime. Iodide of potassium, two drams, sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; comp essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 6 ozs. This is my favorite prescription for rheumatism.

"Charlotte" writes: "Some time ago you answered through your columns telling "Marie" how to cure bad cough and cold. Will you kindly repeat the formula?"

Answer: I shall be very glad to repeat the formula for you. Get from your druggist a 2½-oz. package of essence mentholaxene and mix with honey or homemade sugar syrup and take according to directions given on the bottle. This is a very mild laxative and will surely overcome your cold in a few days at most. It is absolutely harmless and very pleasant to take.

"P. B." writes: "What can you prescribe to relieve dyspepsia, which annoys me very much? I have pains and heavy lumplike feeling after eating, sourrisings, nausea, etc."

Answer: A three-course treatment, triopeptine tablets, is very effective in relieving and permanently overcoming stomach distress due to indigestion.

"John W." writes: "Being past middle age and observing that my nervous system is in bad shape, I write for a prescription. I do not gain strength from my food, am weak, listless, forgetful, sleepless at times, tired and unable to act the part of a strong man of health, such as I was at one time."

Answer: Get from a well-stocked pharmacy a sealed tube of 8-grain cadomene tablets, which are especially made for those needing a strong, harmless, rejuvenating tonic. Astonishing and pleasing results follow and life and hope are renewed.

"Mrs. De V." asks: "I should like to ask you how one can reduce the weight. I am too large, and last summer suffered on account of excessive fat. Can you advise a remedy, harmless and safe?"

Answer: I have frequently prescribed a liquid remedy, but, owing to its disagreeable taste, I am now prescribing the same formula in a tablet form. It is called 5-grain arbolone tablets and is sold by druggists in sealed tubes with full directions for home use. I advise anyone who is too fleshy to try this excellent tablet.

Mr. C. P. writes: "What shall I do to relieve a severe case of kidney and bladder disease? Urine is dark, foul of odor, and passage is irregular, painful, etc. Have depression, fever, chills, pains like rheumatism, and soreness in region of bladder."

Answer: For such symptoms as you describe, I prescribe my favorite formula, under the name of balmwort tablets. This is a splendidly efficacious remedy for such abnormal conditions. Begin their use at once as per directions on each sealed tube.

PENNSY VETERAN IS TO RETIRE

Purchasing Agent H. L. Hukill Pensioned After 54 Years' Service.

TEAM TRACKS AT UNION STREET

Pennsylvania Makes Improvement for the Contractors and Jobbers.

Notice of a change that will take place June 1 in the higher ranks of the Pennsylvania have been received at the local offices of the company. On that date H. L. Hukill, who reached the age of seventy May 25, will be retired from the office of general purchasing agent of the Pennsylvania. W. G. Phelps, assistant to Mr. Hukill, will succeed him as general purchasing agent and Charles E. Walsh will become assistant to Mr. Phelps. Mr. Walsh has been chief clerk of the purchasing department for a number of years and in that capacity made frequent visits to Fort Wayne. Mr. Hukill began work for the Pennsylvania when he was sixteen years old—fifty-four years ago—and has remained in the service since. May 25 a testimonial banquet was given at one of the club rooms in Pittsburg in his honor and the big attendance attested to the popularity of the man in railway circles as well as with the manufacturers and others who furnish lumber, steel and other supplies to the company.

NORTHLAND LIMITED.

Famous Resort Train Goes Into Service June 5.

Notices that the semi-weekly service of the Northland limited, over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, will begin one week from today, June 5, and run throughout the month on the following schedule have been received here: Northward on Fridays, June 5, 12, 19 and 26 and on Tuesdays, June 9, 16 and 23; and southward on Sundays, June 7, 14, 21 and 28 and Thursdays, June 11, 18 and 25. This train will probably become daily early in July and continue on that schedule the balance of the summer season. It caters to through business from the south, southeast and southwest to Petoskey, Mackinac and other points in northern Michigan.

DECORATION TRAVEL HEAVY.

Pennsylvania Runs Some Trains in Two Sections.

There was a heavy passenger business on all trains through Fort Wayne today, due chiefly to Decoration day travel, though much travel was towards Indianapolis over the north and south lines, on account of the automobile races tomorrow. The Pennsylvania train No. 23, the westbound Manhattan limited, ran in two sections because of the heavy through travel. Among the additional cars in the trains were four extra Pullman cars carrying passengers from Washington and one Pullman loaded with passenges from New York.

PUTTING IN NEW TEAM TRACK.

The Pennsylvania company's maintenance of way department is engaged in putting in two team tracks on its property at Union street. These tracks will have a capacity of eighteen cars and are designed for jobbers, contractors and others in handling brick, stone, street and building material. The work also involves the construction of 150 feet of retaining wall extending from College street to the first alley west of that street. The switch for the team tracks will be located at College street and the descent will be gradual until it reaches the street level near Union street. H. W. Tapp has the contract of putting in the retaining wall and now has a gang of men and teams at work making the excavation. The wooden retaining wall at the old depot and freight house was completed this morning.

WILL BE BURIED AT DEFIANCE.

The remains of Bridge Foreman E. B. Dills, who lost his life Wednesday afternoon at Delphi, were taken to Defiance last night. The funeral will be held from the family home in that city tomorrow at 2 o'clock and will be attended largely by men in the maintenance of way department of the Wabash at Fort Wayne, Peru and elsewhere where the deceased was so well known. Jacob Wendell, another victim of that accident, will be buried in the cemetery near his old home in Huntington county.

TWO MEN INJURED.

Earl Havens, of the Electric works, sustained a most painful cut across the right forearm yesterday when a piece of moulding fixture fell from the ceiling and struck him. The wound bled profusely and Dr. Schultz had to take several stitches in closing it. Another accident at the Electric works happened this morning. Some substance was thrown in the eye of A. J. Seiverts, head janitor at the office, cutting the optic painfully. He will be unable to work for a few days.

FATHER DIES IN CHICAGO.

Pennsylvania Fireman George A. Case received a telegram from Chicago this morning stating that his father, A. J. Case, died in a hospital, following a surgical operation, last night. The deceased resided at Valparaiso and the remains will be taken there for burial. Fireman and Mrs. George Case will go to Chicago tonight to take charge of the remains and take them to Valparaiso.

SPECIAL FOR ELECTRICIANS.

Eastbound Manhattan limited train No. 22, on the Pennsylvania, will run in two sections Sunday. The second section will carry delegates from the western country to the National Electric Light Association to Philadelphia, where the annual convention of the association will be held next week. There will be 250 people aboard the train, which will stop only to exchange engines between Chicago and Philadelphia.

QUITS SHOPS FOR BUSINESS.

H. F. Wellman resigned his position at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shops this morning. He will engage in business with his father and cousin, Undertakers Wellman & Wellman. H. F. Wellman was employed in the Pennsylvania shops five years.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. E. Mills, G. R. & I. engineer, is sick and off duty.

The Bartenders' union will hereafter meet at 619 North Calhoun street, in quarters formerly occupied by the Strollers' club.

A. B. Criswell, an inspector for the Baltimore and Ohio company, inspected 100 car wheels for that company at the Bass Foundry and Machine works today.

Brakeman J. D. Collins, of the Pennsylvania, received a gash in the head last night when he bumped against the iron lid of the tool box as he was crawling into the cab over the tender. Dr. Bud Van Sweringen dressed the wound, which was not severe.

An unidentified man, with one leg cut off at the hips and other mutilation of the body, was discovered by a Wabash section gang three miles west of Wabash yesterday. The man had been dead only a short time and his clothing indicated that he had been in the navy. He had been riding the "bumpers" and fell from the train.

DECATUR NEWS.

Decatur, Ind., May 29.—The funeral of Godfrey Apple, 88, a civil war veteran, will be held Sunday afternoon at the Salem church.

Rev. D. T. Stephenson and W. H. Fledderjohann left for Hudson, where they will speak on church matters.

R. D. Patterson returned here from Bluffton, where he visited with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Bell, and other relatives.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

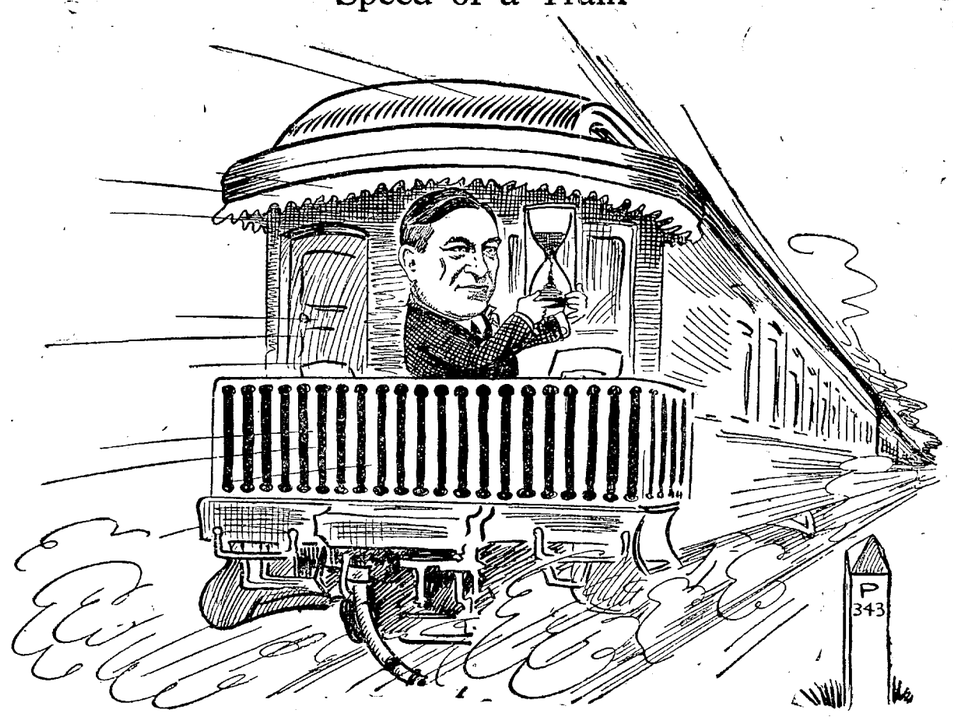
Supt. J. F. Patterson and His Alleged Method of Recording Speed of a Train



Supt. Jesse F. Patterson of the Peoria division of the Vandalia system was the surprised recipient of a magnificent solid gold case, Howard movement, watch at noon today. The present came from the conductors and brakemen of the Western division of the Pennsylvania, of which Mr. Patterson was the trainmaster for so many years, and the scene of the presentation was the assembly room of the new passenger station, where upwards of sixty of the train men and other friends of Mr. Patterson had assembled. Mr. Patterson came up from Decatur last night to look after some affairs connected with the removal of his family to that city and was to leave at 12:50 o'clock over the Wabash for Decatur. In the meantime he had arranged to entertain Mr. Wardrop and Division Engineer Guy Scott at lunch at the Pennsylvania restaurant and just before entering the dining room, he was invited up to the assembly room, which he had not yet seen, where the presentation was immediately made, Supt. W. M. Wardrop being the orator. Mr. Wardrop said in part:

"Mr. Patterson, this meeting is assembled to clean up a grievance which dates from the fifth day of last August. Mr. Hamilton, out of deference to your personal connection with the affair, has very properly refused to take any part in it. The men claim that you were aboard passenger extra 7376, which was a continuation of train 84 from Columbia City to Fort Wayne, in charge of C. W. Larimore and A. J. Zurbuch, and that upon your arrival at Fort Wayne these men were subjected to reprimand for having exceeded the published speed restrictions at various points within the territory mentioned.

"Other cases have been cited by way of illustration in support of the contention on the part of our passenger trainmen and passenger enginemen that they have been called to the office, reprimanded, in some cases, suspended in others, but unpardonably abused in every instance.

"There has been absolutly no allegation that the punishment was harsh or unnecessarily severe in proportion to the offense. The appeal in every case having been based upon the plea of decidedly 'not guilty.'

"The case of Mr. Larimore and Mr. Zurbuch has been selected merely as an illustration of all of the others. These gentlemen claim that the speed limit was not exceeded in any respect; that no evidence was submitted which would indicate that their train passed over any point at an uncomfortable rate of speed, or at a rate which was in excess of the imposed restriction, and they state further, under oath, that it is positively known to them that at the time the observations were taken you were in possession of no adequate means or instrument for measuring either the passage of distance or the lapse of time.

"In support of this contention these gentlemen have submitted an accurate representation of the method employed in obtaining the data of which they complain. This paper has been marked 'Exhibit A' and is to be made a part of the official proceedings of this meeting. Nothing could more clearly demonstrate the crudeness of the apparatus employed in reaching the conclusions upon which your disciplinary action is alleged to have been based.

"Therefore, the men here assembled, after grave consideration, have decided that ordinary interest in humanity demands of them their best efforts in the prevention of the abuses which have been enumerated, and with this thought in mind, they have seen fit to procure and provide for your future use an instrument which is guaranteed by both the maker and the jobber to be capable of accurately measuring the lapse of time in a given distance, and I am authorized to say that if this device is wound at least once in each twenty-four hour period, it is guaranteed to tick approximately as often as a good wish goes from the Western division to the superintendent of the Peoria division."

When the speaker referred to the antiquated time piece carried by Mr. Patterson, he drew from a draw a cartoon drawn on a large cardboard of which the above is a miniature reproduction, and placed it upon the table in such manner that it could be seen by most of those in the room. At the close of his remarks Mr. Wardrop handed the handsome case enclosing the watch to Mr. Patterson.

The presentation was a complete surprise and the recipient was greatly affected, but he managed to appropriately express his appreciation of the sentiment which prompted the gift and of the token itself. In explanation of his attachment to the Ingersoll watch he carried, Mr. Patterson said: "It is the associations that make it valuable to me. It once belonged to a warm friend. He put it up at raffle in 1893. I bought a ticket for forty-nine cents and that was the winner."

The new watch bears on its back a most elegantly engraved monogram. J. F. P., and on the inner side of the case the legend, "Presented to J. F. Patterson by Friends on the Western Division of the Pennsylvania May 28, 1914." After the presentation, the "boys" crowded around Mr. Patterson to shake hands and to personally wish him well in his new office and home.

MONSTER CROWD FOR FIELD DAY

Annual Physical Exhibition of Public Schools is Success.

NOT MUCH CONFUSION

Two thousand children who are pupils of the public schools, assembled on the field at one time and each class executing simultaneous drills is only one of the many interesting features of the public school field day in session at Centlivre park.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at the park is witnessing the work and play of the children and with a regularity that is pleasing the program of events is being carried out in a highly successful manner under the direction of Professor Henry Meyer, physical director of the public schools and his assistant, Miss Carrie Snively.

Absence of Confusion.

The track event officials are handling the children in excellent manner and there is said to be a marked absence of confusion and the usual excitement on the part of the smaller pupils taking part in the field events. The closing number on the day's program, a mass drill, will place 2,000 pupils on the field simultaneously. Mr. Russell is presiding as clerk of the field events and Mr. Coats is judge of the take-off while the judges for the finishes are Dr. Leach and Mr. Croninger. Mr. Agnew and Mr. Strobel are the scorers.

Scorers in the track events are Mr. Rathert and Mr. Simminger and the judges are Messrs. Leuenberger, Stirwalt and Carter. Dr. Gillie and Dr. Schulz are the timers and Mr. Thomas is attending to all starts. Mr. Werremeyer is clerk of the course. The music is furnished by the Elks' band.

How They Are Handled.

Owing to the tremendous traffic to Centlivre park and in order to get all of the children on the grounds for the opening number, it was necessary for the traction company to begin carting the little ones to the park at 11 o'clock Friday morning. At 1:15 o'clock this afternoon sixty cars were operated to the park, and there was scarcely a seat left unoccupied on any of them.

Had Been Well Drilled.

The children had been well drilled in rehearsals and when those who are participating in the different events reached the grounds, they were handled by grades with teachers in charge of each of the classes.

Field day for the public schools was inaugurated in 1909 when it was determined that the parents of children in the public schools needed some such demonstration of the physical training their children are put through during the daily routine of school work. It was with this in mind that Professor Meyer conducted the first field day and each year the attendance at these annual exhibitions has steadily increased.

'PHONE SECRETS WRECK TO BLISS

WIFE NOW SUES HIM

Chicago, May 29.—Secrets of other men's wives, their petty deceits and "white lies" have wrecked the marital happiness of Mr. and Mrs. E. Palmer Hubbard.

Sound-proof telephone booths would have prevented their troubles, but that variety was not known in the drugstore operated by Hubbard at East Thirty-first street and South Michigan avenue

Women of the neighborhood used the telephones. Some of them were married. Hubbard could not help overhearing. And the result was that "he learned about women from them" and went home and beat his wife.

Mrs. Hubbard is the authority for all this in a bill for divorce filed yesterday. She charges that Hubbard "pinched, choked, kicked and otherwise abused her." She contends that her husband is a woman hater and that the actions of other men's wives are responsible for his attitude of mind.

"The things he overheard from those telephone booths made him cynical. He wouldn't trust any woman now. He's a woman hater," explained Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Hubbard is a milliner, with a shop at 347 East Thirty-first street, four blocks from her husband's store. Before she married Hubbard she belonged to an opera company. They had known each other from childhood and in 1907 they went to Crown Point and were wedded.

As for Mrs. Hubbard, she wouldn't marry the best man on earth now, not unless "he was 100 years old, feeble and as rich as Rockefeller."

So there's one thing the Hubbards agree on. They are not fond of the opposite sex. For several months they have resided in rooms that do not connect, at 3117 South Park avenue.

REAL ESTATE WAS ACTIVE FOR WEEK

Several Big Deals in Land Attract Considerable Attention.

THE BANK CLEARINGS

All banks and trust companies and business houses of the city will be closed Saturday in observance of Decoration day and in view of the fact, Friday marks closing of this week's business activity. Several of the stores will remain open this evening for the accommodation of patrons who usually do their weekly shopping at the end of the week.

Real estate in Fort Wayne took a decided boom early this week, especially in residence property and two of the big transactions follow closely on the heels of the platting of the old Bond homestead in South Wayne. William Noll, of the Pinex company, paid $25,000 for three lots on Fairfield avenue, and Herman Freiburger bought the G. E. Bursley homestead in the same locality for the sum of $16,000. Another deal of the week was reported when the Meyer Bros. Drug company paid $13,000 for three lots on the southwest corner of Broadway and Taylor streets.

Contractors say business is ideal for the season of the year and weather conditions could not be better for the activity in building. In almost every portion of the city this is manifested by the number of new structures under course of construction. Merchants also take an optimistic view of business conditions since the arrival of warm weather increased the demand for all sorts of goods.

The Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings in Fort Wayne this week amounted to a total of $1,115,734.16, against $1,252,425.16 for the previous week and $1,032,128.38 for the corresponding week a year ago. Balances amounted to $136,985.09 and daily clearances were as follows:

Monday	$256,432.10
Tuesday	202,264.21
Wednesday	206,740.67
Thursday	234,882.32

JAIL SENTENCES STICK THIS TIME

NEWS OF THE POLICE

In the city court Judge Kerr has inaugurated a new and more drastic policy of dealing with persons caught in disorderly houses. For keeping a house of ill-fame Cora Manuel was fined $30 and costs and given thirty days in jail. Laura Gilmore and Alice Fields, for prostitution, and John Robinson and Charles Frazier, for associating, were given $15 and fifteen days in jail each. All five are colored and they were taken in in a raid made at 2 o'clock Friday morning on the house at 124 Eureka street, the old red light district. A squad led by Sergeant Nave and made up of Officers Coulter, Harris, Byerle, Ellyson and Keintz pulled the place. Each colored man was in a room with a colored woman under circumstances that left no doubt of the character of the resort. The two men and Alice Fields pleaded guilty. Mrs. Manuel said she rented the rooms to the men by the week and that one of them had represented himself and the woman to be married. There was no register kept. The same place was raided a short time ago and the Manuel woman's husband is still in jail, laying out a heavy fine and costs.

Thief Gets Jailed This Time.

Charles McManus who, a few days ago, was given an indefinite continuance after pleading guilty to petit larceny, got $10 and costs and thirty days added upon pleading guilty to a similar charge. On the former occasion he stole some brooms from the McKiernan grocery, on Grand street, and sold them to saloonkeepers in the neighborhood. Thursday afternoon he stole a bicycle belonging to Charles Hoffman, taking the wheel from in front of the Hoffman house, on Calhoun street, and rode it to the east end, where he sold it for $3 to a workingman. Officer Murphy saw the transaction, and suspecting that the wheel had been stolen, sent McManus in. He has a wife who earns the family living.

Transferred Fight to the Street.

Joe Riley and John Callahan, with five or six other fellows, foregathered in a saloon near the transfer corner Friday morning and finally the crowd got up a bet for the drinks as to who weighed the most. This started things and Riley and Callahan transferred their mill to the street. They were arrested by Traffic Officer Lauer and slated for drunkenness. Riley went over for eleven days and Callahan's case was continued until Saturday.

Family Affairs Aired in Court.

Ed Schneider, his wife and two of his daughters were in court and aired the family affairs when he was tried on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Schneider. There was no doubt of disorder in the Schneider home at 1916 Thomas street, and no question that Schneider had created much of it. The question of blame was not so easy of determination. There is a case of son-in-law in the affair. It was shown that Schneider works hard all the time and gives practically all of his wages to his wife. Judge Kerr continued the case until June 6 and released Schneider on his own recognizance in the hope that peace may be restored at the fireside.

Larceny Case Postponed.

The hearing of Mrs. Florence Reinhart on a charge of larceny was continued to June 4, the defease not being ready for trial. Mrs. Reinhart is accused of stealing a ring valued at $7 from Mrs. Emily May, 821 Clinton street, with whom Mrs. Reinhart and her husband boarded for a time. Mrs. Reinhart was arrested Thursday evening by Detective Sergeant Peter Junk, who recovered the ring. Mrs. Reinhart says she merely borrowed the ring and wholly denies stealing other articles she is accused of taking from the home of Mrs. May.

Other City Court Cases.

John Garrison, who got loose Monday on a larceny charge to give him a chance to make good and was arrested Wednesday when found dead drunk on the poarch of a West Creighton avenue residence, was given $5 and costs, which will keep him in jail for fifteen days, unless friends help him.

Frank Stanley, Tom Brennan, William Haggerty and John Clem, drunks, got $1 and costs each. Clem paid and the others went over for eleven days. Oliver McCoy, Walter Evans and Edward Stirling, drunks, were turned loose. William Brown, with much of his left, was held under $25 bond until Saturday.

Harry Fernwell, a city laborer, who had been held for several days on a drunk charge, to give him a chance to ward off an attack of tremens, was in better shape and was released.

CONDITION IS IMPROVED.

Roger Bill, Struck by a Train at Walton Avenue Crossing, Doing Nicely.

Roger Bill, the 2½-year-old son of Ernest Bill, of 1707 Walton avenue, who was struck by a C., H. & D. engine at Walton avenue crossing Thursday night at 6 o'clock, is doing nicely and there is no doubt in the mind of the attending physician that the boy will recover. The little fellow is suffering from several bad bruises on the head and a deep cut in the leg.

The little Bill boy had strayed away from the front yard where he had been playing and went toward the railroad trackk. Freight train No. 684 was moving eastward at a rate of about ten miles an hour, according to the story of the crew in charge, and the little boy walked out from behind some bushes and J. M. Looker, of Findlay, O., the fireman, ran out on the footboard and raced ahead of the engine in an effort to save the child.

The engineer immediately applied the airbrakes and put on the reverse, which in all probability saved the child's life. The crew picked up the unfortunate little fellow and took him to his home, where Dr. Schneider was called. Later, Dr. McHugh, the family physician, arrived and took charge.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, May 29—Although rumors that shorts might suffer a squeeze today in the wheat pit aroused considerable interest in developments said to point the other way. Prices opened the same as last night to ⅜c higher in sympathy with firm cables. These was a slight further advance and then all of the gain was gradually wiped out.

Further rains in Argentina gave the corn market a lift. The opening was unchanged to ⅝c higher, was followed by an adidtional bulge except in May, for which seemed to be but little demand.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 29.—In the main stocks were inclined to sag during today's early operations which were to a more than ordinarily restricted character. The only active issue to show underlying strength was Missouri Pacific, with a gain of a point for the stock and as much for the convertible bonds, implying a satisfactory outcome of the note extension plan. Canadian Pacific, selling ex-dividend lost a little more than a point despite the reported disaster to one of its steamships. United States Steel, C. & O., B. & O. and Metal shares declined material fractions.

Although there was no pressure to sell, stocks moved toward a lower level as the session advanced. To the average speculator the federal government's attitude in the matter of anti-trust legislation and railroad investigation was regarded as somewhat disconcerting.

More gold for Europe was under negotiation. Bonds were easy.

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

(Furnished by J. S. Phillips, North American Building, Fort Wayne, Ind.)

Chicago, May 29.—Wheat is held up mainly by firmness of European markets. Russia and America are the only sources of supply and the average early June break of 2c to 2½c should be enough. Crop news suggests the winter crop has lost 9 per cent. during May. At 18½ par yield the promise would be 570,000,000 bushels, but the government will use a 19⅓ par. Last June the winter promise was 492,000,000 and the total promise was 744,000,000. Past June history favors the idea that corn and oats will not develop any break of consequence in the coming June. Kansas wheat guesses are still the marvel of the 1914 crop year. They run up to 200,000,000. Argentine continues a feeble corn shipper, and will be small corn exporter for several weeks. Corn is mainly a domestic proposition and country reserves are low. June oats condition does not promise above 84 or 85 and half of the oats belt still requires rains. Prices of stocks at 2:45 p. m. as follows:

Atchison, 97⅛; Smelter, 63⅝; Copper, 72½; Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 93¼; B. & O., 91⅞; Canadian Pacific, 195⅛; Erie, 29; Great Northern, 124⅝; Missouri Pacific, 18½; New York Central, 92½; Northern Pacific, 110⅞; Pennsylvania, 111⅜; Reading, 165⅝; St. Paul, 100¼; Southern Pacific, 94⅞; Union Pacific, 158; United States Steel, 62⅞.

The market closed steady today. Such insignificant changes as occurred in the market were recorded in the final dealings when, without any greater activity, prices of leading issues rose to their best. The recovery, it may be assumed, resulted more from covering of short contracts than from any definite influence.

COUNTY BUILDING CLOSED SATURDAY

Officials Will Pay Due Respect to Day Sacred to Nation's Dead.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

The Allen county court house will be closed Decoration day in honor of the time sacred to the memory of the nation's heroic dead. All the offices will be closed all day and the officials, their deputies and clerks and all attaches of the building will take a holiday. Sheriff Gladieux may have some one about his office a short time in the morning to meet any emergencies that may arise.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

George Shondell Given Possession of His Children.

In the circuit court after hearing habeas corpus proceedings brought by George Shondell against Hattie Shondell his divorsed wife, for possession of his three children, Judge Eggeman ordered the little ones turned over to him. They will be provided with proper homes.

The divorce suit of Nichols vs. Nichols has been dismissed from the superior court.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court by Anna E. Lahrman aginst Charles Lahrman, the plaintiff says her husband refused to engage in labor about the farm and relied upon his children to get things done while he came to the city and idled his time. He also is charged with using vile and profane language in the presence of his wife and children and uttered threats against their lives, carrying a revolver with which he meant to wipe out the whole family when he got a chance. She further charges that once he tried to slash her with a knife and that he beat her and the children.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Helen R. Widner sues Elda J. McKown on a complaint which charges that the defendant sold to the plaintiff a lot of furniture for a rooming house at 242 Baker street, representing that the house was doing a business of $18 a week or $80 a month. Th sale was executed April 9, 1914, $450 being paid, part down. A few days later the plaintiff says she discovered the house was not at the time of sale nor for a long time prior doing more than $6 of business a week. She demands $150.

Judge Yaple in the superior court has granted a divorce to Mary Meyers from William Meyers.

HORSE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The Hoagland Mutual Horse Insurance company is the name of a new corporation that has just filed articles of incorporation with County Recorder Hursh. It is organized under the laws of the state providing for such associations, has no capital stock and is authorized to do business in Allen and Adams counties. Expenses and liabilitiees will be met by assessment. C. F. Hubler and Everett Hubler, of Hoagland; F. Grotian, Ellis J. McIntosh, Mort N. Hoffman and Dwight Reynolds, of Monroeville, and Charles Oetting, of Decatur, are the incorporators.

SAYS RAIN IS DUE HERE.

Weather Authorities are Confident of a Downpour Soon.

If rain doesn't visit Fort Wayne before Decoration day morning, weather authorities declare all advance signs of precipitation must go wrogn somewhere. Rain seems to have visited most of the United States except Indiana, according to reports received at the local observatory at 7 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Palmer's predictions call for rain tonight and cooler weather Saturday.

The Canadian minister of marine has announced in Ottawa that his department is making active preparations to improve the aids to navigation on the Hudson bay route this season. Twelve new lighthouses will be established from the South straits to Port Nelson.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Partly cloudy and cooler tonight, with probably thundershowers; Saturday fair and cooler.

For Indiana: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with probably thundershowers; cooler.

For Ohio: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with probably thundershowers; somewhat lower temperature Saturday.

For Lower Michigan: Thundershowers this afternoon and in east portion tonight; cooler tonight; Saturday fair and cooler.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

While the temperatures reached yesterday over the north Atlantic coast states were hot quite as high as they were the day before, throughout the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic coast districts, the temperature continued to be excessive. Cincinnati and Knoxville reported 94 degrees, while Raleigh, N. C., reported 98 degrees. Much cooler weather has already overspread the Rocky mountain and plains states, frost being reported from Boise, Idaho, and Spokane, Wash., while heavy to killing frosts and freezing temperatures are reported from northern Wyoming.

Scattered thundershowers have occurred over the plains states from the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin southward to Texas. Huron, S. D., reports a twenty-four hour rainfall of 1.20 inches and Duluth 2.42 inches.

Cooler weather will overspread this section tonight, with probably thundershowers, followed Saturday by fair and cooler weather.

Cool Dresses for Summertime

New--Dainty--Little Priced

A writer in a fashion article this week makes the statement that a woman cannot have too many simple and pretty Summer Gowns. There is surely no reason why she should not have enough when such beauties as we are showing in Crepes, Organdies, Lawns, Voiles and Linens can be bought at such reasonable prices. You can find Gowns, simple or elaborate, in a wide range of prices starting as low as $1.50 and up to $25.00.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets—

with a Warner Corset to lend it shapeliness and style so long as a shred holds together, than a smart new frock done the injustice of a limp and shapeless corset

Few well-dressed women now need the reminder that Warner Corsets are the shapeliest and most fashionable, as well as the most economical in wear.

Sometimes it gives one a pleasant start, though, to be reminded how much Warner grace, comfort and wear can be secured for the same prices as the ordinary nameless corset.

Dont cheat your figure or your purse. Every well-equipped Corset Department carries a full line of Warner models, costing only $1.00 to $8.00.

HORROR OF SHIPWRECK GROWS STEADLY WORSE

SURVIVORS IN MOST PITIABLE PLIGHT

Rimouski, Que., May 29.—Probably more than a thousand lives and surely not less than 700, were lost when the great Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland sank before dawn today in the St. Lawrence river, ripped open from admidships to stern by the Danish collier Storstad.

This was the estimate made here this afternoon where the hysterical survivors, many of them pitiably maimed and almost naked, were being brought.

It was based on the fact that the Empress carried 1,437 persons all told, of whom 399 were rescued and landed here by the ships Eureka and Lady Evelyn.

The Storstad at first reported to have more than 300 survivors on board has sailed for Quebec after landing only a handful of rescued and a number of dead.

A Matier, of Indianapolis, is listed among the passengers rescued.

Of those saved, crew members and third-class passengers predominated From partial lists available at 2 o'clock it was evident that but a mere sprinkling of the first cabin passengers were saved.

Only three names of those in the cabins appear on the preliminary lists of rescued. They were G. W. G. Henderson and C. R. Burt, addresses unstated, and Walter Fenton, of Manchester, Eng.

Sank as if She Were Lead.

The stricken vessel sank as if she were lead. An explosion, apparently originating in her engine room, hastened her end, and those persons who were able to make their way from their cabins found themselves on a perilously slanting deck. Many leaped and were drowned. Others were fortunate enough to grasp drift wood or were picked up by lifeboats.

It is apparent that the great hole torn in the ship's side admitted such a deluge of water that many must have been overcome in their beds.

Many Died After Rescue.

The rescued, fighting their way to the lifeboats from the careening deck, clinging desperately to the rails or leaping blindly overboard, broke their arms or legs or otherwise injured themselves so badly that twenty-two died after being picked up.

Groaning, and in some cases insensible, others were left here while the populace gathered with medicines and stimulants to relieve their suffering. A special train was made up this afternoon on which many were taken to Quebec and Montreal.

Came Without Warning.

The president of the Pacific railway issued a statement this afternoon saying that the Empress had sunk within fourteen minutes.

No one aboard had time to seize his belongings, much less to dress. Those found in the lifeboats were in their night clothes. The women suffered most. Only a few were saved, according to the early lists, and indications are that they lacked the strength to combat conditions which confronted them.

There was not, as was the case on the Titanic, time for calm deliberation and rigid observance of the unwritten rule of the sea, "Women first."

A party of Salvation Army members, enroute to London, was almost wiped out. Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, is among the missing, and other prominent persons in the first

FIRST OFFICIAL ACCOUNT BY CAPT. KENDALL BRIEF.

Montreal, Que., May 29.—The first official account of the disaster to the Empress of Ireland came from Capt. Kendall, who sent a wireless message early today to Captain Walsh, marine superintendent of the Canadian Pacific here as follows:

"Empress of Ireland stopped by dense fog. Struck admidships in vital spot by collier Storstad."

Captain Kendall in conveying the intelligence to Captain Walsh that the Empress had gone down said:

"Ship gone."

STORSTAD DID NOT SINK; CARRIES FEW SURVIVORS.

Father Point, May 29.—The collier Storstad, which was in collision with the Empress of Ireland, did not sink, as was reported.

Early today she was proceeding slowly toward Quebec under her own steam with her bow badly driven in. It is understood that she has on board a few survivors from the Empress of Ireland. The Empress sank in nineteen fathoms of water.

AUTO ACCIDENT SOUTH OF CITY

Special to The Sentinel.)

Roanoke, Ind., May 29.—En route to Indianapolis to attend the speedway races, an automobile occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spangler and son and E. H. Fredericks, of Defiance, Ohio, turned turtle at Kelsey's curve north of this place, early Friday morning. The passengers were pinned beneath the car and Mr. and Mrs. Spangler sustained broken wrists and numerous cuts and bruises, while Mr. Fredericks suffered several fractured ribs.

The injured autoists were brought to Roanoke and were attended by Dr. Gordon. Later they were taken to Fort Wayne and will return today to their home in Defiance. Their automobile was badly damaged and costly repairs will be necessary to the big car.

Mr. Fredericks is a member of the city council at Defiance and both men are leading citizens of that place. After reaching Fort Wayne this afternoon the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sprankle was taken to the office of Dr. L. Park Drayer and it was found that two of his ribs had been fractured.

ONCE MORE HEARS DEATH SENTENCE

APPEAL ACTS AS STAY

New York, May 29.—Charles Becker was today sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week beginning July 6 for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

When he received the sentence Becker appeared calm. The prisoner was taken to the sheriff's office and allowed five minutes with his wife. Prior to the sentencing Martin P. Manton cited ten reasons why death sentence should not be pronounced.

He said that an appeal would be filed next Monday. This will act as a stay of execution and a year may elapse before the court of appeals hands down its decision. Becker was taken to Sing Sing by automobile in the custody of six deputy sheriffs.

RALPH DE PALMA OUT OF RUNNING

Noted Driver Balked in Race Tomorrow By Engine Trouble.

OTHERS READY TO GO

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Ralph De Palma, driver of a German car, will not start in the 500 mile automobile race here tomorrow. He announced today that he could not get his engine in good working condition and, after an examination of the machine by the technical committee of the American automobile association it was decided that it would be dangerous to start the car.

De Palma had a hard time getting his car to make the speed necessary to qualify in the elimination trials and had to make three attempts before he came in among the "thirty fastest." De Palma said he would sail at once for Europe.

DE GAMA SENDS WORD HE'S "BUSY"

MEDIATORS DECIDE TO TURN CARRANZA DOWN.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.—The mediators have practically decided not to receive the communication from Gen. Carranza brought here today by Juan Urquidi, the constitutionalist agent.

Ambassador Da Gama called on the American delegates to inform them of the decision and word was also communicated to the Huerta delegates.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.—Juan F. Urquidi, private secretary to Rafael Zubaran, the constitutionalist agent at Washington, arrived here today bearing a communication from Gen. Carranza to the mediators, saying he is willing to send a representative to the mediation conference to discuss international differences between the United States and Mexico.

Mr. Urquidi said he came merely as a messenger to deliver a communication and not to discuss.

But Da Gama Was "Busy."

When he arrived at he Hotel Clifton he sen his card to Ambassador Da Gama, who sent down word that he was "busy," but did not say whether he would receive him later in the day.

Although Mr. Urquidi declined to make public the contents of the communication it is understood that Gen. Carranza reiterates his original declaration

BOTH SIDES CLAIM FIGHT

Battle Between Wets and Drys for Ninth Ward Ends Today.

Wets File Withdrawals and Work to Keep Others Off Protest.

Both the wets and the drys are claiming the victory in the heated struggle for possession of the Ninth ward in which the fate of eleven saloons is bound up.

A total of 493 withdrawals from the remonstrance have been filed with the county auditor. Conceding that all of these names are valid and that all of them are actual withdrawals, the dry remonstrance would require 1,268 valid names in order to be effective.

The commissioners will keep their office open until 5 o'clock this evening to receive the remonstrance. If not filed by that time it will not be in hand soon enough to avail the anti-saloon forces, according to the law, it is said.

The fight started by Charles Schoenfeldt when he set forth to prevent John Gutermuth from establishing a saloon almost under the eaves of the Shoenfeldt home at 1601 St. Mary's avenue, has assumed proportions that cover the ward and involves the entire populace in one attitude or the other. While it is now certain that Gutermuth will be granted no license in any event, the fate of the

Washington, May 29.—The United States senate has received official notice that summer has arrived. Senator James K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, has donned his white flannels. Though he always sets the summer styles for his colleagues, the Mississippi statesman does not believe in rushing the season, and his Bryanesque felt hat and his flowing black mane still are retained, in defiance of hot waves.

WIRELESS OPERATOR DESCRIBES DISASTER.

Rimouski, May 29.—The Marconi company's operator here gives the following account of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland and the collier Storstad:

"The Empress of Ireland was rammed this morning at 1:45 by the Storstad, twenty miles out from Father Point. The Empress sank within ten minutes. The S. O. S. signal sent out was received at Father Point and the government steamers Eureka and Lady Evelyn, were dispatched to the distressed vessel's assistance. The Empress of Ireland listed and was unable to get many of the boats out.

"Captain Kendall was saved, being picked up on some wreckage by a life boat thirty minutes after his ship had foundered. Both wireless operators, assistant purser, chief engineers, and chief steward were saved. Chief officer and purser are among the missing."

Danfort, the Marconi operator of the Eureka, reports the following incomplete list of survivors at Rimouski:

R. H. Perkinson, bedroom steward; W. Rowan, steward; Alex Radley, Cooms, pantrymen; A. Reginland Moreland, White, Gray, James Williams, assistant stewards; E. Foster, A. Elliott, bakers; A. Ferguson, S. R. Simon, Kostal, Speddon, Novek; A. W. Gaude, engineer; S. Sampson; Swan, engineer; L. Bradwick, sailor; S. Murphy, T. Borah, quartermaster; Duckworth, electrician; J. Salee, Sapetie, Donovan, A. Williams, H. Clarkson, T. H. Hanon, Charles Clarke, K. Laski, Sauvein, King; Scott Haas, assistant pursers.

Only one woman, Mrs. Simon, is among those picked up by the Eureka. The greater number are members of the crew and third-class passengers.

Lifeboats Jammed Full.

When the rescue ships Eureka and Lady Evelyn reached the scene shortly before daybreak they found nine life boats from the Empress all jammed full and many of the occupants wounded. It was still dark. Wreckage covered the river everywhere. The Storstad, her bow badly crumpled, was still on the scene picking up the living wherever she could. In one of the life boats crouched Captain Kendall, commander of the Empress, dazed and greatly shaken. He had leaped from the deck and had been picked up by members of his crew.

Those in the first and second cabins known to have been saved up to 3 o'clock this afternoon are: G. W. S. Henderson, C. R. Butt, Walter Fenton, Miss Alice Lee, Nassau Bahamas, Miss E. Court, Liverpool, England, Walter Erzinger, (this may be J. B. Erzinger, of Winnipeg), B. Weinruch, Montreal.

Off Father Point.

The crash occurred about 2 o'clock this morning off Father Point, Quebec, a village brought into prominence when Dr. Crippen, the London murderer, was caught. The collier, bound for Quebec, struck the Empress of Ireland on the port side about the middle of the ship.

She literally tore her way back almost to the screws, leaving a rent through which the water poured in such a deluge that she sank before many of the passengers were aware what had happened.

Wireless Calls for Help.

Brief wireless calls for help sent out by the Marconi operator were heard by the pilot boat Eureka ten miles from the scene and the Eureka, followed by the Lady Evelyn, put on forced steam and made all speed for the spot.

It was these two boats that found afloat the few lifeboats that were launched from the stricken ship and picked up the survivors they contained. Three hundred and thirty-three were saved by the Lady Evelyn and sixty by the Eureka. Among those saved was Capt. H. G. Kendall, of the Empress.

First-Class Passengers Perish.

Most of the first-class passengers apparently perished. Among those in the first cabin were Sir Henry Seton Karr, a noted English lawyer and big game hunter, and Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, and his wife, Mabel Hackney.

Of a party of 140 Salvation Army members aboard only twenty were rescued. They were bound for the army's international conference in London.

So quickly did the Empress sink that the passengers fortunate enough to get to the lifeboats found themselves garbed only in their night clothes. No baggage was saved.

Condition Was Pitiable.

The condition of the survivors was pitiable. Some had broken arms and legs, and all had suffered terribly. E. Gossetin, a prominent lawyer from Montreal, saved himself by clinging to a raft.

When the rescue ships docked here the station platform was converted into a hospital and the townspeople, bringing food and clothing, united in a common effort to aid the survivors.

Twelve bodies with faces covered lay side by side on the wharf. They were passengers who had made the lifeboats but who were fatally hurt.

Wreckage strews the St. Lawrence for a long distance near the spot where the Empress sank. The sun shone brightly during the forenoon. Though the water is still icy, the temperature today was not low enough to increase the suffering of the survivors. The vast majority of the saved were members of the ship's crew. Early estimates indicated that not more than sixty passengers were saved.

Captain Is Overcome.

Besides Captain Kendall, the first and second engineers and the ship's surgeon were rescued. The captain was too overcome to give at first any extended account of the disaster. He had sent a wireless to his line after the vessel was struck, saying:

"Ship gone."

The Empress of Ireland was valued at $2,000,000 and with her cargo, valued at $250,000, was fully insured.

At low tide today the top of her funnels could be seen. She is lying in the channel. It is thought by navigators that it may be possible to raise her. At present the wreck is a menace to navigation.

Residents Aid Survivors.

The residents of Rimouski, numbering 3,000, came silently to the dock where the dead and living were being landed, and under the direction of the mayor, H. R. Fiset, gave aid wherever possible. Every doctor in the town was on the scene and many of the injured were taken to private homes.

From chests and closets the town folks brought garments of all descriptions for those who had lost their belongings. Two headquarters were established—at the wharf and at the station of the Inter-Colonial railway. At the station those injured and not removed to homes were cared for.

Scene Like Titanic's Doom.

The rescue boats, Eureka and Lady Evelyn, found on reaching the point where the Empress sank a scene not unsimilar to that which greeted the liners which rushed to the Titanic's aid. They found the ship sunk and the surface of the water, fortunately calm, dotted with lifeboats and smeared with floating debris.

In the lifeboats were huddled the survivors, dazed and moaning, some of them dying of injuries sustained in the crash or in the rush of leaving the sinking Empress. Few could give anything but incoherent, almost hysterical accounts of what had happened.

J. L. Black and Mrs. Black, of Ottawa, said they jumped together into the river. They had been aroused by the shock of the collision and unable to get into a lifeboat, had risked the leap. They were picked up by a boat from the Lady Evelyn.

Forced Many to Jump.

The water that poured into the ship's engine room caused an explosion and this forced many to jump. Ernest Hayes, an assistant purser told of leaping from the upper promenade deck. He climbed into number 3 life boat. The boat maneuvered about the wreck for a time and found Captain Kendall clinging to a piece of wreckage. He had jumped just before the Empress went down.

W. Davis, of Montreal, one of the few survivors able to talk coherently after his landing, said he and his wife had not been awakened by the impact of the collision and knew nothing of the accident until water began to rush into their state room. He helped his wife to the boat deck, but the big ship had already listed and it was impossible to launch a boat. Together they crawled on their hands and knees up the sloping deck of the liner. The vessel was rapidly sinking.

Wife Swept From Grasp.

His wife was swept from his grasp. Both were carried by the suction into the river. They clung to a piece of wood and were rescued. The wife was unconscious. J. W. Longley, a ranchman, of Canford, B. C., calmly sat on the deck rail and went down with the ship. He held his breath, came up, grabbed the side of a life boat, held to it and was rescued by the Eureka.

William Measures, a Salvation Army bandsman, crept along the rail of the promenade deck and stepped into the water. He swam to a life boat and was rescued.

Sight Was Pitiful.

When the train came from the wharf bearing survivors it was a pitiful sight to see them alight. Most of them were very little clothing. Many had to be carried bodily. A woman had a broken leg and shoulder and a man had two legs broken. They were carried to the hospital station.

H. R. O'Hara and his little girl, Helen, were saved, but up to present no news of Mrs. O'Hara has been received. She probably drowned.

A young Englishman said that when the ship was struck by the collier the shock was terrific. He was asleep in his cabin. He jumped from bed, put on a dressing gown and went directly to wake up two of his friends, telling them he thought the ship was sinking. He then went on deck and came back a second time to see if his friends had left their cabin, but in his excitement he went on the wrong deck. The ship was then sinking so fast that he could hardly stand. He took hold of a rope on the side of the ship and swung into a lifeboat. He said he had not seen his friends and he fears that they were drowned.

Women and Children Die.

Very few women and children were saved. They were asleep in their cabins when the ship sank and the accident occurred so quickly that they could not be rescued. One woman who was garbed only in a veil, jumped overboard and swam to the Lady Evelyn. She was so exhausted, however, that she died a few minutes after she was taken from the water. Her identity has not been established.

Both the first and second Marconi operators of the Empress were saved.

Called for Assistance.

Edward Bomford, the second operator, was coming on duty when the boat began to sink. He caught the Father Point Marconi station and called for assistance. Bomford was saved by falling into a life boat. The other operator, Ronald Furguessen, had to swim for the boat. Both operators came back to Rimouski port on board the pilot boat Eureka. Passengers were loud in their praise of the captain and the pilot of the Lady Evelyn, and Captin Belanger, of the Eureka and their crews. All of them displayed the greatest bravery it was declared. A Mr. McWilliams, of Father Point, also was active in aiding the rescuers.

The Lady Evelyn, which returned to the scene of the disaster, reported by wireless that she had picked up seventeen bodies at 3 o'clock.

IS NOT SUBSTANTIATED.

Early Reports From Rimouski Gave Hopeful Outlook.

Montreal, May 29.—The story published this morning by La Patrie indicating that all the passengers of the Empress of Ireland which went down in a collision with the Storstad early today had been saved has not been substantiated. The estimates of total loss of life range from 678 to over 1,100. Among the 350 persons reported rescued are 12 women.

Twenty-two of the rescued died from their injuries after reaching shore.

The message was received by La Patrie, a French newspaper from a Rimouski correspondent. He said that 400 survivors had been landed and that the Lady Evelyn and Eureka were going back to pick up the remainder of the passengers who were in boats. The foregoing information does not agree with previous dispatches in the matter of loss of life. From the wording of the Canadian Pacific message it could not be determined whether "all the passengers" meant all those on board the Empress of Ireland or simply all those who were able to make the life boats.

Message to Canadian Pacific.

The message to the Canadian Pacific offices said: "All the passengers have been picked up by the boats of the Lady Evelyn and the Eureka."

The text of the message received by La Patrie from Rimouski reads: "Lady Evelyn and Eureka docked at Rimouski with 400 passengers. Captains both reported that all the passengers were saved in the life boats of the Lady Evelyn, Eureka and Empress of Ireland. As soon as passengers are disembarked, both steamers will leave for the scene of the wreck to pick up other passengers."

Arrangements have been made by the Canadian Pacific railway with the Allan line to send the survivors to Liverpool on the Alsatian, which arrived at Quebec today.

The Empress of Ireland carried a crew of 650 officers and men making, with the passengers, a total of 1,436 on board.

He Detected Crippen.

Captain Kendall won renown as the man who first detected Crippen, the murderer on the steamer Montfort.

The collier Storstad has 350 survivors from the Empress of Ireland aboard, according to an announcement made by the government signal service. With approximately 400 landed at Rimouski, this accounts for 700 souls aboard the Empress, leaving 677 unaccounted for at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Empress of Ireland was a twin screw vessel of 14,191 tons. She was built in Glasgow in 1906 by the Fairfield Company, Ltd., and was owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway company. She carried a full wireless equipment.

The Storstad registered 6,028 tons. She was built by the Armstrong, Whitworth company, Newcastle, in 1911 and her owner is the Dampsk Aktieselk Marintime, of Christiana, Norway. She is a single screw vessel and is loaded with coal. She carries a crew of fifty men.

The disaster recalls the accident to the sister ship of the ill-fated vessel, the Empress of Britain, which two years ago rammed and sank the collier Helvetia in almost the same spot that the collision took place this morning.

The Empress of Ireland, in command of Lieutenat Kendall, Royal navy reserve, sailed from Quebec at 4:20 yesterday afternoon for Liverpool. There were 77 first, 206 second and 504 third class passengers, which with the crew, made over 1,200 souls on board.

Among the names on her passenger list is Sir Henry Seton-Kerr, a barrister, whose travels and big game shooting have taken him into many corners of the world. Other passengers who left Montreal yesterday to join the Empress Ireland at Quebec were Laurence Irving, the actor, son of the Sir Henry Irving, his wife, Miss Mabel Hackney, and two other members of Mr. Irving's company, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neville. Mrs. Irving's maid, Hilda Hagesston, was also in the party. A large number of members of the Salvation Army, bound for their international conference in London, were also aboard.

First News of Disaster.

First news of the disaster reached Quebec shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. It came from the Marconi station at Father Point to the marine department agent here and announced that the Empress of Ireland had collided with an unknown ship 30 miles east of Father Point and was sinking. The Marconi station had heard the "S O S" signals of distress and reported that the Canadian government steamer Eureka and the mail tender Evelyn, which were at Father Point had been dispatched to the rescue. The wireless people reported that they had been in communication with the Empress of Ireland but a short time when the messages suddenly ceased. This lead to fears that the steamer had sunk and they afterwards proved true.

Nearly an hour after the messages were sent Father Point reported it was the Hanover, of the North German Lloyd line which had been in collision with the Empress of Ireland and that probably both steamers had been lost. This added gravely to the disaster as the Hanover was known to have over 1,300 immigrants aboard bound from Rotterdam for this port.

Proved to Be Error.

The report about the Hanover, however, fortunately proved to be an error and Father Point announced they learned that it was the collier Storstad that collided with the Empress of Ireland and that both vessels had gone down soon after the collision.

At 6 o'clock today reports that survivors were being landed at Rimouski were received here.

It was stated that the Eureka and the Lady Evelyn had landed 350 passengers, but that more than 800 were still missing and were probably drowned.

Montreal Survivor Gives Estimate of Loss in Collision.

Montreal, May 29.—G. W. S. Henderson, of Montreal, who is among the Empress of Ireland's survivors, telegraphed his firm this afternoon giving the number of dead at 1,030.

KILLS HIS SWEETHEART.

Frank Geis, of Indianapolis, Then Turns Pistol on Himself.

Indianapolis, May 29.—Frank Geis, 39, today shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Inéx Abrams, 22, and then shot himself, probably fatally. A combination of jealousy and despondency is said to be the cause of the tragedy. Geis called on the girl last night, and after returning to his room went back to the girl's home and spent the night with her brother. He arose before the family did, went to his sweetheart's room and killed her as she lay asleep. He then shot himself and was found lying on the floor when teh family, aroused by the shots rushed to the room. He was sent to the city hospital, where it was said he probably would die.

RALSTON AT MICHIGAN CITY.

Governor to Deliver Memorial Day Address at South Bend, Ind.

Michigan City, Ind., May 29.—Governor and Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston were the guests of E. J. Fogarty, warden of the state prison, today. They are on their way to South Bend, where the governor will deliver a Memorial day address. The visit of Governor Ralston was the first since he became governor. He inspected the prison today and attended the regular meeting of the board of trustees.

GONSHOR HELD UNDER BOND.

At noon Friday Judge Kerr in the city court rendered his decision in the case against Alex Gonshor, charged with malicious mayhem in having bitten off the ear of Mike Martynink. He bound Goshor over to the circuit court under $500 bond.

NEW PAVING UP TO THE COUNCIL

Must Make Appropriations if Any Contracts for New Streets Are Let.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

If any contracts for paving Fort Wayne streets are let the city council will have to appropriate more money to the new street intersection fund. While the board of works Thursday night approved specifications and adopted resolutions for paving of twenty-one streets, that does not mean that these streets or any of them will necessarily be improved this year. The board of works has let contracts already that exhaust the intersection fund and it will not enter into any more contracts until the money to pay the city's share is in hand. It is not improbale that improvement of some of the streets included in the Thursday night batch acted upon will be defeated by remonstrance, but not any of them will go through unless the council provides the money. When the present board of works went in it found a deficit in the intersection fund of nearly $10,000. The council then appropriated $20,000 to the intersection fund and out of this the deficit was made up and new contracts were let that took the balance. Now if any more contracts are made there will have to be additional appropriations. Some weeks ago Comptroller W. C. Baade flatly refused to recommend another paving appropriation. Recent conferences with the board have not changed his position. The comptroller does not believe the general fund should be too heavily drained by paving appropriations. The way may be clearer later on. A bond issue has been suggested and it is believed the city council would not be averse to authorizing such a means of raising money if no other way can be found to open the way to street improvements. The board will go as far as possible with the improvements contemplated in Thursday night's resolutions, but will stop short of actually entering into contracts until it has the money.

OVER SCORE OF STREETS.

Board of Works Adopts Resolutions for Big Paving Program.

Specifications for a big bunch of streets for the paving of which resident property owners had filed petitions were handed down to the board of works by the engineering department Thursday night and the plans were approved and resolutions adopted for twenty-one. These streets are in the program: Carroline, Suttenfield to Pontiac; Wayne trace, Anthony to New Haven avenue and New Haven, Wayne trace to Birchwood avenue; Webster, Butler to DeWald; Downing avenue, Hoagland to Fairfield; Hayden, Hanna to Anthony; Eliza, Francis to Gay; Maumee avenue, Sidney to city limits; Grant avenue, Wayne to Maumee; Wayne, Grant avenue intersection; Oneida, Lake to Riverside; Superior, Spy Run to Lafayette; Hendricks, Fairfield to Martin; Illinois, Watkins to Greenwood; Martin, Hendricks to Broadway; Watkins, Main to Illinois; St. Mary's avenue, Burgess to Archer; High, St. Mary's to Runnion; Putnam, Wells to Jessie; Fifth, Cass to Wells and Sixth, Harrison to Cass.

The board made another postponement in the matter of awarding a contract for the construction of the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. It will be awarded next Monday at the regular session unless the reason for postponement continues.

The board approved a plat for the City Suburban Realty company's second addition near the terminus of Oliver street and for Lambert's sub-division, between Broadway and Thompson avenue on either side of Home avenue.

Remonstrances were filed against the paving of the alley between Main and Berry street, Clay to Lafayette; opening Koch street, Putnam to Huffman, and the improvement of Warsaw street, Pontiac to Laselle.

Resolutions were confirmed for the opening of Cour street, Hoagland to Fairfield, and for vacating the alley in Vesey's addition, from Home avenue to the alley north.

Seven materials are specified in the new plans for street paving. Reinforced concrete, much used in country highway construction in several parts of the county, notably Wayne county, Michigan, an asphaltic concrete are added to the list of materials, which previously included sheet asphalt, asphalt block, creosoted wood block, shale block, fire clay block and anchored bituminous concrete, the last named a material that has won high favor in Fort Wayne.

PROBLEM ON LASSELLE STREET.

City's Widest Thoroughfare Will Have to Be Re-Formed.

The board of works has made an inspection of Lasselle street from Lafayette to Hanna, to get a line on what to do for the best interest of the city and property owners in ordering plans for new sidewalks. The street is the widest thoroughfare in Fort Wayne and carries little traffic. It is believed a thirty-foot paved roadway will be of sufficient width. On the south side there is a parkway between the sidewalk and the property line, but on the north side the sidewalk is up to the property line. The board will undertake to move the sidewalk out, create a parkway and give the street a fine appearance and at the same time save the property owners the expense of a very wide pavement that conditions do not require.

WILL ORDER WORK RESUMED.

Huestis Avenue Pavement to Be Put Forward Monday.

The board of works will order the Moellering Construction company to resume its paving operations on Huestis avenue next Monday. The work had been started and then stopped because of opposition by a property owner who takes the position that the street lines upon which the pavement is being put down are incorrect and he has demanded a survey by the county engineer. The board of works has held that the city has no authority to employ the county engineer to do this, holding that the lines of the street as they have been established and respected for many years, are the correct lines. The objector wants the curb line moved two feet farther from the property line on his side. It has been urged upon the board that the street could be made twenty feet between curbs instead of twenty-two, for which latter width the paving contract was let. But the board refuses to do this, believing it would destroy the contract and invalidate assessments. The Moellering company is tired of the delay and hints that it will look to the city for damages if not allowed to proceed with the work. Therefore the order will be given to resume work Monday. The property owners on Huestis avenue had a prolonged wrangle last year concerning the width to which the street should be paved before the old board of works settled the matter.

CITY HALL CLOSED SATURDAY.

In honor of Decoration day the city hall will be closed Saturday. The mayor and the several boards and the city council will participate in the annual parade to Lindenwood cemetery. The police department will be open without change from usual custom, and the health department will have somebody about during a portion of the day, but there will be a general suspension of all public business in the city building so far as circumstances permit.

VISIT ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

The board of works Friday visited the isolation hospital owned by the city, and situated on the county farm. Some repairs to the roof and other parts of the building are needed. The hospital is not much used, but it is maintained in first-class condition at all times.

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK AT DREDGE.

The board of works and Mayor Hosey are making another inspection of the Wayne township dredge, which it has been proposed to use to deepen the pool in Spy Run at the city light and power works above Lawton park. It is much doubted if the dredge can be successfully operated there.

HE HELPED BUILD WABASH RAILROAD

Frederick Bueche, a Retired Miller, Dies After Long Illness.

THE OTHER DEATHS

Frederick Bueche, aged seventy-nine years, an employe of the City Flouring mills for more than a half century, died at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at his home, 1217 Clark street. It is said that Mr. Bueche was the oldest resident of Bloomingdale in point of years. He had been in poor health for some time and his death was due to a complication of diseases.

He was born in Eschere Canton de Berne, Switzerland, and came to this country in 1853, locating immediately in Fort Wayne. He came to this city by way of the great lakes and the old canal, and he was one of the men who worked through Fort Wayne on the construction of the Wabash railway.

Mr. Bueche took employment at the City mills fifty-three years ago for the firm of Williams & Hoagland. He had been employed at the place ever since and retired ten years ago. Mr. Bueche was a member of the Salem Reformed church and when in good health was an active member of the congregation. He was a man of thrifty nature and during his residence in Fort Wayne, through real estate investments, he became quite wealthy.

Surviving he leaves one sister, Mrs. Conrad Mill, one niece, Mrs. Henry Pepe, and five grand nieces.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 o'clock from the Salem Reformed church. Interment at Lindenwood.

PRITSCH.

Mrs. John Pritsch, aged forty-four years, a resident of Bourbon, died at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital, where she had been a patient since Monday. Surviving she leaves the mother, husband, one daughter and a brother and sister. The remains were shipped to Bourbon Friday morning and interment is to be made at the Wanatah cemetery.

QUEER TANGLE OVER ESTATE.

Is Administered by Court, After which Will is Found.

Warsaw, Ind., May 29.—A curious legal tangle has developed in the Kosciusko circuit court over the estate of the late Lydia E. Strieby, who died last October near Syracuse. Following her death an administrator was appointed and the estate was settled up by him, the heirs receiving their distributive shares. The decedent's son, Charles Strieby, was given half of the estate and the balance was divided equally among her five grandchildren. All the personal property was disposed of and the report of the sale of the real estate had been made by the administrator to the court, approved and the administrator discharged of his trust. Wednesday afternoon Edwin Higbee, of the banking firm of Miles & Higbee, in Milford, filed in the circuit court here a will by Lydia E. Strieby. The document was executed August 25, 1911, and placed with the Milford bankers for safekeeping. Mr. Higbee had just learned of the death of Mrs. Strieby and promptly produced her last will and testament. The legal tangle arises out of the fact that the estate has been settled in a manner quite different from that made by the court and administrator. Mrs. Strieby willed that her son, Charles, should have a life interest in all the real estate, and then the property should be divided, share and share alike, among her five grandchildren—Harry, Blanche, Madge, Cleo and Orlando Strieby. Judge F. E. Bowser is trying to unravel the situation.

SNAKE STORY DISCOUNTED.

Pierceton, Ind., May 29.—Later accounts divest of some of its horrors the snake story that came from the home of Frank Prescott, a farmer residing in Whitley county just over the Kosciusko county line. The first narrative had it that Prescott's little daughter was found in the woods "charmed" to a state of physical helplessness by the baleful glare of a gigantic blue racer, whose forked tongue "flashed like lightning." The snake was frightened by the sudden approach of Mr. Prescott and retreated into a hollow tree from which it was driven by fire, its head being cut off as it emerged. Mrs. Prescott, who has just been in Pierceton says the child saw the snake and ran screaming from the place. A search revealed the serpent and it was in due form killed. Veracity reduces the reptile's length somewhat from the reported ten feet.

PIERCETON'S HOMECOMING.

Pierceton, Ind., May 29.—An organization has been effected and preparations are under way for the celebration of a home-coming week in Pierceton. The exact time has not been determined, but it will probably be some time during the month of September. Negotiations for carnival attractions are under way. The organization elected P. A. Ashley president, E. E. Orr secretary and M. F. Bresnahan treasurer. President Ashley has made the following appointments of committee chairmen: Arrangements, Guy Kilpatrick; program and advertising, J. L. Radcliff; finance, S. S. Shirley. The chairman of each committee was authorized to select his helpers.

MUST MAKE RAILROAD SAFE.

Portland, Ind., May 29.—The repair of twenty-three bridges on the Cincinnati, Bluffton & Chicago railroad and probably the complete remodeling of most of the trackage are events in the immediate future of that railway as a result of the inspection of the line by officials of the state utilities commission. Two daily passenger cars on the road have been annulled by the management as a measure of additional safety. Freight trains are now operated only every other day. The probing of the wreck of the bridge at Bluffton, when Engineer Handwork was killed, is progressing.

NO GUESTS IN DINING ROOM.

Woodburn, Ind., May 29.—The management of the Blue Cast springs sanitarium, two miles from here on the Maumee river, has made the announcement that no longer will it serve Sunday dinners in the hotel dining room. The guests of the sanitarium, who sojourn at the sanitarium to obtain among other things rest and quiet, object to the annoyance of transient guests. The hotel has become a favorite stopping place for automobile parties for Sunday dinners. The sanitarium will serve refreshments on the grounds, but not in the dining room to pleasure seekers.

YOUNG TRAMP KILLED BY TRAIN.

Wabash, Ind., May 29.—One of the most tragic accidents that has happened in this community for some months occurred about three miles west of this city, on the Wabash railroad culvert, a short distance west of the Wolf stock farm, when a young man whose identity is unknown was killed while "bumming" his way on a local freight train. Section Foreman Jacob Kindlesparker and his workmen were following up the eastbound freight train on a hand car when they came upon the mutilated body of the boy lying upon the bridge, one leg, which had been severed just above the hip joint, lying on the inside of the rails, and the body lying just outside of the rail.

CAME HOME A BRIDE.

Bluffton, Ind., May 29.—Friends and relatives of Miss Nellie VanDine were greatly surprised when she arrived home and announced her marriage to Joseph Thomas. Mrs. Thomas left last Friday morning for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Everett Tuttrow, of Summitville. On Monday the young couple went to St. Joseph, Mich., and were secretly married. Mrs. Thomas is 18 years of age and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John VanDine. Mr. Thomas is 22 years of age and runs a bakery at Montpelier. The young couple have gone to Montpelier, where their home was furnished for them.

SAYS HE WILL NEVER RETURN.

Bluffton, Ind., May 29.—A report became circulated this week that Bert Chipman, the young farmer who so strangely disappeared in this city one Saturday night early in the spring, had returned home, but inquiry reveals the fact that Mr. Chipman has stated again that the opposite is his intention. Letters received from him some time ago indicated that he was thinking seriously of returning to Wells county and he was expected most any day, but later he wrote that he had determined never to return. These latest letters came from Iowa.

ELEVEN LIVES SNUFFED OUT.

Hartford City, Ind., May 29.—Eleven lives were destroyed in a fire at the home of Jules Boulett here. The holocaust caused no excitement for the victims of the fire were canary birds. Mr. Boulett raises the songsters for the market. They were confined in cages that hung in the kitchen, where the fire started and they were smothered by smoke and the heat before they could be removed. No great damage to the premises was done by the fire, which was quickly extinguished.

LOSE ASSESSMENT SUIT.

Portland, Ind., May 29.—Judge Moran has given his decision in the injunction suit brought against John. B. Ropp, treasurer of Jay county, by Edwina, Howard and Adelma Horn, of Muncie, seeking to evade the payment of an assessment of something like $1,100 made against lands owned by them in Penn township, this county, for the Salamonia River dredge. They contended that they had not received notice of the intended assessment, but admitted that their mother had been notified.

KENDALLVILLE BOY HONORED.

Kendallville, Ind., May 29.—Another Kendallville boy to win university honors is Harry Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Miller, of 604 Mott street, who is just completing his junior year of the civil engineering course at Purdue university. A letter just received from a classmate says that Mr. Miller has been unanimously elected manager of the Purdue Glee club for the year 1914-15.

HAS RECORD CLASS.

Van Wert, O., May 29.—The class of 1914 of the Van Wert high school has 65 members, the largest in the history of the school. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by E. A. Lilly, of the U. B. church, Sunday evening; the class play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," will be given at the Auditorium theater Wednesday evening, June 3, and the commencement exercises, with class address by President H. C. King, of Oberlin, will be held Friday evening, June 5.

WARSAW HAS ROBBER GANG.

Warsaw, Ind., May 29.—The robbery of the dental office of Dr. John R. White, from which $75 worth of gold fillings were taken and attempts to break into two or three other dental offices lends the police to believe there is an organized gang at work here. There is no clue to the identity of the thieves.

LEAVES FOR WORK IN EGYPT.

Markle, Ind., May 29.—Charley Kline, son of W. D. Kline, of near Browns Corners, left today for New York, from which port he will sail for Alexandria, Egypt, where he will superintend the operation of a large dredge. He is well known throughout this part of the country as a capable man in such work. He will be paid a large salary in Egypt.

Whitley County News.

Columbia City, Ind., May 29.—Miss Wyland Herrold, who on Thursday was married to Frank Harper of Winchester, was given a kitchen shower Tuesday evening by several friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Clark.

Belva Mildred, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rittenhouse, died Wednesday morning from a short illness due to bowel trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Trachsel, of Larwill, are the parents of a baby girl that arrived Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary L. Berry went to Garrett Tuesday evening to spend a few days with her sisters, Mesdames W. A. Clifford and Jennie Baker.

Elliot and Nancy Matchett, of Pierceton, arrived in the city Wednesday to visit their grandfather, Col. I. B. Bush, and daughter, Demaris Rush.

Miss Anna Souder, of Auburn, left Wednesday for Logansport to visit, after spending a few days in the city with her sister, Mrs. L. M. Meiser.

Piny Ruse, of Chicago, spent Tuesday in the city with his friend, Fred Mygrant.

The two year old son of Grover Smith, of Columbia township, suffered a badly mashed finger Tuesday as a result of getting that member caught in a clothes wringer.

Thad Clark, of Huntington, spent Tuesday in the city, transacting business and renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. Mary Halderman-Clifford and daughter, Helen, of Larwill, spent Wednesday afternoon here with relatives.

Dr. B. F. Slessman arrived home Tuesday evening from a week's trip to Oklahoma, where he visited friends.

Donald, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sattison, is suffering from severe spasms, which are thought to be caused by the little one's teeth.

Fred Tylor and family, of Nappanee, who have been the guests of Mark Norris and family for several days, returned home Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nix, of Chicago, arrived in the city Wednesday evening to visit the latter's father, Theodore Garty and wife. After returning from their visit in this county, the family will settle on a farm in Illinois.

Miss Maud Shinneman, who has been off duty as a "hello girl" for several days, owing to an attack of tonsilitis, is rapidly improving.

William Koester, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. James Ray, north of the city, is critically ill and he may not survive many yadys. He is past eighty years of age and is suffering from a general breakodwn.

Dennis Gallivan and William Betts motored to Fort Wayne Wednesday to transact business and visit friends.

Relatives have received word from Battle Creek, Mich., to the effect that R. J. Jontz, who is in a sanitarium, undergoing treatment for kidney trouble, is gradually improving and will soon be able to return home. His son, Merle, is with him.

Marion Cool, of the east end, caught an eighteen pound carp Tuesday evening in the Charles Stough bottoms, along with several other carp weighing from three to seven pounds. The capture was made in each instance with a pitchfork, and the fisherman was compelled to wade in to his hips in the mire and slime.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schrader, the aged Washington township pioneer, who died Sunday night, was laid to her final resting place Wednesday morning at the Compton cemetery. Rev. L. A. Luckenbill had charge of the services and the pall bearers were John and Simon Ummell, William McCoy, W. H. Hartman, J. J. Lower and William Dial.

On Thursday, June 4th, the local Rebekah degree team will go to Warsaw to attend the Kosciusko county meeting and to confer degree work.

Roy Tulley, who is employed at the North Side greenhouse, got some lime in his eye Tuesday and sufferd greatly for several hours before medical aid arrived.

An auto truck full of Eagles motored to Huntington Wednesday evening to take in the initiation of a class, which was followed by a big banquet and smoker.

Mrs. James Sharp went to North Manchester Wednesday to make a short visit with relatives and friends.

Robert Hudson, of Goshen, arrived in the city Wednesday for a short visit with his brother, Harry Hudson and family.

The Modern Woodman lodge of this city will hold their annual memorial on Sunday, June 7th, at the new Methodist church. Rev. C. A. Shoemaker will have charge of the services.

Mayor Frank L. Myers has been engaged to pitch the first ball across (or at least near) the plate in the opening game of the season Sunday, when the Grays play the Fort Wayne Printing company's team, captained by Jack Smith, a former Shamrock.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., May 29.—Saturday evening Spencerville chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was granted its chater by the grand chapter of Indiana. The ceremonies were conducted by Grand Patron Andrew Smith, of Hobart, and Grand Marshal H. A. Flynn, of Chester, Ind., assisted by Worthy Patron Stanley B. Dustman and wife, of Shiloh chapter, No. 141, of Fort Wayne, and Worthy Patron William Vallien, Blanch and Zella Knight, of Harlan chapter. The following officers were also installed: Worthy matron, Josephine Baltz; worthy patron, Clyde G. Rectenwal; associate matron, Mabel Erick; secretary, Maude Henderson; treasurer, Alberta Timmerman; conductress, Jennie Steward; associate conductress, Pernetta Steward; Adah, Princess Rectenwal; Ruth, Winifred Shook; Esther, Golden Murray; Martha, Rose Beams; Electa, Audrey Wade; organist, Vera Silberg; warden, Ida Kelley; sentinel, Jacob F. Baltz. After the ceremonies the ladies of the chapter served lunch. Visiting members present besides those assisting with the work were Mrs. Clara Smith, of Harlan; Mrs. Belle Barney and Mrs. Buckingham, of Leo chapter.

The Spencer township Sunday school convention, held here Sunday afternoon and evening, was well attended and an appreciative audience listened to some fine addresses given by various persons. Among those to talk were two high school graduates, Howard Pervines and Walter Coburn, which certainly deserves praise.

Gust Hefner and wife and Charles Grill left Thursday for Indianapolis making the trip in the latter's automobile.

Sunday was red letter day at the M. E. Sunday school. The money given in amounted to $55.60. The bethany class, No. 3, gave $22.50, Mrs. Provines teacher.

William G. Erick and wife entertained Grand Patron A. J. Smith and Grand Marshal H. A. Flynn, of the grand chapter of the O. E. S. at their home Saturday night and Sunday.

S. B. Dustman and wife, of New Haven, A. J. Smith, of Hobart, and H. C. Flynn, of Chester, were entertained at supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson Saturday evening.

R. U. Bowser motored to Huntertown Sunday, where he was joined by his parents, Theo. Bowser and wife, and all motored to Maples, where they visited their brother and son, Ivan Bowser and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Culbertson, of Auburn, visited their daughter, Mrs. George Henderson and family, Wednesday.

Clarence Kelley arrived Tuesday evening from Colorado, being called home by the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Dellas Kelley.

J. C. Vallien and family moved from the Wesley Zimmerman property into the J. A. Provines property Tuesday.

Harry Hursh came Saturday evening from Oklahoma, where he spent the past eighteen months with his father.

The Guild of the M. E. church will not hold its regular meeting this month on account of sickness and rush of work.

Misses Arminta and Jennie Steward expect to leave Tuesday for Waynesboro, Pa., where they will visit their cousin Mrs. Pluma Houser, and husband.

Mrs. DeLoss White, of Garrett, came Thursday for a visit with her parents and other relatives and friends.

The Road to Success.

The best brain effort and indigestion do not go hand in hand. If you would win a lasting success you must keep your stomach in good working order and your bowels regular. This is easily done if you go at it rightly. Mrs. C. C. Baker, Homer City, Pa., writes: "About two years ago I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation. After I began using Chamberlain's Tablets my condition improved. At the end of a week I could eat and sleep well." Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state for the Hellers' Four Winners Clothing company, to operate a store in Fort Wayne. Captial stock is listed at $20,000 and the directors named are B. C. Heller, A. E. Heller and E. Heller.

BEAUTY OF PICTURE WORLD DOESN'T MIND "DRESSING UP UGLY."

Pretty Marguerite is noted for her fascinating eyes and her striking brunette beauty.

But the jolly thing about this girl is that, though she has been called a picture beauty, she does not decline to "dress up" in any manner and hide her beauty if the occasion or part demands it.

She is one of the Ne Moyer sisters, who won a good deal of success on the Australian stage a couple of years ago. Since then she has been with the Lubin players.

Troublesome Hairs on Your Face or Neck

(Beauty Notes.)

A thick paste made with powdered delatone and water, and applied to objectionable hairs for two or three minutes, when removed will take every trace of hair with it and leave the skin firm and free from blemish. After this treatment has been employed, the skin should be washed to remove the remaining delatone. This is quick, harmless and certain, but to avoid disappointment, care should be taken to see that it is real delatone you get.

FAMOUS DANCER GIVES COMPLEXION SECRETS.

I've learned the secret of Dolores' entrancing beauty—the wondrous charm that has dazzled the courts of Europe and captivated vast audences everywhere. The famous dancer abhors rouges and cosmetics. Yet, despite the strenuosity of her life, she retains the incomparable complexion best described as "indescribable." An intimate friend tells me the senorita regularly uses on her face what druggists know as mercolized wax. This is applied at night in the manner cold cream is used and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead particles of skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish complexion is always in evidence.

Dolores' skin is not marred by a single wrinkle, not even the finest line. She wards these off by daily bathing the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. As your druggistores keep these ingredients, as well as mercolized wax (one ounce of the wax is sufficient), no doubt your readers will welcome this information.—Aileen Moore in Beauty's Mirror.

GET THE HABIT

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

Men and matter move along the lines of least resistance.

What you do often, becomes easy to do.

What is easy to do, soon becomes a habit.

Habit, before you know it, crystallizes into character. The habit of being truthful and honest, the habit of being industrious and saving, these soon come to constitute a character in which truth, honesty, industry and thrift predominate.

This isn't preaching, it's hard sense, and hard sense is God's truth.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 4:1-12.

1 And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them.

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

Inviting the Progressives Back.

No gathering of republicans in this year of grace neglects the formality of extending a very cordial and pressing invitation to the former members of that party who broke ranks in 1912 to follow the flag of Colonel Roosevelt to return to the republican fold. That has become as fixed and definite a formality as the "keynote" speech. It is conducted with much waving of flags and tearful appeals that are calculated to melt the stoniest of hearts and bring repentance of the sort that moved the prodigal son of old to cease his wanderings and return to the family fireside.

It will be observed, however, that while the pledge to forgive and forget is freely given, there is scrupulous care to go no farther than that. It is quite impossible to overlook, also, the rather important fact that the republican leaders who are directing the come-back-oh-come-back effort are precisely identical with the leaders who were directing affairs when the break came as a revolt against party dictatorship and control by the reactionaries. Whatever rehabilitation is to come, it must be distinctly understood, will be supervised by the same gentlemen whose tactics constituted the original ground for complaint. They are for party reform, but they insist on bossing the work of reformation themselves.

The recent Michigan state gathering at Detroit is a typical case in point. A very notable array of office-holders, state and national, and a still more numerous array of office-seekers from village constable upward, proclaimed the glad tidings of welcome to the Michigan progressives. Some of them, indeed, went to the length of declaring the belief that present republican office-holders in Michigan would be willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of party harmony, but there was a notable absence of any tender of party control to the returning hosts. It is placing too cheap an estimate on progressive principles to assume that the lure of office will outweigh the basic tenets of the doctrine they have espoused.

An Illinois banker accused of embezzling some $42,000 has just gone scot free under a legal technicality when it was shown that the banking concern had never been incorporated, that it was merely a partnership and that the law holds that a person cannot embezzle from his partners. Depositors who are skilled at extracting comfort from bad situations have here an excellent opportunity for the exercise of their talent in this direction.

The temporary halting of work on one branch of the survey for the lake-to-lake barge canal may have much or little significance, but it will inspire the devoted supporters of the big project to still greater efforts in its behalf. This is a most unseasonable time of year for army engineers or others to suffer an attack of the malady popularly known and designated as "cold feet."

Whatever may be the outcome of the lively little wet-and-dry fight now engaging the attention of Ninth ward citizens, the incident has served to demonstrate conclusively that saloon encroachment upon residential territory can be pressed too far for entire comfort and complacency to the liquor traffic in Fort Wayne.

The former announcement by Mr. Widney, of St. Joe, that he is a candidate for the progressive nomination for congress in the Twelfth district seems to indicate that he doesn't consider the case hopeless and that he isn't afraid of a fight.

From the small boy's standpoint the country is still safe. Already two big circuses are scheduled to visit Fort Wayne this year.

(By Fred L. Boalt.)

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 29.—General Funston has few friends among the youth of Vera Cruz.

Not only did he re-open the public schools on May 11, but he now says he fears the regular June examinations may be delayed a week or two.

The youth of Vera Cruz had figured on a summer vacation of indefinite length, and, kids being kids wherever found, their attitude towards the American occupation was like that of American children who exclaim:

"Goody, goody! Teacher's dead!"

and where prim little girls and sedate little boys sit in recess time in the shade of an orange tree, getting their lessons.

School over, they march decorously away from the building. But once around the corner, they let fall the mantle of decorum and become joyous young savages.

You will find among them all the school boy and girl types known in the states.

There is at the Diligencia hotel an American planter who has a black—a very black—eye.

It looks like any other black eye. But nowhere in the world, probably, is there a black eye so significant as this one. Or so, at least, it seems to me.

A peon soaked him in the eye with a cluster of knuckles.

"The damned scoundrel saw I was packing to quit the country," the planter explains. "For the life of me I can't see what he had it in for me for. It was his last chance, so he up and punched me."

That, however, is merely the planter's way of looking at it. You can hardly expect him to see clearly through a blackened eye. It and his feelings are sore.

Everywhere in the world there is popular discontent, if discontent can be said to be popular. There is also a growing hunch that most of us are not getting all that is coming to us.

This discontent finds expression in many ways. Great Britain has Lloyd-George and his land tax. Portugal and China recently kicked their rulers off their thrones and the people took into their own hands the reins of government. Italy and Spain may soon enjoy a similar experience. In Colorado the miners went to war with the militia.

And in Mexico a peon hits a planter in the eye.

They want the land, these peons. They are inarticulate, dumb. They have been starved, whipped, kept in ignorance, led by the nose. Their reasoning processes are curious and slow.

But they want the land.

Ask any soldier of Villa the rebel, what he is fighting for and he will answer: "To get the land."

He is trying with his rifle to do what Lloyd-George with his land tax is accomplishing in England—break up the big estates.

The rebels are in the north. But their faces and their rifles are turned toward the southland.

And in the southland a peon dares to fling a cluster of knuckles into the face of his master.

There is war on the plaza—bloodless, but bitter.

On the one side is The Widow.

On the other is the Mysterious Personage.

Because they hate each other so, they are inseparable and most affectionate. They play the game for points.

The game is this: If either can inveigle a colonel to stop for a chat, ten points are added to her score. A major counts seven, a captain five, a first lieutenant three and a second lieutenant one.

Naval and marine officers have similar values.

General Funston and Admiral Fletcher would be worth fifty points each if they ever came to the plaza, but they never do.

Ordinary correspondents count nothing.

THE ARBITRATION TREATIES.

(Indianapolis News.)

There are now between twenty and thirty arbitration treaties in existence, most of which have been ratified since February 22 last, when the senate approved the Wilson-Bryan treaty idea. We have had limited arbitration agreements for some years now with such countries as France, Germany and Great Britain. The racial relationship of the people of the latter country to those of this country makes possible a lasting understanding which almost precludes the possibility of disputes ending in hostilities.

Among the countries with which we now have arbitration agreements of some sort are Denmark, Japan, France, Germany, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Austria-Hungary, Switzerland, Italy, Sweden, Portugal, Spain and nearly every one of the Central and South American republics. The negotiations with Russia are at a standstill. The old commercial treaty, which was denounced by the Taft administration, has not been made. It is hoped that some agreement will be reached shortly. The treaties negotiated by the state department under Secretary Bryan carry, as is generally known, the fundamental idea of explanation before action is taken leading up to hostilities. In other words, publicity is provided, with The Hague as the medium, for international quarrels, much the same as questions of equity and law are settled for individuals. Where nations are concerned, however, questions affecting vital interests, independence or the national honor, and the rights of third parties, are not necessarily included as subjects for arbitration.

It is especially gratifying to witness the ratification of the Japanese-American treaty. For one thing it is a rebuke to the jingoes, and for another it shows the development of international understanding. The government of Japan is sorely beset with domestic troubles. It is not looking for a conflict with the American government. Rather does it look to the United States and is people for fairness in all matters pertaining to Japan and the Japanese. The ratification of this treaty would have an important influence on the California land controversy. Of course, the negotiation of arbitration treaties and their test by application are different. Yet such is the temper of the diplomatic mind today that the success of arbitration in an increasing degree is reasonably sure.

A MAN WHO MADE HIS LIFE COUNT.

(Kansas iCty Star.)

A great life purpose made Jacob Riis a national character. The thing that distinguished him from a million other young fellows who came to America to make their fortunes was his interest in those to whom he gave the name of the "other half."

He made it his job to see that conditions of living in some, at least, of the New York tenement districts were made easier. It wasn't a task imposed on him by somebody else, which he did perfunctorily, and abandoned as soon as he could. His enthusiasm came from within.

The improvement of housing conditions became a real passion with him his might have exclaimed with Ruskin that he could not paint or read or look at minerals or do anything else that he liked because of the misery that he knew of and saw signs of where he knew it not.

So this unknown reporter, by his energetic devotion to his cause, achieved fine results in New York City and made his work known all over the United States. His life was a splendid example of the power of an ideal to make a man count in the world.

THE SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION.

To the Editor of The Sentinel: I notice in last night's News that the question of Mr. Cook's successor is agitated and the desire to keep the board nonpartisan is advised. There are some mighty good and capable democrats mentioned who can fill Mr. Cook's shoes on the board and there are some few republicans who might be chosen, but if the council is going to put a republican in this position for the city school board, why not elect one who is living in the city? Mr. Cook has moved out of Fort Wayne and resides about two and one-half miles west of the city at Sprankle Station and is no longer a citizen of Fort Wayne. As a taxpayer and a democrat, I want a citizen of Fort Wayne to regulate our schools. Mr. Cook had better apply to the county superintendent for a position in the county schools if he still wishes to continue his activities in school work.

GAVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Augustin Verdin, a Mexican, Spoke About His Native Country.

Augustin Verdin, who was for some time private secretary to Madero in Mexico, gave an illustrated lecture Thursday evening at the Turner hall to a large and appreciative audience on his native country and also on his experiences there. He spoke in his native tongue and his address was translated by Prof. Claude Michelon. Over 200 slides were thrown on the screen to illustrate his lecture.

Verdin told of his imprisonment during the revolution in Mexico and how through the intercession of his friends he was able to escape to New Orleans. The cause of his imprisonment was that he knew the Mexican telegraph code. He closed his address by saying hat he loved the American flag and the American people because it was through these agencies that he gained his liberty.

PICK PEACHES? IT'S CRUEL.

Former Chicago Woman, Therefore, Sued for Divorce and $50,000.

Laporte, Ind., May 29.—Fifty thousand dollars and a divorce are asked by Mrs. Annie Geisen, until a year ago a resident of Chicago. She filed suit yesterday in the Laporte county superior court against her husband, Peter Geisen. The husband, who is said to be worth $100,000, was a bachelor farmer until a year ago, when he married the Chicago woman on brief acquaintance. The plaintiff charges cruelty, alleging her husband compelled her to pick peaches and it made her ill. A few days ago Geisen was arrested and fined for breaking into his wife's rooms and taking some of her personal belongings.

RETAIL CLERKS HAVE ORGANIZED

Meet With Woman's League Committee and Form Association.

ONE HUNDRED JOIN

One hundred retail store clerks met Thursday evening in the assembly room of the court house and completed the organization of the Fort Wayne Retail Store Clerks association by electing officers as follows:

President—Mrs. Agner Pennoyer.
Vice president—Minnie Conn.
Secretary—Margaret Bauss.
Treasurer—Anna Allen.

Representatives of the industriaal department of the Women's league attended and addressed the clerks and asked for the co-operation of the new organization in improving working conditions in the stores of the city. They also asked for co-operation in the effort the league is making to induce retail merchants to close their places of business at 6 o'clock each Saturday evening during the summer months.

The league was represented by Mrs. Olaf N. Guldlin, Mrs. Fred Thieme, Martha Hanna, Miss Minnie Baum and Mrs. Will Morris. On Monday evening the clerks will meet with the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants association and will present a petition asking for early closing on Saturday nights during the summer. Tuesday evening the new association will meet at the parlors of the Young Woman's Christian association and will perfect a set of by-laws and a constitution.

IN THE CHURCHES

Over 200 People Enjoy Feast at St. Paul's School Hall.

Over two hundred members of the Walther league of the St. Paul's Lutheran church enjoyed the three course banquet which was served in the large auditorium of the new school hall Thursday evening. Prof. F. Schroeder, principal of the parish school, presided as toastmaster and short talks were given by Rev. Paul Miller, Otto Koenig, C. Dannenfelser, Prof. G. Weller, Robert Wolf, O. A. Schuck, Dr. Edward Kruse and Chas. Sheiman.

During the evening each member of the 1913-14 basket ball team of the St. Paul's church were presented with a sweater coat in recognition of the faithful work performed during the season. Henry Schwehn rendered a bass solo and music was furnished by the St. Paul's orchestra.

Twenty ladies of the Young Ladies' society of the church assisted in serving the three course banquet which was prepared in the kitchen of the school hall under the direction of Mr. Stewart, of the Wayne hotel. Members of the committee of arrangements, to whom part of the success of this affair is due, were Theodore Miller, C. Dannenfelser and George Schuck.

Indiana Academy Holds Its Spring Meeting at South Bend.

DR. COULTER SPEAKS

South Bend, Ind., May 29.—The formal opening of the spring meeting of the Indiana Academy of Science took place last night at the auditorium of the high school. The address was delivered by Dr. John M. Coulter, of the University of Chicago, who spoke on "Plant Breeding and How It Will Help Solve the Problem of Our Food Supply."

Delegates left this morning for the field excursion. St. Joseph county, with its moraines and ancient and modern stream courses, embraces the territory which will be seen in part on the field excursion.

The country around South Bend is the meeting place of three great ice lobes, the Maumee, Saginaw and Michigan, and is especially interesting to geologists. Dr. Hugh T. Montgomery of this city, who has been a student of the ancient stream beds for years, will accompany the party as one of the guides. The local committee has provided automobiles for the visiting members so that a very large amount of territory can be covered.

The members of the academy were the guests of the local committee at the field luncheon at noon today. On the return of the excursionists the spring meeting dinner will be served at the Oliver hotel.

The meeting will close Saturday with a sightseeing trip around South Bend. The trip will conclude with a visit to Notre Dame. No election of officers will be held at this meeting but will be deferred until the meeting at Indianapolis next fall.

On account of Decoration day our store will be open Friday evening, but closed all day Saturday.

with using the mails to further a scheme to defraud, defaulted. His bond was $1,000. James Trogden, also of Terre Haute, pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with sending an obscene letter through the mails.

Vladislaw Mohalski, South Bend, pleaded guilty, and Morris Gott, of Lafayette, not guilty to indictments charging them with stealing freight in inter state transit. Of three Chinese of Evansville, indicted for bootlegging two, Yung Fong and Lo Fong, defaulted and the third, Yung Ying, pleaded not guilty.

White Slave Charges.

Grace Smith of Michigan City, charged with taking Laurette Welton and Lillian Fisher from Chicago to Michigan City for immoral purposes, pleaded not guilty to the indictment.

Harry Kimble admitted to the court that he had brought his wife, Bertha Och, from Cincinnati to Indianapolis and placed her in a resort here. Sentences were to be passed later.

of the Presbyterian church in the United States adopted the report of the com- States adopted the report of the com- disapproved of all secular uses of Sunday.

Rev. Thomas W. Smith of New York, and Rev. Henry L. Brown, of Chicago, pleaded that workingmen be given an opportunity for recreation on Sunday and vainly sought to amend the restriction against "all sports and games," substituting "commercialized" for the word "all." The report disapproved of all unnecessary travel and Sunday excursions. The adoption of the report was regarded as a victory for the conservative wing of the assembly. The assembly also condemned the Sunday newspaper and advocated Saturday half holiday. A resolution endorsing the national administration for its effort to avert war with Mexico was adopted.

The assembly prepared for adjournment here today with a record of work accomplished and important changes instituted without a trace of bitterness in its debates. Most far reaching of the innovations was the resolution for the re-organization of the home missions board for the purpose of making it more than ever an instrument of social service. The assembly also declared itself in favor of a federal divorce law.

An incident marking the good feeling of the assembly was the burning last night of all the paper in a litigation between Rev. Adolph Haberly and Rev. N. D. Shields of the South Oregon Presbytery. While Dr. Shields was a missionary in Siam several years ago, Dr. Haberly brought charges against him which were disapproved. Dr. Shields sued Dr. Haberly for slander and later the matter came before the assembly. Before the judiciary committee commenced the case last night all knelt in prayer and when they rose Dr. Haberly and Dr. Shields shook each other by the hand. The whole satchelful of papers was then burned.

eleven saloons doing business in the Ninth ward are not so clear. That is why pro-saloon element is working in a last-ditch fight to prevent if it can the filing of a sufficient blanket remonstrance to outlaw all saloons in the ward.

Withdrawals are Filed.

The wets filed a total of 493 names signed to withdrawal from the remonstrance Thursday and Friday with County Auditor Calvin H. Brown. There names were secured more or less indiscriminately by wet workers after the Ninth ward saloonkeepers and their supporters learned that the Schoenfeldt remonstrance was not a simple affair of antagonism to Gutermuth, but a blanket remonstrance that imperiled the entire liquor traffic in the Ninth ward. The work of securing signatures to the cards, in which power of attorney was conferred on William A. Bayer and Peter Deitschel to withdraw names from the remonstrance, was necessarily done in a hurry, not to say panic. Just how many of the 493 names were secured were those of actual signers of the remonstrance is not known and cannot be determined until the board of county commissioners goes over both the wet and the dry lists.

The drys claim over 1,100 names of bona fide voters. If the withdrawals include any considerable number of names that never were attached to the remonstrance, 493 withdrawals may not avail the saloon element to save itself if the final count shows the remonstrance to be as numerously signed as claimed, it will require 775 valid names to make the remonstrance effective.

Wets at a Disadvantage.

The wets were placed at a disadvantage by the terms of the law, which required the remonstrance to be filed four days in advance of the hearing and the time of grace expired at midnight, Thursday. The wets have until 5 o'clock this afternoon to file their remonstrance. The wets today put in their best licks to prevent the dry remonstrance from being made any stronger and believe they have a good many names from the anti-saloon lists.

Of the eleven saloons in the Ninth ward nine are situated on Wells and Cass streets. Two others are on Spy Run avenue near the State street bridge.

that he accepted mediation in principle on the condition that international questions alone should be discussed.

Gen. Carranza is unwilling that the question of a new provisional president should be discussed at any international conference. He holds that the occupation of Vera Cruz, which directly gave rise to the mediation proceedings, concerns all Mexican factions as well as the Huerta government and that the constitutionalists should have a voice in adjusting differences which caused the American troops to enter Mexico.

Puts Up New Question.

In his latest communication he restates his position and places before the mediators the question of whether they will consider him in adjustment of the international side of the Mexican situation. The mediators held in their first communications with Carranza that the international and internal questions were inseparable and asked that an armistice be agreed upon between Gen. Huerta and Carranza. To this Gen. Carranza failed to agree and the mediators withdrew their invitation. When the mediators learned of the arrival of the constitutionalist agent it was said the negotiations had proceeded to a point where the constitutionalists could hardly hope to have a voice.

It was said the mediators gladly would have received a representative of Carranza if he had accepted their offer when it was first made, but the invitation extended originally was withdrawn because of the refusal of Carranza to declare an armistice and because of his desire to be informed in advance of the opening of the conference just what points would be taken up.

At a Standstill.

Conferences here are at a standstill awaiting replies from Washington and Huerta on the plan of the mediators for the settlement of the Mexican question which is now before them. Even after the negotiations had proceeded well on their way Carranza's representative would have been received if the constitutionalist leader had agreed to an armistice. The mediators are maintaining secrecy in the present stage of their proceedings, but it is understood the names of those who will compose the provisional government in Mexico have been selected. None of them will be made public, however, until all the machinery is ready for the transition from the Huerta regime.

TEXT OF CARRANZA COMPLAINT.

Rebel Chieftain Now Believes He Was Snubbed.

Durango, Mexico, May 29.—Gen. Carranza yesterday sent a message to his representative at Washington complaining of what he inferred was the failure of the A B C mediators to request him to appoint delegates to the peace parley at Niagara Falls, Ont. He expressed doubt that the negotiations would be successful without representation of the constitutional faction. The Carranza proclamation was addressed to Rafael Capmany, his minister of the interior, but evidently was directed at the mediators. The full text of an unofficial translation as received here follows:

"Six days ago conferences began to treat the international conflict between the United States and Mexico occasioned by the arrest of several American sailors by soldiers of Huerta at Tampico. To solve this conflict you offered to the government of the United States, to Huerta and to me, your good offices, inviting me to appoint delegates who would represent the general headquarters of the constitutionalist army, which is under my orders.

"I answered you that in principle I would accept your good offices and later in a separate message I stated the points which should be dealt with in the peace conference. Awaiting an answer to that dispatch I have not named delegates.

"I am surprised that you have not continued to treat for a solution of the conflict between the United States and the constitutionalist army, which is in my orders and represents the majority of the people and the largest armed force of the republic.

"For this reason I state to you that I believe the conflict between the United States and Mexico will not be solved in future conferences unless in these conferenced there are represented the general headquarters of the constitutionalist army."

Carranza in his message, it was pointed out, by observers, only referred to the international difficulties between Mexico and the United States, not granting that the mediation proceedings had to do with the arrangement of the domestic affairs of the republic.

Pullen, driver of an American car, ranked thirty-first in the speed trials, and will take De Palma's place if he can get his car in shape in time, otherwise Gilhooly, in his Italian car will enter.

Thirty automobile race drivers, the pick of the world, with their mechanicians and relief drivers, spent today putting the finishing touches to their mounts, which at 10 o'clock tomorrow will strive for first honors in the fourth annual 500 mile race at the Motorspeedway. Every piece of mechanism was gone over carefully and tuned to obtain the greatest speed possible, consistent with durability. While the drivers tinkered on their cars, which represent five nations, an army of workmen cleaned the 2 1-2 mile brick track in preparation for the contest. Indianapolis is taking on a holiday appearance with most all the stores and buildings decorated for the occasion. The down town streets are lined with dust covered automobiles and steady processions were unloading the begoggled passengers at the hotel entrances all day many having motored from distant states to Indianapolis for the contest. The race is the one-absorbing topic on the streets and wagers are being made freely, the Frenchmen, Goux, winner of last year's race, and Boillot, his team mate, ruling favorites.

HOORAY! CIRCUS IS COMING!

Hooray!

The circus is coming. The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined, one of the largest circus organizations on the road, will be seen in Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16. The circus day program calls for performances at 2 and 8 p. m. and a magnificent street pageant on the down town streets at 10 o'clock in the morning, preceding the first performance.

The elephants, the camels, the women dressed in fluffy pink tarletons, a glitter with spangles, will be here and, most essential of all, the rumbling of red and yellow wagons without which there wouldn't be a circus at all. Then of course there will be oceans of pink lemonade and peanuts galore.

Once a year the hearts of the young and old turn to the circus. And the small boy dreams of clowns and tooting calliopes, giants and giantesses, little tents and big tents, the concert band and the clown band, the gold and glitter and the 1,001 things which pertain to that holiday circus day, said to be better than Christmas and Fourth of July combined.

But for the older, who want to be shown, the circus statistician has facts to prove that the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows have the most wonderful circus performance yet presented. There are more than 300 circus artists of international fame. They represent almost every country in the civilized world. Among a few feaures besides the celebrated Carl Hagenbeck trained wild animals will be Herr Von Ritter, the "upside down man," who slides on his head down a silver wire from the highest point in the arena; the Fischer-Ward troupe of twelve aerialists; the Eugene troupe of twelve male acrobats, the Davenports, Stackers, Powells and half a hundred equestrians. The performance is given in three rings, two elevated stages, a steel girded arena and on a one-fourth of a mile hippodrome track. Fifty clowns will look after the fun. The Carl Hagenbeck menagerie is said to be the finest in the world.

Dance Connoisseur Has Her Experience With Tango Parties

Mabel Wilber

Miss Mabel Wilber, who as "The Merry Widow," has waltzed several circles around the United States, had a brand new experience the other day in dancing.

As a member of the exclusive Gamut club of New York, Miss Wilber attended a soiree. Her partner was a solemn-visaged gentleman. Of course, tea and tango were features. The music started. "We shall first try No. 2," said the solemn-faced partner to the clever dancer.

"I don't wnow what No. 2 is," said Miss Wilber, "but I'll try it."

"Unless you are familiar with No. 2 we'd better begin with No. 3. It's simple," replied the man.

Miss Wilber looked dazed and then laughing, said: "I think we'd better have an understanding about this tango before we go any further."

Then it developed that the solemn-faced individual had learned ten ways to tango by correspondence. Numbers instead of names were used.

They sat out the dance.

Judges Decide on Applicants from European School of Music.

The gold medals offered by the faculty of the European School of Music for highest scholarship and attainment in recital before a committee of judges will be bestowed on Miss Helena Spindler, for piano; on Earl Thompson, in vocal; on Charles Thornburg, of Auburn, for violin. These students averaged the highest in work for the year at the school and in a recital given Thursday evening before a committee of judges. The medals will be awarded at an invitation entertainment and recital to be given next Wednesday evening in Elks' hall by pupils of the school. There were a number of students of the school who were in the contest recital given on Thursday evening, and though they could not see the committee of critics, each student knew his work was being judged and there was some individual nervousness manifested. The committee of judges had only a number to designate the performer they were criticising. The marks of the judges were afterwards combined with the standing for the year given by the teachers of the departments on a basis of twenty points as the highest number of credit given. The committee of judges was composed of Eugene Troendel, Mrs. D. Fred Urbahns, Mrs. Florence Huebner Dukes, Mrs. B. W. Rhamy, Mrs. Harry M. Williams, Miss Zona Hopkins. The results of those obtaining the highest marks are: In piano, Miss Helen Spindler, 18.8; Miss Leah Gardner, of Wabash, 17.2; in violin, Miss Dorothy Cox, 14; Charles Thornburg, of Auburn, 16; in vocal, Miss Helen Thomas, of Huntington, 16; Earl Thompson, 16.9.

AMERICAN WOMEN WHO ARE WIVES OF THE GREAT

WASHINGTON WOMAN WHO IS CONSTANT COMPANION OF HER HUSBAND.

Here is a bright, clever captivating, popular woman who believes it is finer to be a factor in the successful career of her husband than to have a career all her own!

She is Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, who is said not to have separated from her husband over 24 hours at one time in the last 17 years.

"I do not believe that any man can rise to any great height," says Mrs. Marshall, "the wif has greater ambition for herself than for her husband. And for a woman to have more sense than her husband I regard as a calamity. It is a source of continual self-gratification to me that I married a man who is cleverer than I."

Although Mrs. Marshall makes these public assertions, it is known that there are a few women in the Washington circle whose brains are any better polished than hers.

She is not a suffraget, for she believes feminine interests should center at the home. Yet she is so broad in her view of woman's sphere as to say it encompasses the whole world.

Mrs. Marshall was the only one of the wives of the six national candidates who when campaigning prior to the last presidential election. And she went because her husband went. Her main purpose was to attend to such motherly duties as seeing that her hubby wore his overcoat or that he didn't get his feet wet. But incidentally she made lots of votes for him by her perennial good nature and pleasantry.

Mrs. Marshall has made close to 2,000 calls since she has been in the capital city. Contrary to many women who are obliged to keep up the system of etiquet necessary to official life, she thinks the business of calling not a bore at all.

"If we women must give up something," she says, "let it be two or three teas an afternoon, not our calls. I believe in calling. It leads to feeling."

AT THE MAJESTIC.

At the Majestic theater today and tomorrow David Belasco's photoplay of Belot's famous novel, "The Stranglers of Paris." This is truly a work of art, a masterpiece in the true sense of the word. It carries an appeal for all ages and for all people regardless of race or religion. The picture production loses nothing; if anything, it gains strength for that very reason, for it gives the director a chance to get that beauty in scenery that belong only to nature and cannot be duplicated on the stage no matter how great the artists may be. "The Stranglers of Paris" is Belot's best work and then when you know that David Belasco (sometimes called the father of American drama) put his time and thought into the production of this story you know that you will see something well worth while.

AT THE EMPRESS

Lovers of music in every nature are finding the "treat of their lives" at the Empress with the present bill. Exceptionally good audiences witnessed the performances last night and this afternoon with much interest.

The bill affords one the opportunity of seeing all kinds of fetes worked in with music. Even the comedy talking jugglers, "The Ozavs," bring in some comedy that is well worth hearing.

But the rarest treat of all is the act by Ben Harney & company. This act—composed of two men and a woman—is one of the best of its kind that has appeared in Fort Wayne. Haas brothers, with their novelty bar work, are also among the best of their kind. Their work is exceptional in every respect.

All grocery stores will close Saturday, May 30th, at 12 o'clock, in honor of the day. 28-2t

There was a big crowd in attendance and excellent program and the affair was the most successful of its kind ever attempted by the brotherhood.

CITY READY FOR DECORATION DAY

Complete Schedule for Line of March and Formation of Parade.

Will move promptly at 1:30 p. m. on East Berry to Barr street, south on Barr to Holman street, west on Holman to Calhoun street, north on Calhoun to Columbia street, west on Columbia to Harrison street, south on Harrison to Wayne street, west on Wayne to Rockhill street, north on Rockhill to Main street and west on Main street to Lindenwood cemetery.

Everything is in readiness for a successful and enthusiastic observance of Decoration Day in Fort Wayne Saturday, providing the weather remains favorable and under the direction of Captain James B. White camp, No. 171, Sons of Veterans, the entire city will join in honoring the memory of deceased soldiers of the civil war.

The program will begin at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning when specially appointed decorating committees visit the different cemeteries and decorate the graves of approximately 800 soldiers with flowers that are being arranged in wreaths today by members of the Woman's Relief corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. A major portion of these flowers were donated by the children of the public schools.

The usual exercises at Lawton park will be held at 10 o'clock. Oswald Woebbeking will preside as chairman and the program opens when flowers are thrown on the water in memory of sailors and marines. At the monument of General Henry W. Lawton the principal address will be delivered by Rev. William A. Griest, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. Two songs will be sung by the audience and the usual dirge will be played by the Citizens' band.

At Lindenwood.

Mayor William J. Hosey is to preside at the annual services at 2:30 o'clock at Lindenwood cemetery. The ritualistic work will be given under the direction of Captain James B. White camp, Sons of Veterans, and Captain Thomas W. Blair will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The Dudley Buck quartet will render several selections and three girls, Margaret Metzner, Pearl Joyce and Genevieve Curtis will decorate the cenotaph in honor of the unknown soldier dead.

At the speakers' stand the program will open with prayer by Rev. H. C. Hadley and will be followed by a song. Rev. John R. Quinlan, pastor of the Cathedral, will deliver the address of the day. The program will close with song and benediction pronounced by Rev. D. H. Guild, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The parade formation is as follows:

Boys Scouts to Help.

Announcement is made by Scout Commissioner Jackson that the boy scouts will not march in the Decoration Day parade, but they will go along the sidewalks and streets giving first aid to the injured and the aged and feeble who need attention in crossing streets or avoiding vehicles. The boys will wear full uniforms but will not carry their regulation staffs. The scouts will meet at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the southeast corner of Berry and Court streets.

Few More Autos Needed.

Chief Marshal Geller announced today that from ten to fifteen more automobiles were still needed to carry the veterans in the parade. Owners of cars are asked to report with their machines at 1 o'clock tomorrow in front of the Lincoln Life building on East Berry street.

Want to take an auto ride? Tel. 311. Low rates.

WIVES OF A. B. C. PEACE MEDIATORS ARE CAPITAL FAVORITES.

Mme de Naon, wife of the Argentine minister to Washington, and Mme. de Suarez, wife of the minister from Chile, have the distinction of being the "better halves" of two of the A.-B.-C. peace triumvirate at Niagara Falls.

The wife of the third member, the Brazilian minister, is Mme. Da Gama.

Mme. de Naon has been noted all the winter for the hospitality which she has been dispensing at her Washington home. This summer she and her husband have found a delightful old place up in the Blue Ridge at Buena Vista, not too far from Washington to allow many week-end parties during the summer.

Mme. de Suarez, who is equally popular at the capital, is cheerfully leaving her summer plans until she learns at what date her husband will be free to join her.

SULPHUR IS THE ONLY THING FOR ITCHING ECZEMA

Use like cold cream to subdue irritation and clear the skin.

In the treatment of the various forms of disfiguring, itching and burning Eczema, such as Acne, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, there is nothing known that can take the place of bold-sulphur cream.

It effects such prompt relief, even in the aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. Bold-sulphur is not only parasiticidal, but antipruritic and antiseptic, therefore invaluable in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed, raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should obtain from any good pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the abrasion like an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome.—Adv.

Wells-Fargo Express to Supplant U. S. on Big System.

New York, May 29.—Announcement was made today that the Wells-Fargo and company July 1 will assume the express business of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system. The acquisition of these contracts will take the express company into three cities not hitherto served directly by it—Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

The company supercedes the United States Express company on the Baltimore and Ohio and its affiliated lines. The United States Express company announced several months ago that it would wind up its express operations June 30 and prepare to liquidate. It is understood that Wells-Fargo and company will make efforts to retain the employes of the company it supercedes in the cities it is entering for the first time.

A vast road system is projected for Cuba by the department of public works. The scheme is much the same as the project introduced in the preceding session of congress. It provides for a great central highway from La Fe, in the extreme western part of Cuba, to Baracoa, in the east.

Gen. Funston's Great Story, "Memories of Two Wars"

Campaigning With Garcia—Funston Starts for New Siege With Famous Chief.

CHAPTER V.

By Gen. Frederick Funston.

After the brief but exciting Cascorra campaign, Gen. Maximo Gomez and his force, about 1,000 men, infantry, cavalry and artillery, with two guns, had marched to the eastward, and in a few days was encamped alongside the force of General Calixto Garcia, about 2,000 men, that, after a forced march made in obedience to orders from Gomez, had just arrived.

Gen. Funston.

We Americans, having learned that Gen. Zarcia also had a few guns officered by our countrymen, proceeded to look up these latter without delay, and found several likable and interesting men who were to be our comrades.

These were Maj. Winchester Dana Osgood, who had won fame as a football player at Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania; Capt. William Cox, of Philadelphia; Lieuts. Stuart S. Janney and Osmun Latrobe, jr., of Baltimore, and James Debine, of Texas, and Dr. Harry Danforth, of Milwaukee. All except the latter, who served as a medical officer, belonged to the artillery, with Osgood in command.

As General Garcia, like General Gomez, had but two guns, it will be seen that the artillery of both forces was considerably over-officered. But this fault extended throughout the whole insurgent army.

We were soon presented to General Garcia, and were most kindly received by him, who was to be our future commander.

He was a man of most striking appearance, being over six feet tall and rather heavy, and his hair and large mustache were snow-white. What at once attracted attention was the hole in his forehead, a souvenir of the ten years' war.

On September 3, 1874, being about to fall into the hands of the Spaniards, and believing his execution to be a certainty, he had fired a large-caliber revolver upward from beneath his lower jaw, the bullet making its exit almost in the center of his forehead. It is safe to say that not one man in ten thousand would have survived so terrible an injury.

He was taken prisoner, and owed his life to the skill of a Spanish surgeon, though he remained in prison until the end of the war, four years later. To the day of his death, nearly twenty-four years later, the wound never entirely healed, and he always carried a small wad of cotton in the hole in his skull.

General Garcia was a man of the most undoubted personal courage, and was a courteous and kindly gentleman. He seldom smiled, and I never heard him laugh but once, and that was when on one occasion he fired every one of the six shots in his revolver at a jutea, a small animal, without disturbing its slumbers.

General Garcia's staff consisted of about a dozen young men of the best families of Cuba. All of them spoke English, a great convenience for us foreigners who were constantly under the necessity of communicating with them.

The chief of staff was Col. Mario Menocal, a graduate of Cornell and a civil engineer by profession. He was a most capable and daring soldier, and his rise had been rapid. He was the nominee of the conservative party for the presidency of Cuba at the last election.

Another member of the staff was Col. Carlos Garcia, a son of the general and the present Cuban minister to the United States. He was a great friend of all of us Americans.

General Garcia's force, having been raised in the province of Santiago, had a much larger proportion of negroes than the one that we had been with. With him here were several well known negro chieftains, among them Rabi and Cebreco, the former one of the most striking looking men I have ever seen.

The Cuban negroes in the insurgent army were to me a most interesting study. They seemed much more forceful and aggressive than our own colored population as a rule, probably the result of most of the older ones having served in the ten years' war. And then, too, they had lived a more outdoor life than the majority of the negroes of our northern states, being plantation hands and small farmers, and had not been weakened and demoralized by city life.

A surprising fact was that not a few of the older negroes of Cuba were born in Africa. Although the foreign slave trade was abolished by law many years ago, it is a matter of common knowledge that up to as late as 1870 small cargoes of slaves from the west coast of Africa were run into Cuba. These African soldiers often conversed among themselves in their native dialect.

After a few days in camp to allow the men and horses of both forces to rest, the 3,000 of us marched toward doomed Guaimaro, and drew our lines about the town. The combined forces were under the command of General Gomez, he being the insurgent commander-in-chief. General Garcia had with him two guns, a Hotchkiss twelve-pounder and a two-pounder of the same make, they being identical with the two guns that Gomez had used at Cascorra, and that we had brought with us. So we now had four pieces of artillery.

The Spanish garrison, about 300 men of the Second battalion of Tarragona was commanded by a major and was distributed among eleven defensive positions, mostly large two-story block houses, called fortines, though the strongest positions were the brick church with stone tower and the barracks, the former in the south part of the town and the latter at its southwest corner. All of these had earth banked up around them to the lower tier of portholes and were surrounded by barb-wire entanglements. All except the church were also surrounded by standing trenches.

The key to the situation was the Fortin Gonfu, an isolated blockhouse on a low hill due north of the center of the town and 700 yards from the circle of blockhouses surrounding it. The nearest support was the Fortin Isabella. Once established in the Gonfu blockhouse, the Cubans would completely dominate the town, which lay in easy artillery range on the level ground to the southward.

On the night of October 16th Gomez and Garcia, with their staffs and personal escorts, were encamped about a mile to the north of the Gonfu position, and we Americans with our four guns were near them. I had been commissioned a captain immediately after the Cascorra campaign, but, Osgood being a major, I was ranked by him, and he was very properly placed in command of all the artillery.

General Garcia's fine band struck up. The Cubans were making no attempt to conceal their presence from the garrison, and, the wind being favorable, the music must have been heard in the town. It no doubt gave the Spaniards a creepy feeling when they heard the Cuban national hymn, "The Bayames," and listened to the cheers and the shouts of "Cuba libre!" that followed its playing.

MAP OUT CAMPAIGN PLANS.

Progressives Frame Up System for Coming Political Battle.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 29.—The program of the progressive party in the campaign this fall, as outlined thus far, is understood to be as follows:

1.—No amalgamation with the republican party, as such.

2.—Fusion tickets in cases in which candidates who accept the policies of the progressive party are nominated, where the naming of two candidates of this description would split the liberal vote.

3.—Insistence on policies rather than party names, and an endeavor to consolidate in every state the voters who approve of the principles of the progressive party.

4.—In New York state the endorsement of the republican candidate for governor provided he is a man personally acceptable to the progressives and is willing to approve their platform unequivocally.

While Colonel Roosevelt declined to commit himself publicly to this program it was learned from an excellent source that the progressive leaders had virtually decided to adopt tentatively the foregoing plans of action.

WILL OBSERVE THE FEAST OF WEEKS

Special Services at Synagogue in Commemoration of Shabuoth

SATURDAY EVENING

Special services will be held Saturday evening at the Achduth Vesholm synagogue, corner Wayne and Harrison streets, in observance of Shabuoth, the Feast of Weeks. The subject of the sermon will be "Israel's Call." The confirmation services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and the children will conduct the services from the beginning. Everyone who wishes to attend is asked to be seated at the time the services start.

Shabuoth, "The Feast of Weeks," also called "The Feast of the First Fruits," falls according to the Jewish calendar on the sixth of Sivan, which will occur this year on the 31st of May. Its name is derived from the seven weeks which elapsed between the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt and their arrival at Mt. Sinai. Like its companion holiday, the Feast of Passover, it, too, has both an agricultural and a historical aspect. This was the early harvest season when the first of the wheat, baked in two loaves of bread, was brought as an offering of gratitude, and as a token of man's dependence upon the kindness of God. Historically it carries us back in memory to the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, when Israel accepted the new moral code and religious legislation, and was aroused for the first time to the consciousness of its new spiritual task and destiny. The Ten Commandments are the Magna Charta of Religion. Having secured political freedom, Moses found it necessary to give his people religious freedom. The new nation must be buttressed upon religious obligation. They may be a kingdom, but they must be a kingdom of priests, a holy nation.

Shabuoth has gained a stronger and a more impressive hold today by entwining its symbolism about the impressionable child. "Confirmation" is the ceremony expressive of religious consecration. We publicly affirm by this ceremonial that our children, the first ripe fruits of our religious schools, shall stand morally and religiously in the same enthusiastic and receptive attitude as did their fathers at the foot of Mt. Sinai.

Shabuoth has a distinctly modern and indispensable appeal to the individual. It teaches, first of all, that religion, as a necessity of life, is the actuating motive and sanction of personal, social and national character. Secondly, it champions the cause of religious freedom as the most highly prized privilege and possession of the human race.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

LOOKS FOR LOSS ONCE IN A WHILE

(Jerry Conners in Dayton News.)

Barring a run of tough luck in the matter of injuries, those Vets ought to have a pretty comfortable lead before they leave Highland park the next time. They came home Thursday afternoon to start a twelve-game series on the local lot and as they now have a seven-game lead over their closest competitors, it can be seen they have a fine chance to be away out in front the next time they embark. No Dayton team has ever played more consistent ball than this years aggregation, and now that they have tackled every other club in the league, it looks as if they [illegible] be doped to keep up their good work. Of course they will lose a few games now and then, but indications are that only a shattered line-up can prevent them from continuing their high-class play. The club has shown its class on the present trip. After losing the last two games here to Fort Wayne, the bunch went to Evansville and dropped three of their four contests. Some of the faint hearted fans thought they saw the beginning of the finish at that time, but later developments have shown that Johnny Nee had the rigt idea when he said the boys were merely in a hitting slump and would soon be rapping the ball at their early season speed. Since leaving Evansville they have taken three out of four at Terre Haute and four straight from Fort Wayne, winning six of their last seven games and securing better than an even break on their long trip. The win here yesterday helped some.

Some big attendance marks are pretty sure to be hung up at Highland during this stay at home. No Dayton team was ever better liked than the present one, and the fans are evincing more interest than they have in years. They are realizing every day that Manager Nee has colected a high-class outfit and that the team is one of the best evar organized in the Central league. During this stay at Highland park the Vets are scheduled for two holiday and two Sunday games. Saturday they are booked for morning and afternoon encounters with the Tots and next Sunday they meet the Springfield club, which is no longer a weakling. On the following Sunday they are to battle Grand Rapids. If some record attendances do not feature the next three series there will be quite a few surprised folks in this section.

"Dutch" Meister is certainly repaying Johnny Nee's faith in his ability with interest. The big fielder is rapidly developing into one of the best hitters on the team and despite his exceptionally poor start is now over the .250 mark and climbing every day. Tuesday he came across with four safe drives out of five trips and is rapidly getting close to the leading swatters in the line-up. As his fielding has been high class all season it is evident Meister is going to be a powerful factor in the success of the Soldier team this year.

Ward Clemens still leads the Vet hitters by a nice margin, but Johnny Nee is surely giving him a battle. Inasmuch as he is the lead off man, Johnny has gone to bat more times than Ward and therefore there as forty-eight points separating the two in the averages, though Clemens has made just four more hits than his boss. These first four men in the line-up certainly loom up like a real wrecking crew. No pitcher has anything like a cinch, when the first four men to face him have respective batting averages of .331, .278, .379 and .310.

Phil Stremmel had his troubles Tuesday, but the big boy is generally so good that a little off day now and then is overlooked. At that Phil must appreciate the difference between this year's club and the 1913 outfit. Last year Stremmel lost game after game, when a few runs would have given him a victory. Now he can be hammered and still win, as his mates are there with the old-fashioned wallop.

Whooping Cough—A Safe and Reliable Remedy.

"When my children had whooping cough a few years ago the only medicine I gave them was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. D. O. Vernon, Burrows, Ind. "It never failed to relieve their coughing spells. It kept their coughs loose. The children liked it better than any other cough medicine, and I know it is safe and reliable." BASE BALL PLAYERS ARE NOT ALL REAL VEGETARIANS IF REPORTS ARE TO BE TRUSTED.

By HUGH FULLERTON

A reader wants to know if it is true that most players are vegetarians. Believing there are others who would also like to know what is on the players' bills of fare, here goes:

Ed Reulbach owes much of his wonderful control to cheese, ham and chicken sandwiches. He is a great lover of chicken sandwiches and even misses trains at Cleveland to get them. In extreme cases he also eats egg or fish sandwiches. During the summer, when the Brooklyn club is traveling at night, every time the train stops Reulbach's window is hoisted and his voice can be heard saying:

'Oh, boy, is there any place around here where I can a sandwich?"

Frank Schulte, of the Cubs, developed much of his home run hitting power by eating a sandwich and drinking a bottle of beer before retiring. He always retires after one bottle of beer if there are no others.

Zimmerman, the great hitter, loves lobster a la Newberg, and champagne after midnight. They serve to lower his temperature to 166 degrees.

Johnny Evers, of Boston, subsists almost entirely upon fudge. He always carries ten or twelve pounds of it in his trunk on road. Contrary to general belief he does not like crabs. In fact if the waiter places one before him he construes it into an insult.

"Red" Killifer, the famous Philadelphia catcher, attributes his jumping powers to having eaten a kangaroo steak when young.

Larry McLean, of the Giants, loves animals. It is related that as a young man he swallowed a box of animal crackers and preserved them in alcohol so that they might always be with him.

The mistaken impression that John McGraw, the Giant leader, eats raw meat sprinkled with gunpowder is widespread. He prefers Broadway lobster and goose eggs, a la Mathewson.

Connie Mack is a peculiar eater. His breakfast consists of one icicle, his lunch of snowballs and his dinner of Collins' ice cream, Barry's, and Baker's goods; Planked shad and Murphys, which he Lapps up.

Hughie Jennings is very partial to corn on the Cobb.

During the winter the majority of players eat corned beef and cabbage, boiled potatoes, and such simple diet, but immediately upon starting training they change the diet to roast golden pheasant on toast and Russian caviar excepting on occasions when the secretary gives each $1 to buy his own meal. Then they are not hungry, or eat baked beans or a ham sandwich.

HERE'S ANOTHER CAPTAIN.

Capt F. W. Barrett

All the players on the English polo team are experienced and should be able to give a good account of themselves. And as far as a leader goes they all seem to be captains as far as the title goes. Capt. F. W. Barrett is one of the four who will uphold the honor of England.

FIRST RACE FOR HALF MILE TRACK

Motor Driven Machines to Have Chance at a Famous Course.

EXPECT A BIG CROWD

For the first time in the history of a famous race course which has just been revived and reopened, motor-driven racers will appear at Centilvre park on Decoration day, and the half mile course on which some of the great harness racers of a few years ago appeared will be given over to speed events with gasoline supplying the speed.

Eight entries and five events on the card insures that there will be a big attendance as the events held at the Driving park last year made the sport popular. The noted riders who will take part are William Breier, William Rowe, H. E. Thompson, Pineau and C. W. Voss.

Pineau is the loop-the-loop artist who won fame in a dare-devil exhibition at Atlantic City. The only local entry on the list is F. A. Demint. For the last day or two many of the riders have been trying out their machines on the course and they agree that with weather conditions favorable they can get some real speed out of them.

There will be plenty of seating capacity for everybody and the formal opening of the season is expected by the promoters to attract widespread attention.

PENNANT BEE IS BUZZING AROUND

Evansville Has It and Club Play Seems to Justify It.

Evansville, Ind., May 29.—That old pennant bee has been buzzin' 'round down in this pocket country for the last ten days or so and the Evansville baseball bug has been stung so hard that there is talk of overhauling Dayton in the chase for the gonfalon and sticking another flag on the pole that has been waiting for many years, as only one Central league emblem ever floated from it.

The fact that the home talent jumped on Harry Martin and his crippled Billikens in the opening game of the series and that on the last home stay the Evas set Dayton back in three of the contests has had more or less to do with the buzzing but local patrons believe that Manager Charles "Punch" Knoll has a good ball club and that he is encouraged by the fact that he is off to a good start in his individual work.

In common with the Vets, the locals have seven games more at home and will tackle Terre Haute following the present series, and it is believed that a position can be maintained that will keep the club in touch with the head of the procession.

This city led last year in the matter of attendnce with a tail-end proposition, and now it is drawing better than ever with a club that is fighting its way right up in the lead and is setting the pace for Dayton. Big crowds are anticipated at both of the games here tomorrow unless bad weather interferes.

Manager Harry Martin is thoroughly discouraged. He attributes most of his trouble to lack of a hard hitting outfield and the fact that Allen did not join the club indicated to his mind that the deal has gone awry and he wired Charley Alberts at Fort Wayne last night asking him to play the outfield for him temporarily. He does not expect to use him permanently as he is probably out of condition, but he wants him so he can relieve his pitching staff, which is having some hard work to do, and which is wavering under the combination of pitching, playing outfield and intense heat.

He did not know why Allen had failed to join the club but his release of Barrett after he found out Tommy Atkins had a broken rib indicates that he expected the dicker for the new man would go through in a hurry. Allen was offered some time ago to Fort Wayne, but for some reason or other was not accepted.

The story of the first game here is a repetition of those in which defeats have been sustained in such rapid succession that they are becoming entirely too common. The lack of that old punch in the pinch is felt every day, and even Ollie Welch, who was turned down for a couple of fielders immensely less valuable than he would be a welcome sight to the pitchers.

True, the Billikens chased Pitcher Gregory in the sixth but this was simply a safety first move on the part of Manager Knoll, as the visitors were at no time more than one run in the lead, and the hurler was removed because the intense heat was telling on him.

George Washington Harden took up the running and held the Billikens in check for the last three rounds. Fort Wayne scored first run in the second inning with two men gone. Beyers, sent to cover center field in place of Bramble, who was the pitching selection, negotiated a double and Smykal followed with a single that enabled the runner to complete the circuit.

In the last half of the third Kibble hunted and beat the throw, Stratton sacrificed and the pitcher went down easily, but Tepe hit over the fence for a homer and scored with Kibble. Three were added in the fifth. With one gone, Stratton, Gregory and Tepe got safe hits, Matthews hit through the infield, scoring two, and Bratchi's throw to third went wild and let in another. Smykal hit for a home run in the sixth after Beyers had been passed and two runs resulted but one in the eighth and another in the ninth were added to the Evansville collection and th game was never in danger.

AHEM!

"I had four blow-outs on the road last night!"

FISHER RELYING ON HIS ALMANAC

ALL SET FOR GOING

Indianapolis, May 29.—With thirty of the world's fastest cars in line, the annual 500 mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway Decoration day only needs good weather to make it perfect. Concerning the latter contingency, Carl Fisher, head of the organization staging the event, says he has no fear, his old standby De Voe's weather almanac, having predicted a clear sky.

De Voe has never played him false, Fisher says, and, therefore, he is willing to gamble on his judgment, despite the assertion of meteorological experts, who declare it is impossible to tell anything about the matter more than twenty-four hours ahead.

All of the races held on the speedway to date have been run under most favorable circumstances, even though bad weather was common in the immediate vicinity. On one occasion it rained as close as twenty-five miles round, the scene of the race, however, remained undisturbed.

Almost as important as fair weather is the temperature, as on this depends very largely whether the present record, held by Dawson, is broken or not. Tires stand up well only if kept cool. The amount of heat generated by the track, therefore, is vital.

On this subject De Voe again has to impart some very interesting information, predicting a hot, sultry contest, with lots of warmth before and after. If this prognostication should hold good, Dawson's mark is liable to remain untouched, even though the aspirants to his crown are much faster.

Speed on a hot day may go so far as to prove a handicap rather than a help, tempting a driver to travel faster than he ought, and thus fetching him to the pits for tire changes much oftener than necessary. During one of these moments a more conservative competitor is liable to slip ahead and win.

The crowd at the contest seems assured, advance seat sales being about 40 per cent. ahead of last season, though there are still a good many desirable locations to be had. Approximately 100,000 people are expected.

Indianapolis hotel and rooming facilities are ample to take care of every demand, even in the event of a postponement to the following Monday, the speedway and the newspapers co-operating to accommodate all visitors. None need roam for want of a place to lay his head.

Even so, there will be many to decorate the streets the entire night before the contest, many old-timers priding themselves on their ability to stay up and greet the dawn the morning of the race, fresh as daisies, and ready for the time of their lives.

A more cosmopolitan gathering is seldom seen at a sporting event. From all parts of the world they come—London, Calcutta and Swayzee. High and low mingle in a motley throng that is unrivalled anywhere in the world for color and brilliancy. Motor cars by the thousands are parked in the speedway enclosure. It is the largest annual display of automobiles on the face of the globe.

The field is altogether the most formidable ever brought together for a gasoline contest, five nations being represented among the cars, and four among the drivers. Prior to the elimination trials Wednesday there were six, the defection of Italy's hope, the Isotta, being responsible for the reduction.

Chances in the race are thought to be evenly divided among Peugeot, Sunbeam, Delage, Maxwell and Mercer, with a slight shade, perhaps, in favor of the first named, because of their superior showing in practice. Maxwell's lap of 1:33:40, registered by Tetzlaff Tuesday, easily placed it among the leaders, odds dropping at a phenomenal rate against it.

Others with a good chance are Stutz, Marmon, Burman, Bugatti, Excelsior and Mercedes, with the Keeton, Mason and Duesenbergs as strong contenders. Dark horses are the King, Gray Fox, Ray, Beaver, Bullet and Braender.

An Everyday View of the Next Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, MAY 31, 1914.

Topic, "The Grateful Samaritan"—Luke 17:11-19. Golden text, "Were there none found that returned to give glory to God save this stranger?"—Luke 17:18.

The writers of this lesson saw a mile of lepers on an Easter Sunday, sitting in the dust along the roadside leading to Mount Olive. The sight of them and the sound of their voices can never be effaced from our memory.

It is quite probable that among the many blessings which we count in this favored land of ours, we have failed to thank God that there is so little leprosy within our borders. The United States public health service reported in 1911 having found 278 lepers; of these 145 were foreign born and 13 were of unknown nativity. By contrast we are told by the Mission to Lepers that a conservative estimate places the number of lepers in India at 250,000, and that Japan has at least 30,000 leprous families; that China; Korea and Siam are seriously affected with this terrible scourge. Dr. Jewell says: "The disease is incurable by any means at present known." But Jesus Christ cured leprosy. He cured it simply by his touch (Matt. 8:1-3; Mark 1:40-45; Luke 5:13-15). He cured simply by his word of power (Luke 17:11-19). And when Jesus sent out his disciples two by two he gave them power to heal lepers (Matt. 10:5-8).

The Mission to Lepers is now supporting or in some form helping 11,200 lepers and their children. This work was reported at the world's Sunday school convention at Zurich in July, 1913, when it was stated: "The readiness with which these stricken people respond to the 'Christ treatment,' as it has well been called, is evident from the fact that there are today in connection with the society's stations 3,940 Christian converts, all of them, it should be remembered, coming into our asylums without hope, and often degraded and ignorant heathen." There are about 3,000 scholars in leper Sunday schools connected with the mission. It is the custom in India to have examinations of the 500,000 Sunday school scholars once a year. We were told at the Zurich convention that one leper boy received the highest marks for his examination of any Sunday school scholar in India. And so lepers have noble souls even if they have terribly sick bodies, and it certainly appears that it is our privilege and our duty to do something for them—to pray for them and to send gifts of money for their relief and uplift.

One of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed all at once by the word of his power was thankful. The whole ten had called out to Jesus from the tombs and the rocks where they were in exile, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!" as he was passing through the land to Jerusalem. "Go and show yourselves unto the priests," he had replied. They knew well the import of his words—that when they should stand in the presence of the priests they would have no more leprsy. They believed the words of Jesus, and started on their way—nine of them to go to the Hebrew priests in Jerusalem, and one to the high priest in Samaria, for he was a Samaritan. "As they went, they were cleansed"—made well. The Samaritan, when he felt the thrill of health in his body, felt also the thrill of gratitude in his soul. He turned back, singing a loud song of praise, glorifying God, and when he reached again the place where Jesus was, he fell at his feet and gave him thanks. The nine Hebrew lepers and the one Samaritan leper came at length to their respective priests, and received from them the seal that their leprosy was healed.

Obedience and gratitude, twin stars, may shine in every human breast. Only one—obedience—beamed in the nine others, but both shone in the heart of the Samaritan leper.

We are not all lepers, but we are all sinners and in need of cleansing. The great question is, "How shall we be cleansed?" The answer echoes back to our waiting hearts. "As they went, they were cleansed." Many things about the way of obedience are hard to be understood when studied before we reach them, but as we go we shall learn that faithful living is the shortest and surest way to full believing. We can easily imagine the ten lepers saying to Jesus when he had bidden them "go to the priests:" "The priests have just sent us forth with orders never to come into their presence again unless perchance we should recover, but we dare not return until you heal us." But they said nothing—they simply obeyed, and "as they went, they were cleansed."

Let us take courage, and whatever doubts, dangers or anxieties seem to pursue or await us in the path of duty, let us be assured that we have only to obey God's commands, and the way shall constantly be made clear before us. George Macdonald has said: "If we obey God, we shall come to love him and trust him; and there is no other way to get faith in God and love for God than by obeying him." Let us obey our heavenly Father as good children obey their earthly father. A railroad man in Prussia was holding on to a switch with both hands, as was necessary in order to keep the switch in proper position for an approaching express train, when he saw his five-year-old boy walking up the track toward the locomotive. The switchman knew that if he should let the switch go it would mean destruction to the train, so he shouted to his boy, "Lie down!" The lad obeyed at once; the train passed over him and he was not hurt in the least. That is the kind of obedience we must yield to our Father in heaven if we would be safe. Job, in the midst of fiery trials, exclaimed: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust him" (Job 13:15).

"Trust and obey, for there is no other way."

Then go heart-forward, bearing the banner of obedience.

But the star of gratitude did not shine in the hearts of the nine lepers, and so they missed half of the sweetness of being healed. How joyful was the way of the man who returned to thank Jesus for the healing he had received! There was no detention for the turning back, for his step was afterward more buoyant and quick, strengthened by love and happiness.

Listen to the story, told by Ian Maclaren, of a little blind girl in whose heart the star of gratitude was brightly shining:

"'If I dinna see'—and she spoke as if this were a matter of doubt and she were making a concession for argument's sake—'there's nae body in the Glen can hear like me. There's no a footstep of a Drumtochty man comes to the door but I ken his name, and there's no voice oot on the road that I canna tell. The birds sing sweeter to me than to ony body else, and I can hear them cheeping to one another in the bushes before they go to sleep. And the flowers smell sweeter to me—the roses and the carnations and the bonny mossa-rose—and I judge that the oat-cake and milk taste the richer because I dinna see them. Na, na, ye're no to think that I've been ill-treated by my God, for if he didna give me ae thing, he gave me mony (many).

"'And, mind ye, it's no as if I'd seen once and lost my sight; that micht ha' been a trial, and my faith micht ha' failed. I've lost naething; my life has been all getting.'"

An incident in the life of Florence Nightingale, the world-famed English army nurse, discloses a gleam from the star of gratitude shining upon a human friend. A Highland soldier was about to undergo an operation. Miss Nightingale asked that the operation might be delayed, as she thought careful nursing might render it unnecessary. Through her unremitting care the man's arm was saved; and when asked what he felt toward his preserver, he said that "the only mode he had of giving vent to his feelings was to kiss her shadow when it fell on his pillow as she passed through the wards on her nightly rounds."

Should we not love to honor the very name of Jesus as we remember that he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness? (I. John 1:9.) He cleansed lepers, he cleansed sinners and is still cleansing them. Have you cried out, "Master, have mercy on us," as did the lepers? Will you be as obedient as they were? Will you be as grateful as the Samaritan leper?

We are told that a missionary in India had rendered some kindly attentions to a sick and dying Hindu woman. Seeking in some way to express her gratitude, the poor woman said: "I am soon to die, and I hope that I may be so favored that I shall be born again as a dog, that I may come back and follow you." Poor soul, how dimmed was the star of gratitude shining in her! How she needed the heavenly atmosphere of the Lord Jesus Christ! The poet Lillo writes:

"When gratitude o'erflows the swelling heart,
And breathes in free and uncorrupted praise
For benefits received, propitious heaven
Takes such acknowledgment as fragrant incense

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers should apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Marie" writes: "I would like a remedy for a pimply, oily skin. I suffer from constipation, headache and indigestion."

Answer: Get from your druggist 3-grain sulpherb tablets and take according to directions. These tablets are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions for using. I have found them to be the most reliable in such ailments as arise from constipation. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines, and if taken regularly will relieve your constipation and purify the blood, thus causing your skin to become clear. These are fine for children, as they do not sicken.

"Mary"—You can easily correct your little girl of bed wetting by mixing 1 oz. of comp. fluid balmwort, 2 dra[illegible] tincture rhus-aromatic and 1 dram [illegible] cubebs. Mix thoroughly and giv[illegible] in water about one hour before each me[illegible] 10 to 15 drops.

"C. G. O." writes: "I am constantly hawking and spitting on account of a bad case of catarrh and would like your advice to overcome it."

Answer: I always prescribe antiseptic vilane powder, which you can obtain in either a 2 or 8-ounce box with full directions. The results please all who try it.

"Sadie" says: " misplaced the prescription you sent me for dandruff and itching scalp. Will you please send it again?"

Answer: There is nothing better for dandruff and itching scalp than plain yellow mirayol, which is sold in 4 oz. jars at any well-stocked drug store. Use this according to directions and you will soon be relieved of all diseases of the hair and scalp.

"Nina B." writes: "Please advise me what to take to overcome extreme thinness. My arms and bust have no development and my face is so thin that it is positively homely, although my features are regular."

Answer: Many ladies would be much more beautiful if they were somewhat fleshier, and as an increased weight is possible it is the duty of every woman to be always at her best. Begin taking 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets, which are obtained in sealed cartons with directions, and continue until your weight is satisfactory. Frequently a two-months' treatment adds 15 to 30 pounds, besides adding more color to the cheeks and lips and a sparkle to the eyes.

"Mrs. O." writes: "Kindly publish again the prescription for rheumatism which you gave to 'Ted' some time ago."

Answer: I shall be very glad to repeat the formula. Get at the drug store the following ingredients and mix yourself, taking a teaspoonful at meal times and at bedtime. Iodide of potassium, two drams, sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; comp essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 5 ozs. This is my favorite prescription for rheumatism.

"Charlotte" writes: "Some time ago you answered through your columns telling "Marie" how to cure bad cough and cold. Will you kindly repeat the formula?"

Answer: I shall be very glad to repeat the formula for you. Get from your druggist a 2½-oz. package of essence mentholuxene and mix with honey or homemade sugar syrup and take according to directions given on the bottle. This is a very mild laxative and will surely overcome your cold in a few days at most. It is absolutely harmless and very pleasant to take.

"P. B." writes: "What can you prescribe to relieve dyspepsia, which annoys me very much? I have pains and heavy lumplike feeling after eating, sourrisings, nausea, etc."

Answer: A three-course treatment, tripepsine tablets, is very effective in relieving and permanently overcoming such distress due to indigestion.

"Jo[illegible]" writes: "Being past middle age and observing that my nervous system is [illegible]d shape, I write for a pres[illegible] do not gain strength from my [illegible] am weak, listless, forgetful, slee[illegible] at times, tired and unable to act the part of a strong man of health, such as I was at one time."

Answer: Get from a well-stocked pharmacy a sealed tube of 3-grain cadomene tablets, which are especially made for those needing a strong, harmless, rejuvenating tonic. Astonishing and pleasing results follow and life and hope are renewed.

"Mrs. De V." asks: "I should like to ask you how one can reduce the weight. I am too large, and last summer I suffered on account of excessive fat. Can you advise a remedy, harmless and safe?"

Answer: I have frequently prescribed a liquid remedy, but, owing to its disagreeable taste, I am now prescribing the same formula in a tablet form. It is called 5-grain arbolone tablets and is sold by druggists in sealed tubes with full directions for home use. I advise anyone who is too fleshy to try this excellent tablet.

Mr. C. P. writes: "What shall I do to relieve a severe case of kidney and bladder disease? Urine is dark, foul of odor, and passage is irregular, painful, etc. Have depression, fever, chills, pains like rheumatism, and soreness in region of bladder."

Answer: For such symptoms as you describe, I prescribe my favorite formula under the name of balmwort tablets. This is a splendidly efficacious remedy for such abnormal conditions. Begin their use at once as per directions on each sealed tube.

PENNSY VETERAN IS TO RETIRE

Purchasing Agent H. L. Hukill Pensioned After 54 Years' Service.

TEAM TRACKS AT UNION STREET

Pennsylvania Makes Improvement for the Contractors and Jobbers.

Notice of a change that will take place June 1 in the higher ranks of the Pennsylvania have been received at the local offices of the company. On that date H. L. Hukill, who reached the age of seventy May 25, will be retired from the office of general purchasing agent of the Pennsylvania. W. G. Phelps, assistant to Mr. Hukill, will succeed him as general purchasing agent and Charles E. Walsh will become assistant to Mr. Phelps. Mr. Walsh has been chief clerk of the purchasing department for a number of years and in that capacity made frequent visits to Fort Wayne. Mr. Hukill began work for the Pennsylvania when he was sixteen years old—fifty-four years ago—and has remained in the service since. May 25 a testimonial banquet was given at one of the club rooms in Pittsburg in his honor and the big attendance attested to the popularity of the man in railway circles as well as with the manufacturers and others who furnish lumber, steel and other supplies to the company.

NORTHLAND LIMITED.

Famous Resort Train Goes Into Service June 5.

Notices that the semi-weekly service of the Northland limited, over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, will begin one week from today, June 5, and run throughout the month on the following schedule have been received here: Northward on Fridays, June 5, 12, 19 and 26 and on Tuesdays, June 9, 16 and 23; and southward on Sundays, June 7, 14, 21 and 28 and Thursdays, June 11, 18 and 25. This train will probably become daily early in July and continue on that schedule the balance of the summer season. It caters to through business from the south, southeast and southwest to Petoskey, Mackinac and other points in northern Michigan.

DECORATION TRAVEL HEAVY.

Pennsylvania Runs Some Trains in Two Sections.

There was a heavy passenger business on all trains through Fort Wayne today, due chiefly to Decoration day travel, though much travel was towards Indianapolis over the north and south lines, on account of the automobile races tomorrow. The Pennsylvania train No. 23, the westbound Manhattan limited, ran in two sections because of the heavy through travel. Among the additional cars in the trains were four extra Pullman cars carrying passengers from Washington and one Pullman loaded with passenges from New York.

PUTTING IN NEW TEAM TRACK.

The Pennsylvania company's maintenance of way department is engaged in putting in two team tracks on its property at Union street. These tracks will have a capacity of eighteen cars and are designed for jobbers, contractors and others in handling brick, stone, street and building material. The work also involves the construction of 150 feet of retaining wall extending from College street to the first alley west of that street. The switch for the team tracks will be located at College street and the descent will be gradual until it reaches the street level near Union street. H. W. Tapp has the contract of putting in the retaining wall and now has a gang of men and teams at work making the excavation. The wooden retaining wall at the old depot and freight house was completed this morning.

WILL BE BURIED AT DEFIANCE.

The remains of Bridge Foreman E. B. Dills, who lost his life Wednesday afternoon at Delphi, were taken to Defiance last night. The funeral will be held from the family home in that city tomorrow at 2 o'clock and will be attended largely by men in the maintenance of way department of the Wabash at Fort Wayne, Peru and elsewhere where the deceased was so well known. Jacob Wendell, another victim of that accident, will be buried in the cemetery near his old home in Huntington county.

TWO MEN INJURED.

Earl Havens, of the Electric works, sustained a most painful cut across the right forearm yesterday when a piece of moulding fixture fell from the ceiling and struck him. The wound bled profusely and Dr. Schultz had to take several stitches in closing it. Another accident at the Electric works happened this morning. Some substance was thrown in the eye of A. J. Seiverts, head janitor at the office, cutting the optic painfully. He will be unable to work for a few days.

FATHER DIES IN CHICAGO.

Pennsylvania Fireman George A. Case received a telegram from Chicago this morning stating that his father, A. J. Case, died in a hospital, following a surgical operation, last night. The deceased resided at Valparaiso and the remains will be taken there for burial. Fireman and Mrs. George Case will go to Chicago tonight to take charge of the remains and take them to Valparaiso.

SPECIAL FOR ELECTRICIANS.

Eastbound Manhattan limited train No. 22, on the Pennsylvania, will run in two sections Sunday. The second section will carry delegates from the west and country to the National Electric Light Association to Philadelphia, where the annual convention of the association will be held next week. There will be 250 people aboard the train, which will stop only to exchange engines between Chicago and Philadelphia.

QUITS SHOPS FOR BUSINESS.

H. F. Wellman resigned his position at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shops this morning. He will engage in business with his father and cousin, Undertakers Wellman & Wellman. H. F. Wellman was employed in the Pennsylvania shops five years.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. E. Mills, G. R. & I. engineer, is sick and off duty.

The Bartenders' union will hereafter meet at 619 North Calhoun street, in quarters formerly occupied by the Strollers' club.

A. B. Criswell, an inspector for the Baltimore and Ohio company, inspected 100 car wheels for that company at the Bass Foundry and Machine works today.

Brakeman J. D. Collins, of the Pennsylvania, received a gash in the head last night when he bumped against the iron lid of the tool box as he was crawling into the cab over the tender. Dr. Bud Van Swearingen dressed the wound, which was not severe.

An unidentified man, with one leg cut off at the hips and other mutilation of the body, was discovered by a Wabash section gang three miles west of Wabash yesterday. The man had been dead only a short time and his clothing indicated that he had been in the navy. He had been riding the "bumpers" and fell from the train.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

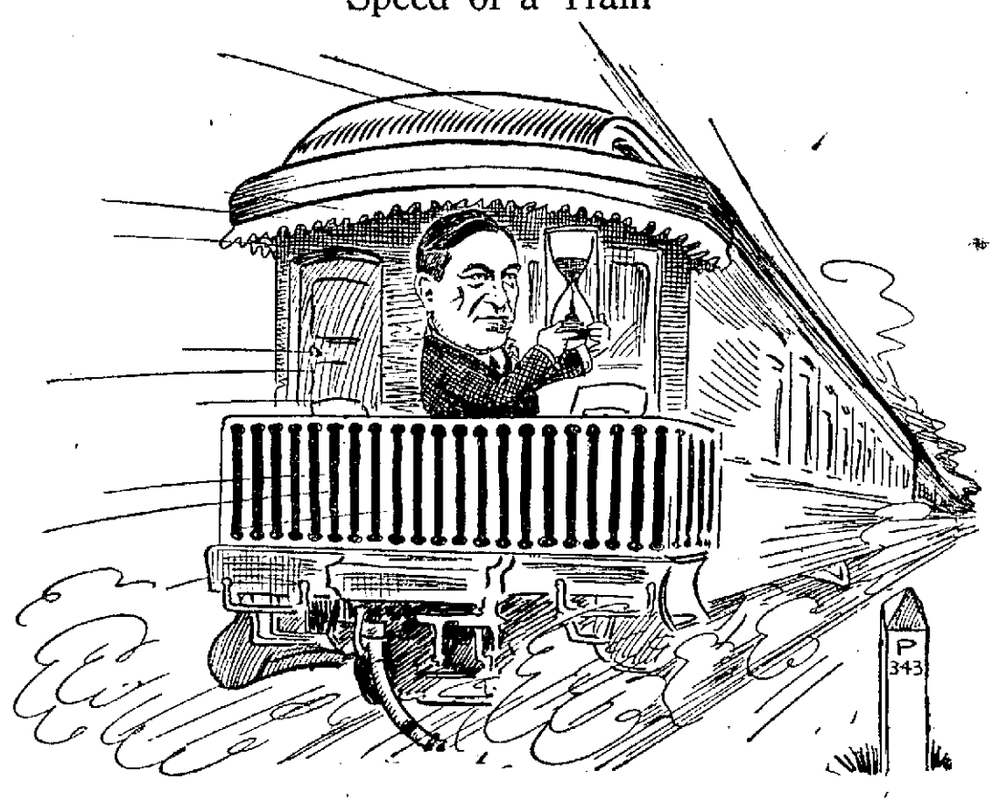
Supt. J. F. Patterson and His Alleged Method of Recording Speed of a Train



Supt. Jesse F. Patterson of the Peoria division of the Vandalia system was the surprised recipient of a magnificent solid gold case. Howard movement, watch at noon today. The present came from the conductors and brakemen of the Western division of the Pennsylvania, of which Mr. Patterson was the trainmaster for so many years, and the scene of the presentation was the assembly room of the new passenger station, where upwards of sixty of the train men and other friends of Mr. Patterson had assembled. Mr. Patterson came up from Decatur last night to look after some affairs connected with the removal of his family to that city and was to leave at 12:50 o'clock over the Wabash for Decatur. In the meantime he had arranged to entertain Mr. Wardrop and Division Engineer Guy Scott at lunch at the Pennsylvania restaurant and just before entering the dining room, he was invited up to the assembly room, which he had not yet seen, where the presentation was immediately made, Supt. W. M. Wardrop being the orator. Mr. Wardrop said in part:

"Mr. Patterson, this meeting is assembled to clean up a grievance which dates from the fifth day of last August. Mr. Hamilton, out of deference to your personal connection with the affair, has very properly refused to take any part in it. The men claim that you were aboard passenger extra 7376, which was a continuation of train 84 from Columbia City to Fort Wayne, in charge of C. W. Larimore and A. J. Zurbuch, and that upon your arrival at Fort Wayne these men were subjected to reprimand for having exceeded the published speed restrictions at various points within the territory mentioned.

"Other cases have been cited by way of illustration in support of the contention on the part of our passenger trainmen and passenger enginemen that they have been called to the office, reprimanded, in some cases, suspended in others, but unpardonably abused in every instance.

"There has been absolutly no allegation that the punishment was harsh or unnecessarily severe in proportion to the offense. The appeal in every case having been based upon the plea of decidedly 'not guilty.'

"The case of Mr. Larimore and Mr. Zurbuch has been selected merely as an illustration of all of the others. These gentlemen claim that the speed limit was not exceeded in any respect; that no evidence was submitted which would indicate that their train passed over any point at an uncomfortable rate of speed, or at a rate which was in excess of the imposed restriction, and they state further, under oath, that it is positively known to them that at the time the observations were taken you were in possession of no adequate means or instrument for measuring either the passage of distance or the lapse of time.

"In support of this contention these gentlemen have submitted an accurate representation of the method employed in obtaining the data of which they complain. This paper has been marked 'Exhibit A' and is to be made a part of the official proceedings of this meeting. Nothing could more clearly demonstrate the crudeness of the apparatus employed in reaching the conclusions upon which your disciplinary action is alleged to have been based.

"Therefore, the men here assembled, after grave consideration, have decided that ordinary interest in humanity demands of them their best efforts in the prevention of the abuses which have been enumerated, and with this thought in mind, they have seen fit to procure and provide for your future use an instrument which is guaranteed by both the maker and the jobber to be capable of accurately measuring the lapse of time in a given distance, and I am authorized to say that if this device is wound at least once in each twenty-four hour period, it is guaranteed to tick approximately as often as a good wish goes from the Western division to the superintendent of the Peoria division."

When the speaker referred to the antiquated time piece carried by Mr. Patterson, he drew from a draw a cartoon drawn on a large cardboard of which the above is a miniature reproduction, and placed it upon the table in such manner that it could be seen by most of those in the room. At the close of his remarks Mr. Wardrop handed the handsome case enclosing the watch to Mr. Patterson.

The presentation was a complete surprise and the recipient was greatly affected, but he managed to appropriately express his appreciation of the sentiment which prompted the gift and of the token itself. In explanation of his attachment to the Ingersoll watch he carried, Mr. Patterson said: "It is the associations that make it valuable to me. It once belonged to a warm friend. He put it up at raffle in 1893. I bought a ticket for forty-nine cents and that was the winner."

The new watch bears on its back a most elegantly engraved monogram. J. F. P., and on the inner side of the case the legend, "Presented to J. F. Patterson by Friends on the Western Division of the Pennsylvania May 28, 1914." After the presentation, the "boys" crowded around Mr. Patterson to shake hands and to personally wish him well in his new office and home.

MONSTER CROWD FOR FIELD DAY

NOT MUCH CONFUSION

Two thousand children who are pupils of the public schools, assembled on the field at one time and each class executing simultaneous drills is only one of the many interesting features of the public school field day in session at Centlivre park.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at the park is witnessing the work and play of the children and with a regularity that is pleasing the program of events is being carried out in a highly successful manner under the direction of Professor Henry Meyer, physical director of the public schools and his assistant, Miss Carrie Snively.

Absence of Confusion.

The track event officials are handling the children in excellent manner and there is said to be a marked absence of confusion and the usual excitement on the part of the smaller pupils taking part in the field events. The closing number on the day's program, a mass drill, will place 2,000 pupils on the field simultaneously. Mr. Russell is presiding as clerk of the field events and Mr. Coats is judge of the take-off while the judges for the finishes are Dr. Leach and Mr. Croninger. Mr. Agnew and Mr. Strobel are the scorers.

Scorers in the track events are Mr. Rathert and Mr. Simminger and the judges are Messrs. Leuenberger, Stirwalt and Carter. Dr. Gillie and Dr. Schulz are the timers and Mr. Thomas is attending to all starts. Mr. Werremeyer is clerk of the course. The music is furnished by the Elks' band.

How They Are Handled.

Owing to the tremendous traffic to Centlivre park and in order to get all of the children on the grounds for the opening number, it was necessary for the traction company to begin carting the little ones to the park at 11 o'clock Friday morning. At 1:15 o'clock this afternoon sixty cars were operated to the park, and there was scarcely a seat left unoccupied on any of them.

Had Been Well Drilled.

The children had been well drilled in rehearsals and when those who are participating in the different events reached the grounds, they were handled by grades with teachers in charge of each of the classes.

Field day for the public schools was inaugurated in 1909 when it was determined that the parents of children in the public schools needed some such demonstration of the physical training their children are put through during the daily routine of school work. It was with this in mind that Professor Meyer conducted the first field day and each year the attendance at these annual exhibitions has steadily increased.

'PHONE SECRETS WRECK TO BLISS

WIFE NOW SUES HIM

Chicago, May 29.—Secrets of other men's wives, their petty deceits and "white lies" have wrecked the marital happiness of Mr. and Mrs. E. Palmer Hubbard.

Sound-proof telephone booths would have prevented their troubles, but that variety was not known in the drugstore operated by Hubbard at East Thirty-first street and South Michigan avenue.

Women of the neighborhood used the telephones. Some of them were married. Hubbard could not help overhearing. And the result was that "he learned about women from them" and went home and beat his wife.

Mrs. Hubbard is the authority for all this in a bill for divorce filed yesterday. She charges that Hubbard "pinched, choked, kicked and otherwise abused her." She contends that her husband is a woman hater and that the actions of other men's wives are responsible for his attitude of mind.

"The things he overheard from those telephone booths made him cynical. He wouldn't trust any woman now. He's a woman hater," explained Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Hubbard is a milliner, with a shop at 347 East Thirty-first street, four blocks from her husband's store. Before she married Hubbard she belonged to an opera company. They had known each other from childhood and in 1907 they went to Crown Point and were wedded.

As for Mrs. Hubbard, she wouldn't marry the best man on earth now, not unless "he was 100 years old, feeble and as rich as Rockefeller."

So there's one thing the Hubbards agree on. They are not fond of the opposite sex. For several months they have resided, in rooms that do not connect, at 3117 South Park avenue.

REAL ESTATE WAS ACTIVE FOR WEEK

THE BANK CLEARINGS

All banks and trust companies and business houses of the city will be closed Saturday in observance of Decoration day and in view of the fact, Friday marks closing of this week's business activity. Several of the stores will remain open this evening for the accommodation of patrons who usually do their weekly shopping at the end of the week.

Real estate in Fort Wayne took a decided boom early this week, especially in residence property and two of the big transactions follow closely on the heels of the platting of the old Bond homestead in South Wayne. William Noll, of the Pinex company, paid $25,000 for three lots on Fairfield avenue, and Herman Freiburger bought the G. E. Bursley homestead in the same locality for the sum of $16,000. Another deal of the week was reported when the Meyer Bros. Drug company paid $13,000 for three lots on the southwest corner of Broadway and Taylor streets.

Contractors say business is ideal for the season of the year and weather conditions could not be better for the activity in building. In almost every portion of the city this is manifested by the number of new structures under course of construction. Merchants also take an optimistic view of business conditions since the arrival of warm weather increased the demand for all sorts of goods.

The Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings in Fort Wayne this week amounted to a total of $1,115,734.16, against $1,252,425.16 for the previous week and $1,032,128.38 for the corresponding week a year ago. Balances amounted to $136,985.09 and daily clearances were as follows:

Monday	$256,432.10
Tuesday	202,264.21
Wednesday	206,740.67
Thursday	234,882.32

NEWS OF THE POLICE

In the city court Judge Kerr has inaugurated a new and more drastic policy of dealing with persons caught in disorderly houses. For keeping a house of ill-fame Cora Manuel was fined $30 and costs and given thirty days in jail. Laura Gilmore and Alice Fields, for prostitution, and John Robinson and Charles Frazier, for associating, were given $15 and fifteen days in jail each. All five are colored and they were taken in a raid made at 2 o'clock Friday morning on the house at 124 Eureka street, the old red light district. A squad led by Sergeant Nave and made up of Officers Coulter, Harris, Byerle, Ellyson and Keintz pulled the place. Each colored man was in a room with a colored woman under circumstances that left no doubt of the character of the resort. The two men and Alice Fields pleaded guilty. Mrs. Manuel said she rented the rooms to the men by the week and that one of them had represented himself and the woman to be married. There was no register kept. The same place was raided a short time ago and the Manuel woman's husband is still in jail, laying out a heavy fine and costs.

Thief Gets Jailed This Time.

Charles McManus who, a few days ago, was given an indefinite continuance after pleading guilty to petit larceny, got $10 and costs and thirty days added upon pleading guilty to a similar charge. On the former occasion he stole some brooms from the McKiernan grocery, on Grand street, and sold them to saloonkeepers in the neighborhood. Thursday afternoon he stole a bicycle belonging to Charles Hoffman, taking the wheel from in front of the Hoffman house, on Calhoun street, and rode it to the east end, where he sold it for $3 to a workingman. Officer Murphy saw the transaction, and suspecting that the wheel had been stolen, sent McManus in. He has a wife who earns the family living.

Transferred Fight to the Street.

Joe Riley and John Callahan, with five or six other fellows, foregathered in a saloon near the transfer corner Friday morning and finally the crowd got up a bet for the drinks as to who weighed the most. This started things and Riley and Callahan transferred their mill to the street. They were arrested by Traffic Officer Lauer and slated for drunkenness. Riley went over for eleven days and Callahan's case was continued until Saturday.

Family Affairs Aired in Court.

Ed Schneider, his wife and two of his daughters were in court and aired the family affairs when he was tried on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Schneider. There was no doubt of disorder in the Schneider home at 1016 Thomas street, and no question that Schneider had created much of it. The question of blame was not so easy of determination. There is a case of son-in-law in the affair. It was shown that Schneider works hard all the time and gives practically all of his wages to his wife. Judge Kerr continued the case until June 6 and released Schneider on his own recognizance in the hope that peace may be restored at the fireside.

Larceny Case Postponed.

The hearing of Mrs. Florence Reinhart on a charge of larceny was continued to June 4, the defease not being ready for trial. Mrs. Reinhart is accused of stealing a ring valued at $7 from Mrs. Emily May, 821 Clinton street, with whom Mrs. Reinhart and her husband boarded for a time. Mrs. Reinhart was arrested Thursday evening by Detective Sergeant Peter Junk, who recovered the ring. Mrs. Reinhart says she merely borrowed the ring and wholly denies stealing other articles she is accused of taking from the home of Mrs. May.

Other City Court Cases.

John Garrison, who got loose Monday on a larceny charge to give him a chance to make good and was arrested Wednesday when found dead drunk on the poarch of a West Creighton avenue residence, was given $5 and costs, which will keep him in jail for fifteen days, unless friends help him.

Frank Stanley, Tom Brennan, William Haggerty and John Clem, drunks, got $1 and costs each. Clem paid and the others went over for eleven days. Oliver McCoy, Walter Evans and Edward Stirling, drunks, were turned loose. William Brown, with much of his left, was held under $25 bond until Saturday.

Harry Fernwell, a city laborer, who had been held for several days on a drunk charge, to give him a chance to ward off an attack of tremens, was in better shape and was released.

CONDITION IS IMPROVED.

Roger Bill, Struck by a Train at Walton Avenue Crossing, Doing Nicely.

Roger Bill, the 2½-year-old son of Ernest Bill, of 1707 Walton avenue, who was struck by a C., H. & D. engine at Walton avenue crossing Thursday night at 6 o'clock, is doing nicely and there is no doubt in the mind of the attending physician that the boy will recover. The little fellow is suffering from several bad bruises on the head and a deep cut of the leg.

The little Bill boy had strayed away from the front yard where he had been playing and went toward the railroad trackk. Freight train No. 684 was moving eastward at a rate of about ten miles an hour, according to the story of the crew in charge, and the little boy walked out from behind some bushes and J. M. Looker, of Findlay, O., the fireman, ran out on the footboard and raced ahead of the engine in an effort to save the child.

The engineer immediately applied the airbrakes and put on the reverse, which in all probability saved the child's life. The crew picked up the unfortunate little fellow and took him to his home, where Dr. Schneider was called. Later, Dr. McHugh, the family physician, arrived and took charge.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, May 29—Although rumors that shorts might suffer a squeeze today in the wheat pit aroused considerable interest in developments said to point the other way. Prices opened the same as last night to ⅝c higher in sympathy with firm cables. These was a slight further advance and then all of the gain was gradually wiped out.

Further rains in Argentina gave the corn market a lift. The opening was unchanged to ⅜c higher, was followed by an additional bulge except in May, for which seemed to be but little demand.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 29.—In the main stocks were inclined to sag during today's early operations which were to a more than ordinarily restricted character. The only active issue to show underlying strength was Missouri Pacific, with a gain of a point for the stock and as much for the convertible bonds, implying a satisfactory outcome of the note extension plan. Canadian Pacific, selling ex-dividend lost a little more than a point despite the reported disaster to one of its steamships. United States Steel, C. & O., B. & O. and Metal shares declined material fractions.
Although there was no pressure to sell, stocks moved toward a lower level as the session advanced. To the average speculator the federal government's attitude in the matter of anti-trust legislation and railroad investigation was regarded as somewhat disconcerting.
More gold for Europe was under negotiation. Bonds were easy.

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

(Furnished by J. S. Phillips, North American Building, Fort Wayne, Ind.)

Chicago, May 29.—Wheat is held up mainly by firmness of European markets. Russia and America are the only sources of supply and the average early June break of 2c to 3½c should be enough. Crop news suggests the winter crop has lost 9 per cent. during May. At 18½ par yield the promise would be 570,000,000 bushels, but the government will use a 19½ par. Last June the winter promise was 492,000,000 and the total promise was 744,000,000. Past June history favors the idea that corn and oats will not develop any break of consequence in the coming June. Kansas wheat guesses are still the marvel of the 1914 crop year. They run up to 200,000,000. Argentine continues a feeble corn shipper, and will be small corn exporter for several weeks. Corn is mainly a domestic proposition and country reserves are low. June oats condition does not promise above 84 or 85 and half of the oats belt still requires rains. Prices of stocks at 2:45 p. m. as follows:
Atchison, 97⅛; Smelter, 63⅝; Copper, 72½; Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 93¼; B. & O., 91⅞; Canadian Pacific, 195¼; Erie, 29; Great Northern, 124⅝; Missouri Pacific, 18½; New York Central, 92½; Northern Pacific, 110⅞; Pennsylvania, 111⅞; Reading, 165⅝; St. Paul, 100¼; Southern Pacific, 94⅞; Union Pacific, 158; United States Steel, 62⅞.
The market closed steady today. Such insignificant changes as occurred in the market were recorded in the final dealings when, without any greater activity, prices of leading issues rose to their best. The recovery, it may be assumed, resulted more from covering of short contracts than from any definite influence.

COUNTY BUILDING CLOSED SATURDAY

Officials Will Pay Due Respect to Day Sacred to Nation's Dead.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

The Allen county court house will be closed Decoration day in honor of the time sacred to the memory of the nation's heroic dead. All the offices will be closed all day and the officials, their deputies and clerks and all attaches of the building will take a holiday. Sheriff Gladieux may have some one about his office a short time in the morning to meet any emergencies that may arise.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

George Shondell Given Possession of His Children.

In the circuit court after hearing habeas corpus proceedings brought by George Shondell against Hattie Shondell his divorsed wife, for possession of his three children, Judge Eggeman ordered the little ones turned over to him. They will be provided with proper homes.

The divorce suit of Nichols vs. Nichols has been dismissed from the superior court.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court by Anna E. Lahrman against Charles Lahrman, the plaintiff says her husband refused to engage in labor about the farm and relied upon his children to get things done while he came to the city and idled his time. He also is charged with using vile and profane language in the presence of his wife and children and uttered threats against their lives, carrying a revolver with which he meant to wipe out the whole family when he got a chance. She further charges that once he tried to slash her with a knife and that he beat her and the children.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Helen R. Widner sues Elda J. McKown on a complaint which charges that the defendant sold to the plaintiff a lot of furniture for a rooming house at 242 Baker street, representing that the house was doing a business of $18 a week or $80 a month. Th sale was executed April 9, 1914, $450 being paid, part down. A few days later the plaintiff says she discovered the house was not at the time of sale nor for a long time prior doing more than $6 of business a week. She demands $150.

Judge Yaple in the superior court has granted a divorce to Mary Meyers from William Meyers.

HORSE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The Hoagland Mutual Horse Insurance company is the name of a new corporation that has just filed articles of incorporation with County Recorder Hursh. SAYS RAIN IS DUE HERE.

Weather Authorities are Confident of a Downpour Soon.

If rain doesn't visit Fort Wayne before Decoration day morning, weather authorities declare all advance signs of precipitation must go wrogn somewhere. Rain seems to have visited most of the United States except Indiana, according to reports received at the local observatory at 7 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Palmer's predictions call for rain tonight and cooler weather Saturday.

The Canadian minister of marine has announced in Ottawa that his department is making active preparations to improve the aids to navigation on the Hudson bay route this season. Twelve new lighthouses will be established from the South straits to Fort Nelson.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Partly cloudy and cooler tonight, with probably thundershowers; Saturday fair and cooler.
For Indiana: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with probably thundershowers; cooler.
For Ohio: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with probably thundershowers; somewhat lower temperature Saturday.
For Lower Michigan: Thundershowers this afternoon and in east portion tonight; cooler tonight; Saturday fair and cooler.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

While the temperatures reached yesterday over the north Atlantic coast states were not quite as high as they were the day before, throughout the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic coast districts, the temperature continued to be excessive. Cincinnati and Knoxville reported 94 degrees, while Raleigh, N. C., reported 98 degrees. Much cooler weather has already overspread the Rocky mountain and plains states, frost being reported from Boise, Idaho, and Spokane, Wash., while heavy to killing frosts and freezing temperatures are reported from northern Wyoming.
Scattered thundershowers have occurred over the plains states from the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin southward to Texas. Huron, S. D., reports a twenty-four hour rainfall of 1.20 inches and Duluth 2.42 inches.
Cooler weather will overspread this section tonight, with probably thundershowers, followed Saturday by fair and cooler weather. W. S. PALMER,
Local Forecaster.

Cool Dresses for Summertime

New--Dainty--Little Priced

A writer in a fashion article this week makes the statement that a woman cannot have too many simple and pretty Summer Gowns. There is surely no reason why she should not have enough when such beauties as we are showing in Crepes, Organdies, Lawns, Voiles and Linens can be bought at such reasonable prices. You can find Gowns, simple or elaborate, in a wide range of prices starting as low as $1.50 and up to $25.00.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

with a Warner Corset to lend it shapeliness and style so long as a shred holds together, than a smart new frock done the injustice of a limp and shapeless corset

Few well-dressed women now need the reminder that Warner Corsets are the shapeliest and most fashionable, as well as the most economical in wear.

Sometimes it gives one a pleasant start, though, to be reminded how much Warner grace, comfort and wear can be secured for the same prices as the ordinary nameless corset.

Dont cheat your figure or your purse. Every well-equipped Corset Department carries a full line of Warner models, costing only $1.00 to $8.00.
